Expect Record Voting

Estimate 73 Million To Turn Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — A record outpouring of nearly 73 million voters is expected in Tuesday's presidential election, but the turnout may drop below 1964 levels in a dozen usually Democratic states.

The previous record was set in 1964, when just under 71 million Americans cast ballots in the election which saw President Johnson rout his Republican opponent, Barry Goldwater.

As it did four years ago, California is expected to cast the heaviest vote, an estimated 7,040,000, while New York is expected to rank a close second with 7 million. Both totals would be lower than four years ago.

According to an Associated Press survey of official registration records and estimates by elections officials, a total of 90,141,438 of the 121.5 million Americans of voting age are registered to vote. The actual turnout is estimated at 72,987,527, or 81 per cent.

Some states do not require registration, so estimated vote totals were used. Other totals do not include some latecomers.

Besides California and New York, lower turnouts than 1964 are expected in Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Washington, New Mexico, Michigan, Kentucky, Oregon, Wyoming and the District of Columbia.

All other states expect larger turnouts, with the largest increases turning up in Florida, 300,000; Ohio and Virginia, 200,000; and Mississippi, New Jersey and Maryland, 150,000. Many southern states have sharply increased registrations due to the influx of Negro voters since passage of the voting rights act of 1965.

And in Utah, a 100,000-vote gain, some 25 per cent, is expected because of a hot statewide fight over legalizing liquor by the drink.

The survey showed also that, largely due to relaxed requirements and the large number of servicemen in Vietnam, requests for absentee ballots are at record levels in many places. Both parties have been wooing the estimated 2 million eligible military voters.

Because many states do not keep accurate totals, it is impossible to estimate the over-all absentee vote. And in most states absentee ballots are counted along with regular votes.

Two Sedalians Killed In Separate Accidents

Two Sedalians were killed Saturday in separate accidents occurring near Warrensburg in Johnson County.

A car-truck crash at 12:07 p.m. Saturday one mile west of Warrensburg on U.S. Highway 50 took the life of Michael A. Brown, 20, 1500 South Beacon, and critically injured Mrs. Betty Thompson, 802 Ruth Ann Drive. Mrs. Thompson was a passenger in the Brown car which was eastbound at the time of the accident. According to Highway Patrol reports, a 1960 Chevrolet pick-up truck, also eastbound, and driven by Thomas Repp, 40, Centerview, smashed into the rear of the Brown car. Repp was taken to Johnson County Memorial Hospital with a fractured jaw and facial lacerations.

A passenger in the Repp vehicle, Eddie Audsley, 7, also of Centerview, sustained facial cuts and bruises.

Brown was dead on arrival at Johnson County Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Thompson remains in what is described as "very critical" condition.

Mrs. Thompson was transfered to Kansas University Medical Center, Lawrence, Saturday night, where her condition remained unchanged.

Cpl. Pete Stohr, Missouri State Highway Patrol, investigated the accident.

A second fatal mishap, occurring at 9:35 a.m., 1 and seven-tenths of a mile north of Highway 50 on state route M, also in Johnson County, killed the driver of a northbound 1965 tractor-trailer unit, Russell E. Driskell, 41, 2709 South Woodlawn. Information from the Highway Patrol at Lee's Summit, said that this was a one vehicle accident, and that the truck had apparently run off the road and overturned. Driskell, according to the Highway Patrol, was dead at the scene.

Brown was born October 8, 1948, son of the late Samual C. and Naomi Brown of Sedalia.

He attended Sacred Heart grade school and high school, graduating in 1966. Throughout his schooling, he participated in all school activities, graduated with honors, and was president of his senior class.

Present Demands To Gov. Hearnes

COLUMBIA, Mo.(AP) —Gov. Warren E. Hearnes was presented a list of demands by the Students for a Democratic Society chapter at the University of Missouri concerning police action and demonstrations.

Arriving here for a testimonial dinner Friday night in his honor, Hearnes was confronted by Paul Showalter of the S.D.S. Showalter told Hearnes he should reply to the citizens of Missouri before Tuesday's election on what Showalter said were measures for the protection of the people.

Hearnes commented, "Do you represent the people?"

Showalter replied, "No, we think you should answer on the issues of the protection of the people so we can know where you stand."

And the governor came back with, "I'm sure you're all very interested; you've expressed an interest in my campaign before."

The S.D.S. chapter has been critical of the governor for his handling of the Black Liberators incident in St. Louis. It also has critifized him for not appearing at a campus Young Democrats meeting which S.D.S. had announced it would picket.

The list of demands presented to the governor called for a civilian review board for the police, a ban on the use of chemical spray by police, repeal of vagrancy laws, which the S.D.S. said harassed the poor, and a promise that troops would not be called into the streets unless community leaders requested them.

About 520 persons attended the Democratic dinner at which the governor told his listeners he believed the voters will return Democrats to office Tuesday "because the people know from experience that we give the best we have."

The Black Liberators incident referred to resulted from an exchange of blows between two St. Louis police officers and two leaders of the militant Negro organization. The two officers were suspended pending a police board inquiry. Hearnes ordered his own investigation of the matter.

The Weather

Sedalia's Air Future -- Conclusion

Ill Wind Blows Across Airport Here

By Peter F. Daniels
Democrat—Capital Staff Writer

According to authoritative aviation sources, the estimated hours and miles flown for business purposes in the U. S. has jumped from 14 per-cent in 1931 to 47 percent in 1965.

The same rate of growth has continued in the last three years. As of Jan. 1, 1967, there were 7,918 company-owned planes in the air, with another 15,856 planes used exclusively for business travel.

At least 27,678 planes have partial "business justification." Commerical airlines, ranging in size from Lufthansa and TWA to regional lines such as Ozark, are classified today as the best "travel bargain in the world."

Planes used for business vary from the standard single or twin-engine piston driven group to turboprops and jets. Here are some examples fo planes used in cities of Sedalia's size:

Dassault builds an eight to ten-passenger twin-jet that can cruise at about 530 miles an hour; Aero-Commander has a twin-engine plane capable of carrying four to eight people at about 285 miles an hour. Another business favorite is the Hawker Siddely DH—126 jet, which has an eight-passenger capacity and cruises at a comfortable 500 miles an hour.

Grumman's Gulfstream is a turboprop plane capable of 375 miles an hour with 14 passengers on board. Ozark Airlines has a new prop jet called the FH—227B built by Fairchild Hiller with an average cruising speed of 280 miles an hour with 48 people aboard.

Each of these planes is beautifully engineered and designed for passenger comfort and safety, while providing economy for the airline at the same time.

Ozark, for example, is dropping its piston-powered aircraft in favor of the turboprops. The FH—227B is a larger plane, for one thing. It measures 83 feet, eight inches in length with a wing span of 95 feet, two inches. It has a high wing design to provide plenty of room for passenger viewing. It's capable of a 45,500 pound take-off payload.

It's a beautiful airplane, but it can't land in Sedalia. Neither can the others mentioned.

Sedalia Memorial Airport enployees report there are crosswinds of up to 20 miles an hour whipping across the landing strip 60 percent of the time.

That many not mean much to Mr. Average Citizen—unless he's in the plane.

Those crosswinds can create some nasty situations and require plenty of tricky and skillful maneuvering on the part of the pilot.

When a plane comes into an airport which is haunted by crosswinds, the pilot is forced to make what is known in the business as a "crabbing approach." That's dangerous.

It means that when the plane is coming down, it has to face into the wind, which in Sedalia generally blows at an angle to the airport. So, the plane landing here must make its approach with its nose aimed at the side of the runway. Landing sideways, in other words.

The plane can't touch down like that, of course. It's moving forward and sideways at the same time and if it touched the ground while doing that, a crash would be certain. That's why so many pilots who have landed here marvel at the fact that Sedalia hasn't had at least one major, and tragic, accident.

While the pilot is making his crab-like approach to the runway, he has to remember that the plane must be turned to face straight at the runway just

U.S. Naval Power Rests Offshore

Near North Border Of South Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — With all attacks halted on North Vietnam, a score of U. S. warships, including three aircraft carriers and the battleship New Jersey, steamed southward and took up positions Saturday off the northern coast of South Vietnam.

At the same time, U. S. Air Force planes released from raids over the North by Friday's presidential order steeped up their attacks on North Vietanam's supply lines along the Ho Chi Minh trail in eastern Laos.

Military sources said top strategists were studying a possible shift of the Navy's air might to the Ho Chi Minh trail or other targets in Laos. The halt of attacks over the north gives the United States an additional 500 Air Force, Navy and Marine planes for assignment against targets in South Vietnam or Laos.

Asked by newsmen in Paris about Thieu's statement, Xuan Thuy, the chief negotiator at talks with the United States that opened last May, said the United States had insisted that South Vietnam be present at the expanded talks. He said the Americans had assured him their proposals would be carried out.

"We accepted this in good faith," Thuy said. "As for Saigon's attitude, this is an affair for the United States and Saigon to settle."

Thuy then read a statement, broadcast earlier iby Radio Hanoi, calling the bombing halt "a great victory of the Vietnamese people in both zones." But North Vietnam insisted that agreement to let South Vietnam take part in negotiations in Paris "does not signify the recognition of this administration" by Hanoi.

Diplomats in Saigon said President Johnson in presenting his bombing halt-peace talk package may have miscalculated the moods of both Hanoi and Saigon. Both sides may be showing reluctance because of what is known as saving face, they indicated.

"President Johnson," said one diplomat, "should not have forgotten that face, and whether you keep it or lose it, is a major consideration in this part of the world."

The question of who sits at the Paris conference table presents the "face barrier," the diplomats emphasized.

Agree To Admit Four Delegations

Viet Cong Are Included In Conference

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam said Saturday the United States has agreed that four independent delegations, including the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, should take part in expanded peace talks scheduled to open in Paris Wednesday.

North Vietnam's chief negotiator, Xuan Thuy, told a news conference the United States had insisted on bringing in the Saigon government and it was now up to Washington to get South Vietnam's representatives to the conference table.

Jail Not On Lawn Of Courthouse

No one knows yet where the new Pettis County jail will be built, but it will not be on the courthouse lawn, that's for sure, because it says so on the bottom of the fact sheet published to support the jail bond issue to be decided Tuesday.

Actually, the site for the jail cannot be selected until after the bond issue passes and the money to build the jail becomes available. After this happens, the County Court, acting in accordance with state law, will appoint a supervisor for the project. This supervisor, after consulting with competent city and county planners, will make the site selection. He will also approve the final plans, receive bids on construction and supervise the project until it is completed.

Pettis County is asking for a new jail simply because it does not now have one. The old jail passed into antiquity last June 20, when the last prisoner was moved out. Prisoners are now being sent to the Sedalia City jail, itself in "deplorable" condition, or to the Saline County jail in Marshall, at a prohibitive cost to the taxpayers for board and transportation.

The old building was closed by Sheriff Emmett Fairfax in June, after it began falling apart, and after being

Undecided Voters May Decide Election

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Missouri's undecided, uncommitted and independent voters will have their day next Tuesday.

That's when they will determine whether Vice-President Hubert Humphrey or Richard Nixon wins the state's 12 electoral votes — and how many votes independent George Wallace will get.

The Wallace vote is the big question mark in the most unpredictable election in years.

Despite that, both state party chairmen predicted victory.

Dorman L. Steelman, the GOP chairman, predicted a Nixon landslide. He forcast a vote of more than 50 per cent for Nixon in the three-man race.

Delton L. Houtchens, the Democratic chairman, saw Humphrey the winner in a close election. He believes early Wallace strength has declined with the Democrats benefiting from the erosion.

A total vote of 1,903,400 has been forcast by Secretary of State James C. Kirkpartrick, or 4.7 per cent more than in the Johnson-Goldwater election four years ago.

The estimate is down on the basis of St. Louis and Kansas City registrations, but is up outstate and in St. Louis County, where a record of more than 400,000 are registered in the state's largest single voting unit.

St. Louis County could hold the key in a close election and might also affect some of the state and congressional races.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, the Democratic nominee, has been confident throughout the campaign of becoming the first governor to win a second four-year term. He said his personal goal was to carry St. Louis County, home of his rival, St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Roos.

Voters To Face Three Columns

Voters in the general election Tuesday will notice three national paries on their ballots, but for county and state offices the American Party ballot is a blank.

On the Democrat and Republican portions of the ballot it is a different story. Both parties have all but filled the tickets with candidates for offices to be decided in this election, and both parties have waged an energetic campaign to place their campaigners in office.

Most of the local offices are contested, a few candidates are running for reelection unopposed.

Henry A. Keeler, Republican incumbent, is unopposed for reelection to his position as Pettis County prosecuting attorney.

Emmett Fairfax, Democratic incumbent, is unopposed for reelection as sheriff of Pettis County.

Contributions From Industry Boost UF

Industrial contributions to the United Fund campaign boosted total gifts to $55,878 as of Friday.

John Swezy, industrial chairman, reported in with an ditional $9,000. The goal of the 1968-69 drive is $80,000.

Oct. 31 had been the cutoff date for the drive, but a United Fund spokesman said Saturday that the campaign is expected to run another 10 days or so in hopes of reaching the goal.

Harry Walch, campaign chairman, said Friday that contributors shouldn't wait to be contracted, but should get their donations in on their own initiative.

Wreck Near Warsaw Is Fatal To One

One man was killed and two others injured in a carsh on U.S Highway 65 three miles north of Warsaw about 10:15 p.m. Friday night during a rain. The two injured men were admitted to Bothwell Hospital for further observation.

The dead man was identified as the driver of one vehicle, Kenneth Richard Ellison, 21, of Chillicothe. Ellison was brought to Sedalia to the Bothwell Hospital where he died about 11 p.m.

Injured were Junior Lee Sprinkle, 34, Pleasant Hill, driver of the other vehicle and his passenger, William P. Jones, 43, Chilhowee.

They were brought to the hospital in the Reser ambulance where Dr. Elliott Braverman, Dr. Ira White and Dr. Robert Potter rendered treatment. Sprinkle suffered bruises and abrasions, while Jones suffered a laceration on the forehead, bruises, abrasions and a concussion. Both were admitted for further observation.

Clerk Reports Voter Registration Figures

With one day to go, the Pettis County clerk's office shows 11,367 persons in the county have registered for the general election Tuesday.

Registration figures as of July 26 amounted to 9,826. Thus 1,505 have been added to the rolls in a little more than three months.

A survey of the number of registrations indicates that the heaviest voter turnout in the city can be expected in the first and third wards in Sedalia, where there are better than 3,000 registered voters.

Award Medals to Servicemen

Two awards, an Army Commendation Medal with "V" (for valor) device, and an Air Medal, were presented to two servicemen at the National Guard Armory in Sedalia Thursday by Col. Martin F. Schroeder, executive officer for the U.S. Army Advisory Group, Missouri.

The awards were made to 1st Sgt. Patsy Brigante, Warrensburg, now assigned to the 635th Aviation Co., Missouri Army National Guard, and SSgt. Junior R. Brown, 2402 Albert Lee.

Brigante received the Commendation Medal and Brown the Air Medal, both for actions in Vietnam.

Brigante's medal was earned while he was serving with the 114th Assault Helicopter Co. in Vinh Long, Vietnam, during a Viet Cong assault on his base there. During the attack, the citation read, Brigante was instrumental in bringing a helicopter fire under control, amid exploding ammunition, then joining others in his unit in repelling the Viet Cong force.

Brown distinguished himself by meritorious achievement in making more than 24 aerial missions in support of ground forces in Vietnam. "During all of these flights, he displayed the highest order of air discipline and acted in accordance with the best traditions of the service," the citation read in part.

IRS Shows Man It Has a Heart

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Commie T. McAdams of Carrboro, convicted on charges of failing to file an income tax return for 1965, completed a jail sentence this week and received $400 from the Internal Revenue Service.

U.S. District Atty. William H. Murdoch said IRS agents filled out tax returns for McAdams for 1965, 1966 and 1967 and found that he was eligible for the refund.

VOODOOISM

Voodoo is still practiced in Haiti. The mystical ceremony, which is African in origin, begins at midnight and ends at dawn. Drums beat hypnotically when participants dance and, at the climax, worshipers test their faith by dipping hands into pots of boiling oil.

Scout News

Junior Troop 373 of the First Christian Church met Oct. 28 for a Halloween Costume Party at the home of their leader, Mrs. Don Buller.

Patrol No. 1: Carol Pahlow, Ida Randall, Paula Thompson, Pamela Menefee, Tammy McMullin, Debbie Viebrock and Linda Morris led games for the group, apple bobbing and charades.

Patrol No. 2: Janet Lane, Shawn Buller, Vicki Tripp, Connie Stone, Julie Morris, Kristin Crouch and Barbara Brownfield gave a program about Juliette Low, the founder of Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Buller is assisted by Mrs. Charles Ramseyer, Mrs. Jack Morris and Senior Scout Libby Cain.

An outstanding Sedalia Senior Girl Scout, Miss Clydia Smith, has been recommended to the Region V (includes 10 states) Selections Committee for a council-operated event, Wilderness Encampment, to be held next summer in West Virginia. The recommendation was made by the Heart of Missouri Girl Scout Council Selections Committee. Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin C. Smith, 2800 Southwest Blvd.

Hostesses for Wilderness Encampment will be the Mountain Laurel Girl Scout Council, Charleston, W. Va.

After orientation at base camp in the Glady Fork Area of the Monongahela National Forest near Elkins, W. Va., the 128 participants will backpack by patrols without adults in the nearby forest for several days.

The purpose of the event is to afford older scouts with the opportunity to utilize their advanced camping skills, to develop their own program from the natural environment, and to live in a patrol situation without direct adult supervision.

Among the special qualifications for the trip are mastery of advanced camping skills, previous participation in two backpacking trips and experience in the use of the patrol system.

WHO CAN JUDGE A MAN BETTER THAN HIS PEERS?

JAMES E. GODFREY
Speaker of the House

"As a legislator, Joe F. Rains of Pettis County is a diligent worker and uses sound judgment in deciding upon the issues before the General Assembly. He compiled an outstanding record during both his first and second terms and gained the respect of all with whom he worked. His work and experience have prepared him for even greater service in the future".

FRANK C. MAZZUCA

"Being one of the younger members of the House in terms of chronological age, I certainly appreciated having a man of Joe Rains' experience available for consultation and advice on the many complicated problems with which we had to deal. The people of Pettis County should be proud that they are represented by Joe Rains".

RONALD REED JR.
District No. 81

"I admired Joe Rains as a fellow member of the House of Representatives. He accomplished much as a legislator. Pettis County should be proud of such a sincere, capable, and diligent man as representative".

JAMES I. SPAINHOWER
District No. 117

"I worked with Joe Rains on several key issues at the last session of the Missouri General Assembly. He was a devoted legislator with hours and time being of no concern. He had an outstanding record. Joe sponsored and co-sponsored several bills which not only helped his county but the state as a whole."

WHY DON'T YOU ALSO ENDORSE JOE RAINS BY VOTING FOR HIM FOR YOUR REPRESENTATIVE ON NOV. 5?

Police Dogs Permanent Part of Asian Conflict

DONG TAM, Vietnam (AP) — The Pentagon has spent millions of dollars for such detection devices as radar, infrared and night telescopes to help the ground soldier. The biggest bargains, however, are devices called "King," "Hasso," and "T-bone"—german shepherds that cost a dollar and run on a word of praise and a pat on the flank.

The dogs are fixtures in Vietnam, bounding enthusiastically from helicopters during assaults, thrashing their tails as they move along trails—like city dogs on a rare trip to the country. They swim canals, endure the heat, climb mountains, and at least one, a Marine scout dog named Lobo, makes parachute jumps with his handler.

There are now about 1,100 dogs serving with U.S. troops. About 130 have been killed.

The U.S. Air Force procures the dogs, advertising periodically and paying a token $1 to make the deal official. One veteran handler says the dogs are frequently getting in the way at their old homes; too much trouble to take on a weekend trip, or grown too big for a city apartment. To enter the service the Shepherd must be a year old. He keeps his original name.

Aggressive dogs are screened for sentry works. The smarter ones are used as scout dogs.

The jobs of scout and sentry are different in training, but in Vietnam they tend to blur, say most handlers. It comes down to the dog's ability to "alert," or detect the enemy, whether it be on a base perimeter or in the field on patrol.

Two examples:

— Nick, a Marine dog, alerted as his company was moving up a ridgeline 200 yards from a hill crest below the demilitarized zone. The company commander backed his men down in silence, circled to other high ground overlooking Nick's hilltop. Artillery was called in and the company commander saw the enemy scrambling from position to position. Thirty-five enemy were killed. The Marines did not fire a shot or lose a man.

— Hasso alerted on an Army patrol in the Delta. His handler passed the word and the patrol fell flat, an instant before enemy fire passed over their heads. T-bone, another shepherd idling at the rear of the column, alerted on an enemy flanking movement in time for the Americans to set up a brutal base of fire in that direction. The patrol turned a potential ambush into a killing situation.

Army Lt. James Fagerston, La Jolla, Calif., has a scout dog platoon at the Dong Tam Delta base of the 9th Division. He says dryly about alerts that "perferably, the dog should give the strongest possible alert at the greatest possible distance." Given open ground and a favorable wind, a dog can tip his handler to the enemy at 250 yards.

A dog alerts by stopping and freezing in his own peculiar position. Marine Lance Cpl. Bob Lake, 19, Delmar, Del., says he can look right at potential trouble by sighting between the ears of his dog, Rex. Army handler Sgt. Michael Lutz, Las Cruces, N.M., says Blacky assumes a stance of "right leg up, head over left shoulder with a look of do-I-have-to-go-there on his face."

The shepherds will stay in Vietnam until it's over. If they become incurably sick or senile, they'll be put to sleep. Often a wounded dog does return to duty. A dog suddenly gone shy sometimes ends up as a pet—as did King who died with his new master, Maj. Gen. Keith Ware, in a helicopter crash.

The dog and his handler average about six three-day patrols a month with different units. Almost automatically, the dog and his handler are put on point, first in the column.

Dogs also are invaluable for early warning for U.S. ambush teams.

"The dogs snooze on ambush," says Marine Sgt. Robert R. Parks, Providence, R.I., "but they're always monitoring everything." A flick of a shepherd's ear and the patrol tenses over their weapons, ready for anything that may be coming down the trail.

OBITUARIES

Earl Davis

Earl W. Davis, 71, 712 East 13th, died at Bothwell Hospital at 10:30 p.m. Friday. He had been in failing health for several years and had been a patient at the hospital for the past five weeks.

Mr. Davis was born at Georgetown, April 8, 1897, the son of the late John W. and Theodosia Gregory Davis.

He lived most of his life in Pettis County. As a young man he was employed at the "Old Steam Heat Plant" in Sedalia, later being employed at the Producer's Produce until his retirement in 1960.

Mr. Davis was a veteran of World War I, enlisting at Warsaw, Oct. 20, 1918. He served as a corporal in the infantry until Aug. 25, 1919, when he was honorably discharged at Camp Pike, Arkansas.

He was married at Sedalia Aug. 12, 1921, to Sarah Elizabeth Reedy. They were the parents of nine children. One daughter died in infancy.

Mr. Davis was preceded in death by one brother, Alva Davis.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sarah Davis; three sons, E. D.. (Kenny) Davis, 710 East 14th; Elmer R. Davis, Clyde, Ohio; Clarence W. Davis, Lee's Summit; five daughters, Mrs. Orville (Gertrude) Jennings, Route 2; Mrs. Ernest (Opal) Swearngin, 1017 South Massachusetts; Mrs. Gene (Vera) Wells, Green Ridge; Mrs. Paul (Frances) Thornbury, Freemont, Ohio; Mrs. Douglas (Earlene) Moore, Madison, Wisc.; three sisters, Mrs. Bertha Dalton, Buena Park, Calif.; Mrs. Maude Wissman, 1516 East Broadway; Mrs. George (Hazel) Ray, 421 East 15th; three brothers, John Davis, Cole Camp; Paul Davis, 2101 South Engineer; Albert Davis, 120 Tower; twenty-two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Ewing Funeral Home at 1 p.m. Monday. The Rev. Stephen Gardner of Lincoln will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Charles Cheffey, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Burial will be in the Mt. Olive Cemetery southwest of Cole Camp.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

William Les Garland

He is survived by his wife, Mary, of the home; a daughter, Mrs. Bethel Gilcrest, Warsaw, a brother, Vernis Garland, Windsor; a nephew, Gerald Garland, Windsor.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Monday at the Huston-Hadley Chapel at Windsor.

Burial will be in the Laurel Oak Cemetery.

The body is at the funeral home.

investigated the accident. He reported his information was that Ellison was driving a 1950 Ford sedan headed west and had started to pass another car. In cutting back into the proper lane the car skidded sideways into the front of the truck. At the time of the accident, Sgt. Means reported it had been raining. The truck, a 1962 Chevrolet pickup, reportedly driven by Sprinkle.

Both vehicles were demolished.

The body of Ellison was taken to Warsaw by Reser's.

condemned by grand juries since 1894.

An inspection by the State Department of Health last Spring neatly summed up the condition of the jail. On 17 counts the building was condemned.

The county court had the $150,000 bond issue placed on the ballot after enough qualified voters signed petitions calling for the issue. Some 300 signatures were needed, but more than 1,000 voters signed the petitions within one week.

The $150,000 issue will be sufficient to construct a modern jail facility large enough to handle all of the prisoners in Pettis County, Sheriff Fairfax said.

Presiding Judge Henry Lamm said the average Pettis County family, with an assessed valuation of 3,900, will be out only 75 cents per year. Arrangements will be made to pay off the bonds in ten years, with the tax levy taken off at the end of this period.

Cloyd C. Leftwich

HUGHESVILLE — Cloyd C. Leftwich, 64, Hughesville, died suddenly at 4 p.m. Friday.

He was born March 12, 1904, on a farm near Hughesville, the son of the late A. C. and Flora Worley Leftwich.

Accidents

One person complained of injuries as the result of a two-car accident at the intersection of Broadway and Carr at 1:03 p.m. Saturday.

Involved were a 1962 Plymouth driven west on Broadway by Donald W. Waldrep, 24, 1201 West Sixth, and a 1968 Chevrolet driven west on Broadway by Fern R. Hill, 49, 1406 South Carr, who was stopped and preparing to turn off Broadway.

Mrs. Hill was taken to Bothwell Hospital by the Sedalia Ambulance Service. She was treated by Dr. Stanley Fisher for neck injuries and released

One person sustained apparently minor injuries in a two-car accident at the interesction of 12th and Arlington at 4:09 p.m. Saturday.

Involved were a 1962 Ford driven south on Crescent Drive by Thomas G. Smith, 18, 1507 South Mildred, and a 1968 Cadillac driven west on 12th by Bernard L. Brown, 26, 119 North Broadway.

Smith sustained a cut on his nose but did not seek medical attention.

Damage was to the right side of the Ford and the front of the Cadillac. Both cars were towed from the scene by Shoemaker's wrecker.

Smith was issued a police summons for careless and imprudent driving.

Three persons were injured in a three-car accident at Third and Grand at 5:44 p.m. Saturday.

Involved were a 1967 Chrysler driven south on Grand by Raymond S. Killion, 47, Route 2, Hughesville; a 1963 Chevrolet driven west on Third by Irene Belkner, 48, 508 West Fifth, and a 1966 Ford driven east on Third by Kathryn June Garner, 37, 2232 West First.

Mrs. Belkner was taken to Bothwell Hospital by the Sedalia Ambulance. She was treated by Dr. Joseph Maunders for a scalp laceration, a puncture laceration of the left knee, and pains in her neck and both legs. She was admitted.

Mrs. and her daughter, Kathy Garner, 14, a passenger in her car, were taken to the hospital in a private auto. They were treated by Dr. Lowe for bruises and abrasions and released released.

Damage was to the front of the Chrysler and the Chevrolet and the left side of the Ford.

Killion was issued a police summons to appear in police court.

One person complained of injuries as a result of an accident on U. S. Highway 65 south of Sedalia in front of the Uncle Dudley's store about 3:50 p.m. Saturday.

Injured was Eugene Frederick Kreisel, 51, 1120 West Fourth, who complained of a neck and back injury. Kreisel, driver of one car, was taken to Bothwell Hospital by the Sedalia Ambulance Service where Dr. Donald Proctor rendered medical treatment and released him.

According to Trooper Joe Dayringer of the State Highway Patrol, Kreisel was driving a 1963 Cadillac sedan, headed south, had slowed down for another vehicle to make a turn and was struck from behind by a 1960 Plymouth sedan driven by Miss Patricia Jo Hack, 23, of 230 South Gentry. She was also headed south. Trooper Dayringer reported the highway was slick due to the rain, and Miss Hack was unable to stop in time to avoid the mishap.

Police Reports

E. W. Cook, Route 4, reported to police that vandals threw an egg on his car while he was driving in the 1300 block of South Limit Friday night.

Teresa Straka, 1319 South Kentucky, reported to police that vandals sprayed paint on her car while it was parked at the above address Thursday night.

Darold J. Casey, 19, 911 South Harrison, and Mavin L. Lutjen, 2301 South Grand, are being held in the city jail in lieu of $50 bond each on charges of petit larceny.

Casey and Lutjen were picked up by police at 11th and Missouri at 6:20 p.m. Friday for investigation of breaking and entering.

The charges against them were filed Friday and stemmed from an incident at the Frank Shouten residence, 909 South Harrison, sometime between Oct. 25 and Oct. 30 when a cigar box containing over $45 in currency was allegedly stolen.

Clessie Moore reported to police that vandals broke three windows in a garage at 1611 South Lamine sometime Friday night.

ABOUT SHINGLES (HERPES ZOSTER)

Shingles is a virus infection attacking the nerves. Usually it is a "one sided" disease, since nerves branching out of the spinal cord spread out on each side. It is characterized by a vesicular eruption and severe neuralgic pains arising in the affected nerve root ganglia.

Shingles are more frequent in males and while it may happen to anyone, it is more common after 50. After about the fifth day the eruptions usually dry up and scab. A painful neuralgia may last for years. Diagnosis is difficult in the pre-eruptive stage. A physician is needed.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine and we will gladly deliver it without charge. If you prefer you may pick it up at our drive up window. We keep accurate records for tax and insurance purposes. We carefully fill welfare prescriptions and deliver or mail free of charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. of South Vietnam said in a speech in Saigon that his government could never negotiate with the National Liberation Front as a separate delegation and would send no delegates to Paris.

"On one side of the table there will be Hanoi and presumably representatives of the NLF," Rusk said. "We don't recognize either one of them. We don't recognize the NLF as some separate entity. Now we could spend a year or two debating and arguing these points of procedure and status without getting to the substance. Our approach thus far has been to try to cut through as many of these as possible and get to the substance of making peace."

Airport

According to an aviation fact book published by New Horizons Publishers, Inc., Chicago, "...if the plane is straightened out at just the right moment the touchdown will take place without difficulty."

Every airplane has its own crosswind limitations — no matter what its size. New Horizons says, "At airports with only a single runway, the wind component becomes a crucial factor in safe aircraft operation."

Combining that with the shortness of the runway provides a very reasonable explanation for the need of improvements at the Sedalia airport.

No pilot in his right mind would attempt landing a plane carrying 48 people at the airport as it is now — he's moving too fast for one thing, his plane is too big for another, and the crosswinds might blow him off the map besides.

The Federal Aviation Administration has some rather strict rules concerning safety. It won't allow an airline using the planes Ozark uses, for example, to attempt landing then at a facility as limited as Sedalia's.

The FAA requires the runway to be at least 6,000 feet long for planes commonly used now. It demands that a maximum effort is made to insure the safety of the plane while it's landing. That's why a simple extension of the existing runway isn't enough. Those crosswinds would still endanger every plane landing here.

Therefore, a new runway, from north to south, is needed. So is a new terminal building to take care of the increased traffic that would be using the new runway system.

It would cost the average Sedalia taxpayer with property of $3,000 assessed valuation $3.60 a year to see those improvements take place.

It isn't a matter of convenience for a few any more — it's become a matter of economic survival, according to city officials.

Sedalia voters can purchase quite a chunk of financial security for their $3.60 annual investment Nov. 5. It's the best bargain that's hit Sedalia since the city was first linked to a major railways system.

OPPORTUNITY

To Provide Pettis County With the Modern Jail Facilities Necessary to Assure That Law and Order Will Be Maintained in Our Progressive Area.

How Can We Control the Growing Feeling That Mass Disrespect for The Law Is Acceptable?

Law enforcement is a local responsibility. Our political system does not lend itself to a national police force . . . nor do we want this. We must accept the responsibility of adopting new techniques and expanding our role in crime prevention. A big step forward in this effort will be our new county jail facility which will provide the necessary accommodations to correct the inadequacies and inconveniences of operating a condemned county jail system since the 1890's at a cost of a small 2½ mill levy; .025¢ per $100 valuation; 25¢ per $1,000 Valuation.

VOTE ☒ YES FOR THE COUNTY JAIL BONDS

WE HAVE THE PROBLEM—LET'S BE A PART OF THE SOLUTION!

U.S. Bombing Failed in Main Objective

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States spent about half a million tons of bombs, nearly $2 billion worth of planes and hundreds of pilots were killed. But it failed in the main objective of its air war against North Vietnam.

That objective was to cut the level of infiltration of men and arms from the North into South Vietnam.

The flow of North Vietnamese soldiers doubled and redoubled during the more than 3½ years of the bombing campaign—even before President Johnson spared most of North Vietnam from U.S. air attack starting last March 31.

And, despite the interdiction campaign, the Viet Cong were re-equipped with new and increasingly sophisticated Red Chinese and Soviet-supplies weapons, many of them heavy rockets and artillery-type weapons.

Senior military officers believe that the air assault could have been successful; that it might have shortened the entire Vietnam war, including the ground fighting in the South.

But, they claim, former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, backed by Johnson, prevented the military from striking North Vietnam as heavily and rapidly as possible.

They contended that the closely controlled, gradually increased buildup of bombing pressure did little more than give the other side time to adjust.

The U.S. generals and admirals found their views echoed by a powerful Senate committee which declared "we shackled the true potential of air power."

Civilian leaders reply that the course of action favored by the military chiefs involved grave risks of bringing a clash with the Soviet Union and Red China, particularly if the military had been permitted to close the port of Haiphong.

The tight restrictions on targets, the firm ban against bombing populated areas—these, say the civilian leaders, were necessary to keep the war limited.

But even this limited bombing campaign which began on Feb. 7, 1965 has cost the United States 911 airplanes.

Most of the 469 Air Force men listed as killed in aircraft incidents died over the North. The same is true of most of 139 Navy men and some of the 102 Marine pilots and air crewmen killed aloft.

The Air Force lists 519 men missing, and most of these are either dead or captives in the North. This goes also for the bulk of 115 Navy men and some of the 88 Marines carried in the missing roster.

The bulk of 139 Air Force and 130 Navy men listed as captured also are believed to be in the North.

American warplanes have flown roughly 100,000 missions over the North since the campaign began.

The Pentagon says that a total of more than 2.8 million tons of bombs have been dropped on targets in both North and South Vietnam.

Claiming security reasons, it refuses to break down the totals between North and South.

But testimony before Congress by Secretary of the Air Force Harold Brown suggests that the tonnage dumped on North Vietnam accounted for roughly one-fifth of the over-all weight of bombs used in the Southeast Asia war.

Thus, the bomb tonnage over North Vietnam is roughly comparable to the 502,781 tons thrown against the Japanese in the Pacific in World War II and somewhat less than the 635,000 tons dropped by American bombers in the Korean war.

Over the years of the air war, McNamara and Johnson have sometimes shifted the objectives in order of importance, but for the most part the chief goal has been described as aiming to reduce the infiltration flow.

The first U.S. bombing of North Vietnam was in August 1964 in retaliation for PT boat attacks on American destroyers patrolling the Tonkin Gulf. After this brief incident, there were no more raids until the sustained air war against the North opened the following February.

When the attacks were ordered on Feb. 7, 1965, they were described by both the White House and McNamara as retaliatory, a strike-back at North Vietnam for Vietcong border attacks on U.S. bases in South Vietnam.

U.S. officials have steadfastly insisted over the years that they never intended the bombing would totally halt the aggression and its supporting infiltration from the North.

When McNamara was asked on Feb. 7 about future plans, he underscored a White House statement which said, in part:

"The key to the situation remains the cessation of infiltration from the North into the South."

In April, McNamara called attention to the introduction for the first time of regular combat units of the North Vietnamese army, and he said:

"The carefully controlled air strikes will continue as necessary to impede the infiltration and to persuade the North Vietnamese leadership that their aggression against the South must stop."

Johnson has placed his main stress on protecting U.S. fighting men and allied troops from suffering heavier casualties because of arms and ammunition brought down the infiltration trails from North Vietnam.

On Christmas Eve in 1965 Johnson ordered the bombing of North Vietnam halted, but 37 days later, lacking any response from Hanoi, he ordered it resumed, saying that "if continued immunity is given to all that support North Vietnamese aggression, the cost in lives . . . will only be greatly increased."

Last February, about two months before limiting U.S. bombing to the southern panhandle of North Vietnam, Johnson declared that "we shall continue to give our men the protection it (the bombing) affords" until the United States receives a sign from Hanoi that North Vietnam would not step up it terrorism and aggression if the bombing were halted.

Otherwise, he said, "the enemy force in the South would be larger and better equipped. The war would be harder and longer. It would claim more American lives."

And on Sept. 10, about a month before the new U.S. peace initiative surfaced, Johnson told the American Legion national convention in New Orleans that he insisted the bombing would not stop until the United States is confident this would not lead to higher casualties.

Johnson, and senior U.S. military officers, are anxious that the demilitarized zone be truly neutralized and that North Vietnam agree not to shell U.S. and South Vietnamese positions from north of the DMZ.

In the absence of such an agreement, military men believe it is imperative to bring U.S. air power to bear in the panhandle against North Vietnamese artillery positions, troop concentrations, supply points and possible invasion springboards.

McNamara, who designed the blueprint of the U.S. air war against the North, has appeared over the years to shuffle objectives in their order of importance.

On Feb. 24, 1967, McNamara said that the first U.S. objective in opening the air war in North Vietnam was to raise the morale of the South Vietnamese who, at that time, were facing military defeat in the ground war.

He then listed as a second objective "to either reduce the level of infiltration of men and equipment from North to South or to increase the cost of that infiltration."

Several months later, on Aug. 25, 1967, McNamara promoted the reduction of infiltration to the status of "our primary objective," and there it remained.

The morale-boosting objective was dropped to second place, and a third major goal consistently has sought to make clear to Hanoi that it "would have to pay a price in the North" for continued aggression against the South.

Infiltration figures show clearly that the primary objective has not been reached—not by a long shot.

In all of 1964, the year before the bombing campaign began, there were 12,404 infiltrators from the North.

In 1965 this more than doubled to 26,000, then to 57,700 in 1966 and 53,300 in 1967.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, former U.S. commander in Vietnam, has said that an "invasion from the North" began in November and December 1967, as the enemy prepared for the Tet offensive.

The infiltration rose to flood tide early this year, even before Johnson ordered the bombing area restricted in a move to encourage North Vietnam to open negotiations looking toward peace.

Currently, experts estimate that some 200,000 North Vietnamese have infiltrated into South Vietnam during 1968 and forecast the total will reach more than 262,000 for the entire year.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford contended that the reduced bombing area permitted under Johnson's March 31 order did not constitute a drawback because American aircraft could, and did, intensify their attacks in the more limited area through which the infiltration routes had to pass.

Air Force and civilian officials say that the sortie rate is roughly the same this year as last year. A sortie is one flight by one plane.

There are no clear analyses of the effect of the interdiction since March 31, but Air Force sources said there was a clue in the estimate that between 3,000 and 4,000 North Vietnamese trucks were knocked out during August and September out of an estimated 12,000 along the infiltration routes. This works out to a destruction rate of between 25 and 33 per cent, although some other estimates range as low as 15 per cent.

Success or failure in attaining the second main objective—raising the South Vietnamese morale—is even harder to measure.

Reactions of the South Vietnamese government suggest that Saigon and its people still value the U.S. air war against their enemies in the North.

The U.S. bomb strikes, even though carefully limited in scope and targeting, unquestionably exacted a toll on the North Vietnamese for sustaining the war in the South.

In speaking about the cost to Hanoi, Johnson and McNamara frequently alluded to anywhere from 300,000 to 500,000 civilians who allegedly had to be diverted from the economy to repair bomb damage to keep the lines of communication open.

But since the March 31 limitation, at least half have returned to their previous occupations, according to intelligence estimates.

Much of the physical havoc has been repaired.

Both rail lines running northeast and northwest of Hanoi to China have been repaired and revamped with a new third rail which permits freight cars of different guage to move smoothly from Chinese railroads to those in North Vietnam, without any trans-shipment of cargo.

New bridges have been built, many of concrete, to replace those shattered in the years of bombing. Alternate routes, using natural cover, have been built. Main roads have been hard-topped and waterways have been dredged.

Some factories have gone underground between Hanoi and Haiphong, presumably as a precaution against possible resumption of bombing. These are mostly munitions and vehicle assembly plants.

Priority cargoes arriving aboard Soviet ships in Haiphong reportedly include road-building equipment and cement, indicating an even wider development of transportation routes in North Vietnam in the months ahead.

Tiny Earthquakes Follow Explosions

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The earth jumps, high as a two-story house. More than half a mile below, a great spherical cavern three city blocks across forms as thousands of tons of volcanic rock vanish into vapor, hot as a blazing sun.

For a brief time this man-created hell is contained in a vast glassy bubble. Then, as the vapor cools, the weight of the violated earth above bursts the bubble and a Niagara of rubble cascades through the roof of the cavern.

On the surface, the earth settles heavily, dustily back into the crater formed by the underground bubble's collapse.

A mere 120 miles distant, in the glittering towers of Las Vegas, tourists clutch momentarily at gaming tables as the floor rocks.

Thrilled and happy—where else could you experience an earthquake guaranteed to be harmless?—they mutter, "man, what a thumper." And as the queasy rolling dies they resume their gambling.

"Thumpers" are underground nuclear explosions in the megaton range, equal to a million tons of TNT.

Two have been set off on the Atomic Energy Commission's testing grounds north of Las Vegas this year, and at least one more is expected by year's end.

Although they add to the excitement of a trip to Las Vegas, where you can rock and roll literally as well as musically, underground megaton blasts are rapidly becoming a major issue.

The trouble is that scientists have just learned, somewhat to their surprise, that large underground explosions are followed by a swarm of small earthquakes, unfelt but measurable on delicate instruments called seismometers.

Since tremors have been known to trigger other tremors with cumulative effect, some experts are beginning to wonder if some day a thumper might trigger disaster.

On one side of the controversy are civic leaders who want underground testing of superweapons halted pending positive proof that it is safe. Ranged against them are makers of government policy who insist the risk is far outweighed by the need to perfect nuclear weapons.

At stake, for Nevadans, is the AEC's $6-million-a-month payroll. They must balance possible loss of the state's second largest industry—topped only by gambling—against the death and damage that could follow a major earthquake. Since Nevada is one of the most quake-prone areas in the country, any likelihood of altering the earth-strain levels is disturbing.

At stake, for the nation, is the urgency to develop warheads for the Sentinel antimissile system, now nearing the deployment stage. If safety requirements—or public resentment—forced the AEC to find a new site for megaton tests, costs would skyrocket.

The price of a nuclear test now ranges from $2 million to $20 million, exclusive of the weapon itself, in Nevada. On Amchitka Island, off Alaska, where the AEC is spending millions preparing to set off devices too powerful to be tested in Nevada, costs are expected to double because of transportation problems.

The thumper that started all the furor came last Jan. 19. Although not the most powerful of the more than 250 underground blasts set off in Nevada up to that time—one in December 1966 had a bit more yield—it unexpectedly jolted buildings as far away as Salt Lake City and Los Angeles. It registered 6.2 on the Richter magnitude scale, which pegs major earthquakes at 7.

It was called, for some unexplained reason, Faultless.

Like all nuclear shots, Faultless started out as the brainchild of scientists seeking to create nuclear devices for special purposes: smaller, lighter and more powerful weapons for bombs and warheads, or cleaner explosives for peaceful uses such as digging canals.

Months were spent in designing the Faultless device and the instruments, many of them buried with it, which would tell distant observers how it performed. Then came additional months of safety checks, as experts tried to calculate the worst that could happen and guard against it.

Eventually the proposal went to commissioners in Washington, D.C., and to the President, who must approve all use of nuclear material. The time and expense were balanced against the need for the weapon and the shot date was set, some two years after conception.

Meanwhile, in anticipation of such a test, an incredible hole had been bored 3,200 feet deep in a new proving grounds 200 miles north of Las Vegas.

Before Faultless was set off last January, the AEC said it was a calibration test, mainly to determine if larger shots planned for the area would be safe. It was not expected to be felt in distant Las Vegas.

But soon after the shot, buildings in Las Vegas swayed sickeningly and a rolling motion was felt in San Francisco, twice as far away.

Nonetheless, an even bigger blast 100 miles closer to Las Vegas was set off April 26 at a slightly greater depth, 3,800 feet. It was called Boxcar and had a magnitude of 6.5.

After checking Faultless and Boxcar, Dr. Alan Ryall of the University of Nevada privately circulated a report showing that all explosions of magnitude 5 or greater were followed by an increase in seismicity—earthquake activity—for at least one day and in some cases up to five days.

Seismologist Ryall also found that after five recent explosions the number of earthquakes recorded was at least twice as great as normal.

Ryall's report concluded that effects of continued firing could be cumulative, "possibly resulting eventually in a sizeable earthquake."

Dr. Wendell Weart, the AEC's own earthquake expert and chairman of its ground-shock effects committee, later said that evidence of greater seismicity after blasts had been noted as early as 1964, but the AEC had said nothing "because we weren't sure what it was or whether it was directly related to the shots."

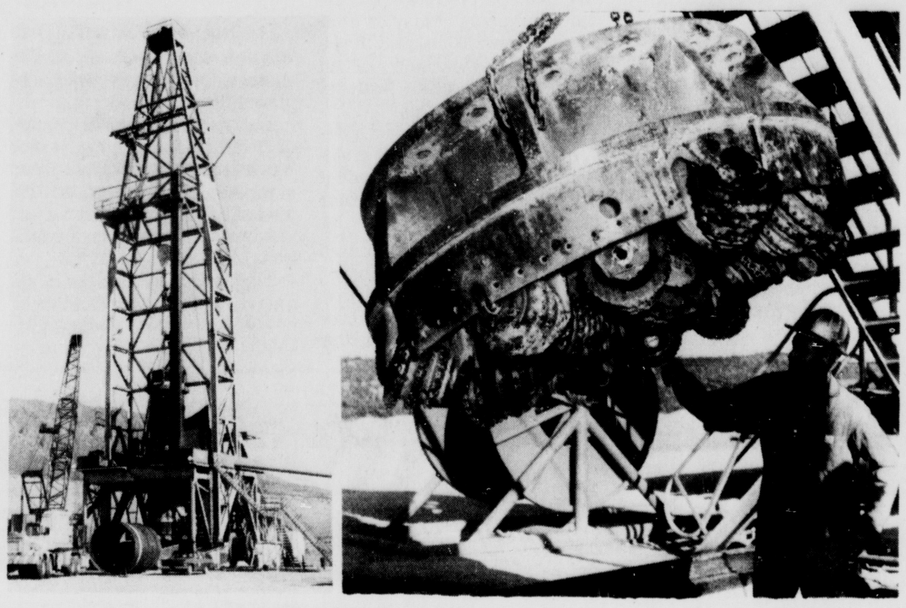
Last Sept. 30 the AEC issued a statement that it "recognizes that some seismic energy releases occur shortly after, and in the vicinity of, underground nuclear detonations."

Weart insisted, however, that he was not convinced that any increased seismicity more than 30 miles from the shotpoint was caused by the blasts.

Weart said he would not hesitate to recommend another Nevada shot in the megaton range.

He saw "no chance" that megaton tests in Nevada could trigger an earthquake along the great San Andreas fault, a crack in the earth's crust that underlies San Francisco and passes near Los Angeles. The closest it comes to the Nevada test site is 170 miles.

So far it has generated little if any public concern.



Thumper Mechanics

The rig (left) and the drill bit, worn after use, are part of the apparatus used to prepare the sites of underground nuclear tests in Nevada. Using new methods, holes are bored at the base of which the nuclear devices and measuring instruments are installed. Developments in these drilling techniques are being watched with interest by the oil and mining industries — for conventional purposes. (AP)

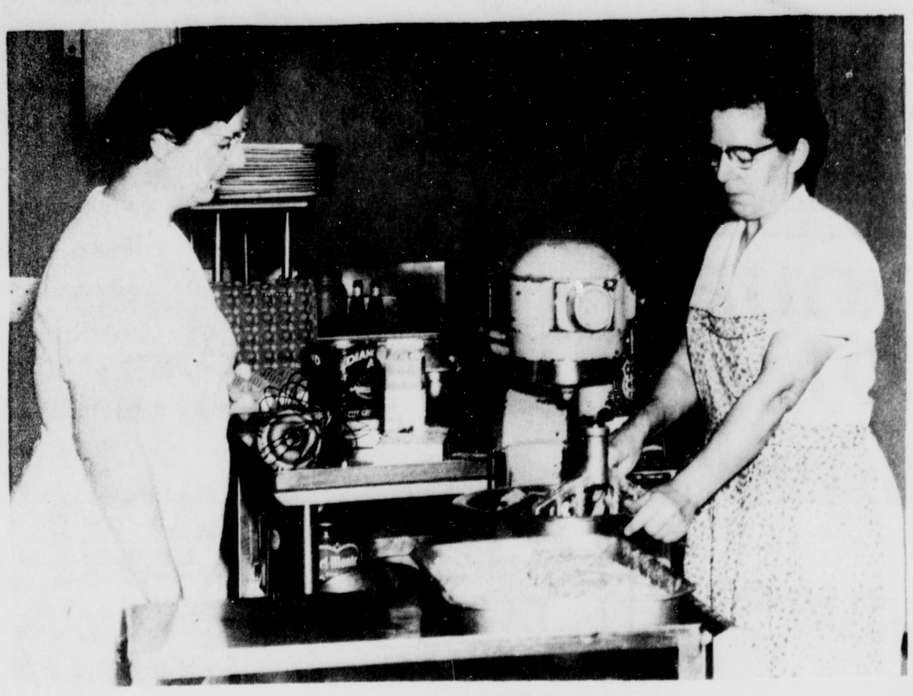
Thought For Food in Her Job



Patient Menu Redied

Mrs. Ruth Wells, left, chief dietician at Bothwell Hospital, and Mrs. Alice Hunter prepare a portion of the patient menu for the day. The piece of equipment next to Mrs. Hunter is a three-gallon mixer used in the preparation of batter-like foods. (Democrat-Capital Photo)

By DICK STEGING
Democrat-Capital Staff Writer

She has a husband, six children ranging in ages from six to 15 years old, works from seven in the morning to three in the afternoon, and supervises the cooking of 1,800 eggs every week.

Last year, this quietly efficient woman made sure that 137,952 meals — breakfast, lunch and dinner — went where they were supposed to go.

In the age of the TV dinner, a sort of culinary paralysis seems to have afflicted American kitchens, but when you are the chief dietician at Bothwell Hospital, there isn't much time to think about it.

Mrs. Fern Wells handles 600 to 700 pounds of potatoes per week, 60 to 70 pounds of roast beef and 22 full-sized hams per meal, 60 quarts of milk a day, 240 loaves of bread each week, and does all the menu writing for both regular and special diets for about 1,265 people every week.

She also does most of the shopping, buying locally if she can. Mrs. Wells has a staff of 19 people of which she is obviously proud. "Things move on a pretty tight schedule when you're handling food in these amounts, and if it weren't for the staff working the way that they do, it couldn't be done."

The likes and dislikes of patients are noted on the menu cards, and allowances are made. When you are juggling 10 pound rolls of aluminum foil and two-pound boxes of Jello, this isn't the easiest thing in the world to do — yet, she gets it done.

Meals are loaded onto carts which are electrically heated and cooled for moving to the patient's rooms where the nursing staff distributes them.

Three trays per minute is the usual speed with which they are "stacked" or loaded, but five per minute can be reached if the patient load is heavy enough to demand it.

This job is done by four people — operating on an assembly line basis. It's the same with dish washing — trays and their contents are dumped and washed as they come down from the various levels of the building.

Moving through the dishwasher at the rate of a tray every 57 seconds, and meeting rigid health standards at the same time is tough and tiresome — but it's done.

Most hospitals suffer from a lack of personality, but Fern Wells and her staff try to remedy this when they can. If a patient has a birthday, a cake and candles go up on the tray — recently a wedding anniversary cake was sent.

Guest trays are sent to patient's rooms when relatives or visitors request them.

When she leaves the hospital, there are still seven other persons to be fed — her family. It's a safe bet that she manages this with aplomb.

After all, what can scare you after dealing with 55 pounds of cottage cheese?

Goldwater Statement 'Shocking'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Former Sen. Barry Goldwater declined comment Friday on a report that he was amused to see newsmen beaten and kicked during the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

A newspaper, the Arizona Republic, said Friday night Goldwater was quoted in a student magazine of Northern Arizona University at Flagstaff saying:

"It tickles me to death to see a couple of guys get knocked around. They're very abusive. I've put up with a lot of abuse from the news people. And when one of these fellas gets kicked in the stomach, I just sort of laugh."

The Republic contacted Don Winston, faculty adviser to the student publication who replayed the recording.

The newspaper said the recording contained the exact words attributed to Goldwater in the Aug. 29 interview, but the published quote ended before Goldwater could make a qualifying statement.

The newspaper said the interview continued with Goldwater adding the words, "I don't like that kind of thing."

Political Dissent in Rhodesia

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Wide-ranging political dissent has surfaced in Rhodesia for the first time since its unilateral declaration of independence from Britain.

Whatever the outcome of Salisbury-London negotiations to settle the constitutional dispute, Prime Minister Ian Smith faces increased opposition from outside and within his ruling Rhodesian Front party.

After indepence was declared Nov. 11, 1965, Rhodesian whites united behind "good old Smithy" against pressure from Britain, black Africa, the United Nations and the black majority in this territory.

Now serious political protest from the right and left of Smith can be heard. It promises to become louder.

On the far right is a group Smith once dismissed as "my lunatic fringe." These ultraconservative elements demand an end to negotiations, declaration of a republic, entrenched white supremacy and closer ties with South Africa.

Sewage engineer Len Idensohn bolted the Rhodesian Front in March because of what he saw as its liberal tendencies, and launched the Rhodesian national party.

Others are trying to revive the defunct Dominion party. Those who call a phone number advertised in the Rhodesia Herald are urged to band together to protect "the heritage of your children."

This group is seeking a suitable leader. Among the candidates are William Harper and Lord Angus Graham, who were dropped from Smith's Cabinet this year. Dominion party boosters also are flirting with any Cabinet ministers found unhappy under Smith's leadership.

Smith's Rhodesian Front disciplined right-winger Robin James by pushing him out of the party this year. He now sits in Parliament as an independent and insists that the whole issue revolves around "the survival of the European in Rhodesia."

The Smith party has some 10,000 members and 49 of the 65 seats in Parliament. Landlocked Rhodesia has only about 80,000 voters among its 220,000 whites and four million blacks.

To the left of Smith are a Center party, politically unaffiliated businessmen who are pressing for a settlement to end sanctions, and two weak African parties.

Percy M'Kudu, leader of the blacks' United People's Party, was disappointed that no blacks were represented at the latest British-Rhodesian negotiations.

"How can the future of this country be settled without 98 per cent of the population having a voice?" he asked.

The UPP has 11 members in Parliament and represents literate urban blacks. M'Kudu gets little support from white liberals. Many black Rhodesians once supported either the Zimbabewe African People's Union or Zimbabwe African National Union. Both are now banned and their leaders are among hundreds of Africans held in detention camps.

Unlike the two outlawed parties, the UPP believes in working for gradual progress toward majority rule within the narrow political framework allowed by the white regime.

All African parties agree on one thing: Rhodesia would be renamed Zimbabwe under majority rule and Salisbury would be known as Harare.

LOTS OF LOCK. Mrs. Sammy Vite holds a giant padlock believed to have been used around the 16th century to keep prisoners in the stocks. The lock was part of an autumn antiques fair conducted in Chelsea, England.

Gang Touch To Slayings

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A double slaying Thursday night has some aspects of a gangland execution, police believe.

Shot to death in offices of the First National Auto Leasing Corp. were Carl Hubert Miller, 24, listed as the firm's owner, and Franklin D. Anderson, 21, a janitor for the company and an amateur boxer.

A 30-man Metro police squad was assigned to the case Friday. It learned Miller was an ex-convict who was sentenced in 1963 from Buchanan County to a two-year prison term for burglary and stealing.

"We don't know exactly what was involved in the firm's operations," said Skipper Hedges, member of the Metro squad. "That's one of the things we are investigation."

Wallets of both men were in their pockets, ruling out robbery as a motive, Hedges said. There was no sign of a struggle, which gave some indication of a gangland slaying, another detective said.

Autopsies disclosed the two were killed by .32 caliber bullets of a type normally fired in an automatic pistol. Several .32 shell casings were on the floor. Miller was shot three times in the head and twice in a shoulder, Anderson twice in the head and once in the neck.

ESKIMO BOLAS

Eskimos use the bolas for catching birds. A bolas is composed of three balls connected with each other at a common center by thongs several feet long. One ball, smaller than the others, is held while whirling the bolas. The purpose is to entangle the victim rather than to kill it, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Missile Work Draws Families Here

Things are beginning to perk up around Heritage Village, long known as the Boeing Trailer Park, 16th and Thompson Blvd., as trailer homes begin to fill up the empty spaces vacated when Boeing completed its Minuteman II work here last year and moved out.

Bill Shumake, who with his wife Sylvia operate Heritage Village, said provisions have been made for 70 trailer spaces, with the possibility this number may be increased to 90. Some of the trailers have been moved in and some are occupied. The Boeing spaces are on the east side of the village, with privately-owned mobile homes located throughout the remainder of the area.

The Boeing Co. is now engaged in its third major Minuteman assignment in this area since 1961, with headquarters at Whiteman AFB. First was the construction of sites and installation of 150 Minuteman I missiles. Second was the removal of the Minuteman I missiles and the installation of the Minuteman II's.

The current project, at an extimated cost of $7,250,000 involves the modification of equipment to modernize and improve the Minuteman II stand-by power systems. This is said to involve the replacement of some 16 huge diesel power plants, among other things.

Boeing Mobile Homes

The task is being accomplished undr the direction of the Air Force's Space an Missile Organization (SAMSO). F.J. Mooney will be the Boeing Company's base manager.

Although initial field work will not being until about the middle of November, a task force of specialists has already arrived in the Sedalia and Appleton City areas to make the necessary preparations.

Some 350 Boeing employees will be assigned for the major operation, which will begin with the sites located in the Appleton City area. Actual field work, after its late fall beginning, will peak during the winter months and is expected to end early next summer.

Accompanying the Boeing families will be an estimated 100 school students, approximately 50 in high school and 50 in grade schools. The grade school students can be easily absorbed into the programs at Heber U. Hunt School, where those from the trailer park will attend.

The high school students will attend Smith-Cotton High School, where the process will not be as simple as at Heber Hunt. "These students will not create a problem," said Dr. T.J. Norris, superintendent, "they will only add to the problem of overcrowding that we already have."

Stole 'To Be Caught'

PENTICTON, B.C. (AP) — A bank clerk whose lawyer said she "stole to be caught and couldn't understand why she wasn't" pleaded guilty Friday to grand larceny in the disappearance of $492,000.

Kathleen Ann Spiller, 26, also pleaded guilty to falsifying books of the Penticton branch the Royal Bank of Canada, from which the money disappeared between April 1964 and last September.

Her lawyer, Fred Herbert, told the court his client told him she "displayed her wealth by driving to work in a $12,500 Cadillac, which she parked alongside other bank employes' cars."

Herbert said Miss Spiller pleaded guilty because she could "not go on living in the hell" in which she had been living.

Herbert said his client spent $31,000 on cars, $60,000 on a home, which she refurnished three times at an estimated cost of $130,000, and wore expensive clothes and diamond rings worth about $20,000.

Her salary was about $3,800 a year. She began working for the bank in June 1962.

On my record of service to the citizens of the Western District, I ask for your support for a second term.

To acquaint newcomers in the district with my background, I offer this brief sketch:

39 years old, a native of the Western District of Pettis County — the Hughesville and LaMonte areas. The son of Rolla Thomas, of Hughesville. My mother passed away last year. An active farmer, five miles south of LaMonte.

A veteran of the Korean Conflict. A former committeeman for Elk Fork Township.

I have attempted to represent all citizens to the best of my ability and in line with my knowledge and understanding of the needs of the district.

I earnestly solicit and will sincerely appreciate your vote in the General Election on Tuesday, November 5th.

ZEB THOMAS

State Poll Says Nixon Has Edge

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A statewide poll conducted by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat gives Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon an edge over his two opponents in the presidential contest.

The poll was taken before President Johnson announced a pause in the bombing of North Vietnam.

The poll showed 38 per cent of those queried favored Nixon. Democratic nominee Hubert H. Humphrey got 32.2 per cent, third-party candidate George C. Wallace 15.9 per cent and 13.9 per cent were undecided.

The Globe-Democrat poll indicated Democrats are in the lead in state races.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, the Democrtic nominee, polled 50.8 per cent of the vote to 32.4 per cent for Republican Lawrence K. Roos. Another 16.8 per cent of those polled were undecided.

In the contest for U.S. senator, Lt. Gov. Thomas F. Eagleton, the Democrat, got 45.2 per cent of the sample vote. Republican Thomas B. Curtis, the retiring 2nd District congressman, got 34.2 per cent, and 20.6 per cent were undecided.

Democrat Norman H. Anderson, the incumbent state attorney general, led Republican John Danforth, getting 34.3 per cent of the vote to Danforth's 27.1 per cent. There was a big undecided faction — 36.5 per cent.

The newspaper said Humphrey leads in St. Louis and Kansas City were just about offset by Nixon strength in suburban St. Louis and Jackson counties.

Wallace was strongest in southeast Missouri, running ahead of Humphrey.

Big Festival Of Lutherans In Lincoln

LINCOLN — Rev. Dr. J.A.O. Preus, president of Concordia Theological Seminary, Springfield, Ill., will be the speaker at the annual Lutheran Reformation Day festival service at 2:30 p.m. today in the Lincoln High School auditorium. Dr. Preus will speak on "The Impact of Lutheranism Upon the World of Today."

Dr. Preus

The Rev. Rolland Nothwehr and the Rev. Marcus Duchow, pastors of the host congregations in Lincoln, will serve as liturgists for the service.

A mass adult choir originating from member congregations and directed by Leonard Schnell, Cole Camp, will present a special choral anthem. Elementary school age children in attendance will, under the direction of John Fadler, join in a separate choral salute.

A public audience of over 1,000 persons, based on previous attendance figures, is expected to attend this service commemorating the 451st anniversary of the Lutheran Reformation.

Speeches, Tour Highlight College Dedication Here

The State Fair Community College dedication ceremony at the State Fair Agriculture Building begins at 2:30 p.m. Sunday and will be highlighted by speeches, flag presentations and a tour of the college.

Congressman William Randall is scheduled to speak during the 2:30 p.m. ceremony. The college will be presented a United States flag by William F. Brown, treasurer of the board of trustees and representing U.S. Senator Stuart Symington. The Missouri State flag will be presented by Joe F. Raines, representative of District 115, acting on behalf of Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

Tom Edwards, president of the SFCC Student Government Association, will deliver a welcoming address, followed by an introduction of guests by William C. Hopkins, president of the board of trustees.

Following the dedication ceremony, the American Legion Honor Guard will raise the U.S. and Missouri State flags in front of the SFCC Library building.

The flag raising ceremony will be followed by a reception in the Student Lounge. Tours of the college facilities will be guided by members of the Student Government Association.

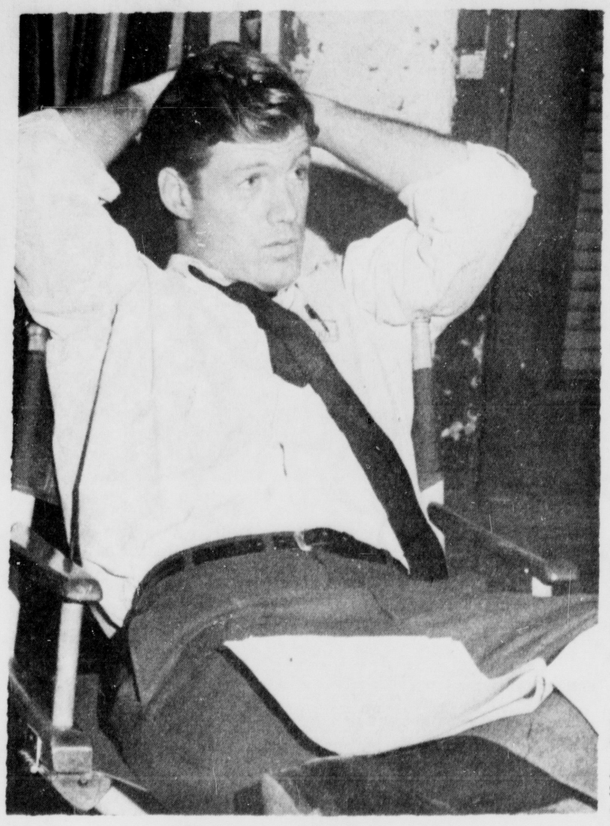
His Main Interest Is Work on Stage



TV About Town

Frank Converse ponders over his lines for an episode of ABC-TV's "N.Y.P.D." — brooding apart, he enjoys working on the series. Much of it is filmed outside the studio, and he feels location work is conducive to good acting. His own performance as one of the three leads certainly does him, and the show, credit.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There he was, that handsome, brave cop, tied helplessly to an iron support in a musty, murky cellar. He twisted his face and his body futilely under the hot lights.

The lights went off, somebody called "lunch — be back in an hour" and suddenly with feigned preoccupation, everybody started walking away.

"Hey fellas," called Frank Converse plaintively, "are you going to leave me here?"

Somebody freed the actor's wrists and the whole crew enjoyed a laugh. Practical jokes and a general air of good humor mark the making of "N.Y.P.D.," one of the few television series made in New York.

Converse, a tall, intense man in his late 20s, is one of the three leads in the series, the series now in its second season. It is shot mostly on location in the city and is based — usually with plenty of dramatic license —on actual cases.

Graduated as a drama major from Carnegie Tech in 1962, he went through a period of on-the-job training with several Shakespeare festivals from Startford, Conn., to San Diego, Calif.; moved on to stock companies and finally began picking up guest roles in television series, gradually moving up from low-budget daytime opera to "The Defenders".

"N.Y.P.D.," has had a bitter battle for survival.

Last season, it pulled such small audiences that it was scheduled for extinction. Then ABC replaced its lead-in, "The Invaders," another Nielsen disaster, with "It Takes a Thief." Enough viewers stayed tuned after the picaresque series about a good thief that "N.Y.P.D." wound up with better — still not great — ratings. It survived, barely.

This season, still following "Thief," the cop series is running into ratings trouble from a new source — "The Doris Day Show" broadcast at the same time on another network.

Converse, who was born in St. Louis, but grew up in the East, particularly likes the series because it is New York-based.

With his wife, whom he met and courted in college, and their two children, Converse lives in Manhattan's West Side Chelsea district. Each working day—five a week—he arises between 6:30 and 7 a.m. and rides a bicycle to and from work.

He jealously protects his private life and non-working hours, including weekends, and devotes himself to his family, to theater-going and projects, mostly theatrical but some socially-conscious, in which he is interested.

"What's my real interest in acting?" he asked, running a hand through his tousled blond hair. "The stage, the stage, the stage. . . ."

Mayor Ralph Walker
City of Sedalia
2nd & Osage
Sedalia, Missouri 65301

Dear Mayor Walker:

Congratulations on the great strides your City has taken in its endeavers to strengthen local democracy thru exercise of the Home Rule option available to it.

Home Rule charters, first provided for in the 1875 Constitution, have been adopted by virtually all major Missouri cities. The Missouri Municipal League has long supported the concept of Home Rule, believing that a maximum degree of local responsibility is basic for strong and effective local government. We are proud of the dedication and initiative shown by you, the members of your city council and the many interested citizens who have worked so hard to provide Sedalia with an opportunity to take this important step in community progress.

As you know, the League is continuing its efforts to broaden the local powers that the Consitutional Charter provides its municipal officials and citizens. We hope that after November 5, Sedalia will be in a position to take advantages of any broadening of Home Rule which may occur in the future.

Approval of Home Rule would indeed be an historic milestone for one of Missouri's outstanding cities.

Sincerely yours,

MISSOURI MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

SHALL A COMMISSION BE CHOSEN TO FRAME A CHARTER?

In 1945 the Constitution of the State of Missouri was changed to allow communities of 10,000 population or over the right to provide for "Home Rule". Until that time the population requirement was 100,000.

At the present time 15 Missouri Municipalities have recognized the the need for local, self government and have voted and adopted a home rule charter. They are: Berkeley - Bridgeton - Clayton - Columbia - Ferguson - Florissant - Hannibal - Independence - Joplin - Kansas City - St. Joseph - St. Louis - Springfield - University City - Webster Groves.

HOW IS IT ACCOMPLISHED?

1. At the November 5th election you will be given a ballot on which appears the question "Shall a Commission be Chosen to Frame a Charter". Also listed on the ballot are the names of 18 men who are interested in helping to write a Constitutional Charter for the City of Sedalia.
2. Vote yes for the question and also vote for 13 commissioners. The 13 men receiving the highest vote become the Commission.
3. The Commission then has one year to write the Charter.
4. At the end of that time the Charter is presented to the voters for acceptance or rejection. If accepted it becomes the Constitutional Home Rule Charter of the City of Sedalia and provides the basis for local, self government.

WHY IS A CONSTITUTIONAL CHARTER NECESSARY?

Sedalia being a city of the 3rd class is faced with many problems it has no authority to solve. State statues that authorize and control 3rd class cities are vague, extremely outdated, restrictive and make it very difficult to provide the services and carry out the responsibilities of local government. Did you know, for instance, that Sedalia has authority to license feather renovators, runners and solicitors for steamboats, omnibus drivers and street railroad cars, but cannot license manufacturers or salesmen of electronic data processing equipment or photo reproduction equipment. This is a sample of antiquated state law under which a 3rd class city is supposed to operate. To name a couple of other specific advantages annexation and the legal disposition of dangerous buildings are also easier under home rule. But more important than any particular advantage, home rule provides for a more flexible city government capable of solving modern day problems.

VOTERS HAVE MORE CONTROL UNDER HOME RULE!

Nothing can be done without voter approval. First the people decide on the question, "Shall a Commission be Chosen to Frame a Charter", then they elect the commission and then one year later accept or reject the Charter. Also amendments to the charter must be approved by the voters. Actually the people have MORE say in the way their city is operated. Home Rule therefore helps provide for the type of creative localism that every community needs.

HOME RULE IS MORE FLEXIBLE!

We have everything to gain and nothing to lose. A Constitutional Charter can be amended by a vote of the people. If something is not working the people can change it without the need of a new statute being passed by the State Legislature. Few Constitutions are perfect when first written but amendments to fit needs and requirements result in a very workable government dedicated to the best interest of the community and again, all done by voter approval.

HOME RULE IS ADVANTAGEOUS TO INDUSTRY!

Industries looking for plant sites are always interested in HOME RULE cities because it indicates a modern, progressive community in which the people are concerned about their own problems and are capable of governing themselves. To many industries Home Rule is just as important as parks, schools, churches, transportation and the many other factors that govern plant location.

HOME RULE DOES NOT MEAN HIGHER TAXES

Taxes authority is a matter of state wide concern and is controlled by the state government. New taxes or tax increases must still be voted on by the residents of the community.

HOME RULE DOES NOT MEAN CITY MANAGER

The Charter may provide for Mayor-Council, Commission, City Manager or any combination of the three. This is for the Commission to decide and the voters to accept or reject!
Home Rule Communities are Progressive Communities. Help lift Sedalia out of the third class category.

The 'Pill' Might Be Out-Dated

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—The birth control pill may be replaced soon by an injection effective up to a year, a chemist said Thursday night.

Dr. Byron Riegel of Chicago, one of the developers of the first oral contraceptive, also told a Midwest regional meeting of the American Chemical Society that a mini-pill is being sought to reduce side effects.

"Every girl really needs her own specially designed pill" Dr. Riegel said. "Research shows that the dosage can be reduced from the original 10—milligram tablet, which produced many of the side effects common to pregnancy, to a tablet of 2½ milligrams."

"In India, where the girls are less healthy and undernourished, a one-half milligram pill is too much of a dosage. The dosage varies with the population of the country."

Dr. Riegel, director of chemical research and development G.D. Searle & Co. was given a $1,000 award by the ACS.

He said the contraceptive injection would be insertion of a slow-releasing rubbery substance under the skin.

"First results show the injection would be effective for up to three months, but the new type will last up to a year," he said.

Chemists are outside the moral controversy over the use of oral contraceptives, Dr. Riegel said.

"Blaming the scientist for discovery of the birth control pill or the atomic bomb is like blaming Henry Ford every time there is an automobile accident."

Cassing, Smith Tops Among CMS Debaters

Craig Cassing, 2504 Dennis Road, a sophomore at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, and Steve Smith, another CMSC sophomore, made up the top team in the victory column of the CMS debate team after it returned from the University of Omaha's Debate tournament recently.

It was the second successive tournament in which Cassing and Smith ranked among the winners.

He made dogs, eagles, various small animals, finally a huge gorilla and a few elephants. Now he's completed a giraffe that tips the scale at several thousand pounds. CWA Poll Shows Humphrey Victor

TIPTON—Hubert Humphrey will receive more electoral votes than his two opponents in the Nov. 5 election, according to a nationwide poll conducted by the Communications Workers of America.

Virgil Koechner, Tipton, president of Local 6314, CWA, reported the results of the poll, taken Oct. 7, to The Democrat. He said the CWA has picked every winning Presidential candidate since 1948.

St. Nicholas, bishop of Myhrra, started the custom of giving gifts and hanging out stockings in the fourth century.

Ann Landers

Amorous Couple Irks Co-workers

Dear Ann Landers: A couple who met in this office three months ago have fallen in love. We are all for romance — we think it's wonderful — so please don't assume we are jealous cats. I myself am married and the two others who are helping me write this letter have attractive boyfriends.

The problem: The lovers cannot keep their hands off each other during office hours and it is sickening. Either she is nibbling on his ear by the water cooler or they are both standing by the window in the middle of the afternoon, her head nestled on his chest — just looking out at heaven knows what.

If he isn't at her desk, she's at his desk. If she goes to the file cabinet, he goes, too.

Can you suggest something? It's more than we can stand. — COLOR US NAUSEATED

Dear Nauseated: No office manager around there? If there is, something will be done about this revolting situation before long.

If not, turn your heads the other way. The love birds will probably get married and that will put an end to the kitchey-cooin'.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old girl with a problem I have never seen discussed in your column. It would not surprise me if I were the only person in the world who has it.

We live in a medium-sized town. There are very few robberies here and I don't remember the last time there was a murder within 300 miles.

My mother has the crazy idea that I should never be left in the house alone after dark. When she and dad go to meetings, or visit friends, or do evening shopping, I have to go, too. There are times when I should be doing my homework or when I'd just as soon stay home (I have no interest in visiting some of the old people they visit).

Mom has never given me a logical reason. All she says is, "I'd feel better if you came along." Please talk some sense to her. I am unable to get through. — SICK OF BEING BABIED

Dear Babied: Undoubtedly your mother is afraid that something will happen to you if you are alone in the house. Fear can be a horrible thing, particularly when there is no logical reason for it. Unfortunately you are paying a dear price for your mother's neurosis. Suggest to your father that she get professional help. And if you can possibly go away to college I urge you to do so. A mother like yours could cripple you for good.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits — the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Sex — Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped evenlope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

PAUL Wilton Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ray, 421 East 15th, was recently promoted to sergeant in the Air Force. He was also honored by being chosen as Airman of the Month, of the 426th Munitions Maintenance Squadron, where he is a missile guidance and control technician. He recently returned after serving 18 months overseas. Sgt. Ray and his wife, the former Margaret Bohon of Sedalia, now reside in Riverhead, N.Y., where he is stationed at Suffolk County Air Base.

Hand Grenade Is Discovered In KC Store

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A live hand grenade was found on a rest room floor of a three-story downtown department store Friday. All customers and clerks were asked to leave the building immediately.

Detective Charles McGinnis picked up the World War I-type device and was driven to the Seventh Street bridge of the Kansas River, with police clearing all traffic off the route.

At the bridge McGinnis pulled the activating pin and dropped the grenade into the water, where it exploded.

Police said there was no clue on why the grenade was left in the Montgomery Ward & Co. store.

In Ranks

Russell C. Phillips, son of Lloyd C. Phillips of 804 Ruth Ann Drive, has been promoted to sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

Sergeant Phillips, a precision photographic systems repairman at Offutt AFB, Neb., is a member of the Strategic Air Command.

The sergeant, a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School, attended the University of Missouri at Rolla, and the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

VOTE FOR

MORRAN D. HARRIS
DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT 116

Dear Friends:

I want to be your Representative — more important, I want to represent you and look after your interests in the State Legislature.

State Government has become big and complex. The State budget last year exceeded one and one-fourth billion dollars! A vast amount of attention, training and experience is needed to look after your interests in Jefferson City.

If I am elected, I propose to appoint an Advisory Committee of four or five men and women in each county — civic leaders without regard to politics — to help me better represent you and to keep me better informed concerning the needs and problems of the district. These men and women would be chosen from the various communities in each county.

I need your help — your support and influence, and your VOTE on election day, November 5.

Sincerely,
MORRAN D. HARRIS

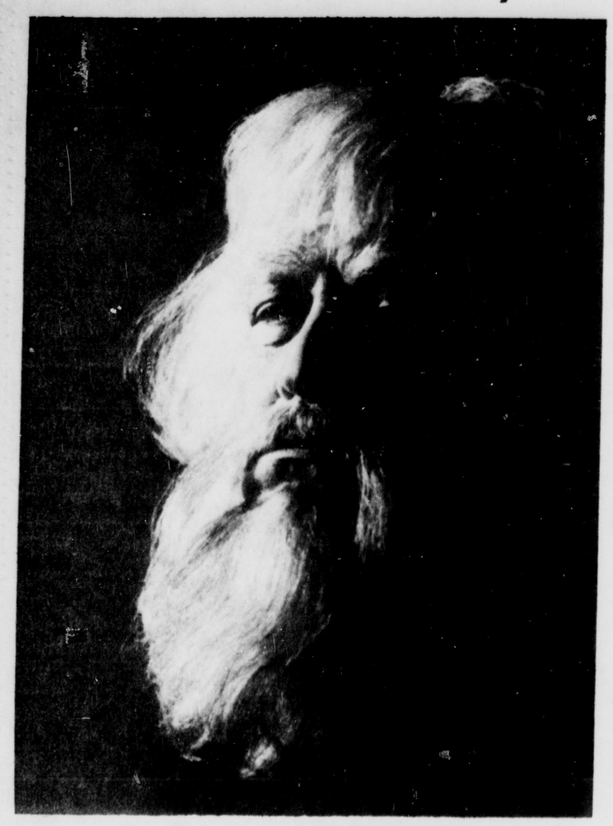
Lear Draws Actor Back to Broadway



The Lure of Lear

Lee J. Cobb is now rehearsing the title role of "King Lear." The production will open the Lincoln Center Repertory season at the Vivian Beaumont Theater. Cobb has been absent from Broadway for 15 years, doing films and TV. He was won back to do "Lear" because he feels deeply that "great plays" are badly needed in this period of shifting values. (AP)

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "In the theater now," and there was gentle grievance in the dark, familiar voice, "the actor is the only one who is expected to be a lover.

"Everyone else is practical, hard-headed. It wasn't so when I began."

This, says Lee J. Cobb, is why he's been absent from Broadway 15 years, endlessly doing films and TV that weren't nearly as gratifying. A man must eat to idealize another day, and he is a realistic romantic—"I'm not sentimental about the theater"—mildly self-mocking, accepting if not exactly liking the way the world spins.

"Very few things in movies are creatively rewarding. But the economic consideration was very much a practical step on my part. I admit it."

The man who earned stardom and enduring career identity as Willy Loman in Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" returns to the New York stage Nov. 7 in the challenge of "King Lear," his first brush with Shakespeare since apprentice days.

His reason for doing Lear?

"I think any of the great plays involves all of us so deeply, and the areas for mutual, reciprocal involvement are shrinking so fast in the world—I feel so strongly about it—that I would rather the theater replaced a good part of our diplomacy in the world."

Increasing freedom of the invididual both politically and artistically is conceded by Cobb, whose own troubles during the McCarthy era are a closed chapter, but not without some reservations.

"I think the liberalization of our times has touched the theater as well as other aspects in our lives. But concurrently, irresponsible license has encroached on our avenues of communication and expression as well. Often one is confused for the other.

"The license is the fact that anyone by virtue of his being a citizen can deliver himself of any notion, idea without fear either of bureaucratic censure or opprobrium by his colleagues. He has the right, there is no yardstick. I think it's chaos. I don't like that.

"I don't want to imply that the answer is to take his right away. No, that's part of the price—the exorbitnat price in my opinion—that we have to pay for freedom.

"We are going through a period in the arts when never has mediocrity been so disproportionately rewarded as it is now. We've got innovators today who don't known what they're revolting against."

"We are also influenced by a contempt which is politically inspired and encouraged, against our heritage. This is doing violence to our own lives."

Which brings him back to this "King Lear", and a question: does the play have particular validity today?

"The sad thing is that a question like that can be legitimately put. Because to ask that question is to be already suffering under some of the evils we touched on. Is mother love timely? If it doesn't make us squirm, is love timely?"

Cobb expects to still be developing his concept of Lear "by the time we close. The reward is in the reaching." Talk of craft technique opens up reflections on broader matters, like a man's philosophic outlook.

"The striving for perfection is not in itself a virtue. It's a good thing to instill in the young. But it isn't a virtue in itself because it can interfere with realizable goals."

Has Cobb readjusted his own sights over the years?

"Hopefully. — I admit that when I was younger I wasn't prepared to be that reasonable. You have to have gone to bed and wakened a minimum number of times to one day decide that it's not all black or white, and you've mellowed a little, grown a little more mature hope fully.

"And the result is far better —not only because you live to fight another day but because the proportions are within reasonable reach.

Political Bias

PITTSFIELD, Pa. (AP) — A sign in a sporting goods store reads: "Sportsmen and hunters! 'A vote for Wallace earns you 20 per cent discount on any of our scopes or mounts. Nixon voters get 2 per cent. Humphrey voters save your money."

War Was Shorter First Time

LONDON (AP) — The second Battle of Britain is lasting nine months at a cost of $15 million. The first one took three months, with no estimate of the expense.

The logician for "The Battle of Britain," a film re-creation of the monumental air battle of 1940 that saved England from Nazi invasion, is Harry Saltzman. He is a curious figure to be conducting a full-scale war, being a chunky, show-wise Canadian most noted for masterminding the film fortunes of spies, James Bond and Harry Palmer.

Saltzman has plunged into the project with scant regard for the hazards involved. In so doing, he showed more faith than Paramount Pictures, which dropped out of "The Battle of Britain" last year.

"Paramount got unhappy with the script," said the producer, "and decided not to go with me. That made me postpone the picture for eight and a half months, but it didn't stop me."

Filming "The Battle of Britain" 28 years after the fact was no easy matter. "One of our biggest problems was locating the airplanes," said Saltzman.

"The German planes seemed impossible to find, yet we located some Messerschmitts and Heinkels that were still being used by the Spanish government. We acquired 40 in flying condition. The Hurricanes we found everywhere; we had six that would fly and 12 to taxi. Also 20-odd Spitfires—four or five from the British government, the rest from all over the world.

"In all, we had 110 planes flying and 400 models on the ground, at 100 per cent scale."

So much for the planes. But how to reproduce wartime London and Berlin? Bombed-out London was portrayed by sections of the city under demolition. The condemned St. Catherine docks provided another locale which was devastated by the movie munitions experts. San Sebastian in Spain doubled for Berlin—"German architects planned the city in the 1920s," said Saltzman.

After two years of preparation, "The Battle of Britain" began filming last March. Saltzman hopes to conclude by Dec. 20—if he can get some blue sky.

A man of diversified experience with an excellent business background. An attorney with wide-spread knowledge in both corporate and estate work. Veteran of World War II, active in numerous civic organizations. He was appointed by the Governor to the Senate Redistricting Commission. Fully qualified for this important office.

James C. Kirkpatrick for Secretary of State

A great Secretary of State seeking a second term. Hard-working, practical executive. Modernized Blue Book, reducing costs $40,000. Saved $½ million with new records management program. Voluntarily reduced first appropriation $100,000. Secured new corporations and securities laws to better serve public. Working for modern election laws.

William E. (Bill) Robinson for State Treasurer

A lifelong resident of Missouri with a broad business background in finance management. He is making a thorough study of the State Treasurer's Office to make it of more benefit to the citizens of Missouri. Present plans include additional use of data processing equipment for greater efficiency. Equitable distribution of deposits of state funds. His experience and progressive thinking make him an outstanding candidate.

Norman H. Anderson for Attorney General

A creative, outstanding Attorney General—the architect of the first Criminal Division in Missouri's history. The first Attorney General to form a Consumer Protection Division. Former Judge and Prosecuting Attorney. Anderson is working diligently for modernized criminal laws in Missouri.

A Record of Four Years of Accomplishment

Education

State aid to education increased by more than 50% to public schools; more than 100% to higher education; more than 350% to vocational education; more than 450% to junior colleges.

Industrial Development

Through the state's industrial program, new and expanding industries have created more than 58,000 new jobs in Missouri.

Mental Health

Missouri placed in the forefront of the nation by authorization and financing for nine new regional diagnostic and treatment clinics for the mentally retarded. Eight of the clinics now in operation.

Highways

Turnpike legislation enacted, later voided by court action, and Governor Hearnes now asking the people if they want it re-enacted through a constitutional amendment.

Traffic Safety

Laws enacted to provide for mandatory breath tests for suspected drunken drivers, and to require annual motor vehicle safety inspections.

Social Welfare

Increased state support of welfare and job training programs, in line with the goal of providing job opportunities for those who can work and a decent standard of living for those who cannot.

Taxation

Taxes decreased by repeal of the 3 cent state property tax. Tax collections improved through re-organization of Department of Revenue. Through sound management and fiscal responsibility, state government services to the people of Missouri have been greatly improved—with no increase in taxes—during the administration of Governor Hearnes.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT

In Combination With The Sunday Morning Capital

Sedalia, Missouri, Sunday, November 3, 1968 — Section B

Helen Bolton Named 'Woman of the Year'

VERSAILLES — At the regular dinner meeting of the Gravois Mills Business and Professional Women's Club held recently at Wolff Harbor, Mrs. Helen Bolton, Morgan County public health nurse, was elected "Woman of the Year" in a poll of the clubs 85 members.

Qualifications for this honor must include service to the community, achievement, service to clubs and organizations, and distinction in personal characteristics.

The mother of six children herself, Mrs. Bolton is well known in the Morgan County community for her interest in the physical, emotional, and environmental problems of the children with whom she deals.

An active member of the First Baptist Church, the club's nominee teaches Sunday school classes, serves as assistant church pianist, is chairman of the mission study work, chairman of the health committee of the women's Civic Club, is a member of the American Legion Auxiliary, a member of Morgan County Historical Society, and of course, a member of BPW.

Mrs. Bolton, chairman of the home nursing division of the American Red Cross, participates in PTA, is member of the Board of Directors of the Morgan County TB Society, and a member of the Missouri Public Health Association.

Never Out of Style

Styled in the best American Mink tradition is this shirtwaist, button-down-the-front fashion (left). In Tourmaline-Emba natural pale beige mink, the gunmetal shade collar and front panel presents the perfect color complement. Leather-banded beret in the same natural beige mink tops off the now look. Big news for fall (right) is any combination of leather and mink. Here, with thin tie leather belt and sporty pockets is a great look in Tourmaline, Emba natural pale beige mink.

Epsilon Beta Sorority Extends Open Invitation

The regular business meeting of Epsilon Beta, chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, was held Monday at the home of Miss Frances Green, 1502 South Moniteau. Opening ritual was repeated by 21 of the club's 22 members.

Minutes of the last meeting, read by Miss Green, recording secretary, were approved and Mrs. Juanita England, treasurer, stated the balance of funds on hand.

Service chairman, Mrs. Barbara Blaschke, gave further report of the organization's card party-bazaar, Nov. 12 in the Sacred Heart cafeteria. She announced that members of the sorority will be automatically disqualified from winning door prizes.

According to Mrs. Blaschke and her committee, Mrs. Bina Harvey, Mrs. Carolyn Cloud, Mrs. Judi Moriarty, Mrs. Pete Holloway, Mrs. Shirley Pummill, and Miss Green, posters are nearly completed, door prizes have been donated by nearly 50 merchants, and bazaar items are being priced for sale.

Mrs. Nancy Brown, corresponding secretary, will be in charge of the formal invitations to be mailed to area women's clubs seeking their support and attendance at Epsilon Beta's annual service project for the Crippled Children's Center.

Mrs. England reported to members that the City Council Christmas Dance will be held Dec. 13. Mrs. Linda Morgan informed the club that date book calendars for Vietnam servicemen had been secured through the courtesy of Abe Warren of Warren's Pharmacy.

"Introductions and Invitations," program for the evening by Mrs. Virginia Doty, informed members of the contemporary attitude on this initial step in interpersonal relationships.

Attending the meeting in addition to regular members were Mrs. Mildred Sutherlin, sponsor, and Mrs. Madeline Gill, director. Mrs. Marilyn Wiltgen, Beta Sigma Phi, was a guest of Mrs. Harvey.

Epsilon Beta's pledge ritual will be held Nov. 18 at the home of Mrs. Bud Earls. Mrs. Harvey will co-hostess and Mrs. Cloud will present the program.

Mark Twain PTA Meets In School Cafeteria

Mark Twain PTA met Oct. 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria with Mrs. Lowell Hesterlee presiding.

The Rev. M.G. Albright, pastor of the United Church of Christ, gave the devotional, a poem on a child's viewpoint of a teacher.

Sharon Wissman, president of Flat Creek 4-H Club, was introduced by Mrs. Hesterlee and told of the many things that 4-H has to offer to the youth. She stated that membership is open to all boys and girls through the ages of nine to 19, and asked the parents and teachers to encourage the children and young people to join this worthwhile organization.

Room count was taken by Jerry Parker, principal, with the winners being the first grade, taught by Mrs. Ardelle Jones, and fourth grade taught by Mrs. Mary Ella Hausam.

Announcements made by the principal were that Mark Twain School has a new student aid teacher, Pat Davis; school will be dismissed on Nov. 7th and 8th for the Missouri State Teachers meeting, and report cards will be issued Nov. 11. He also said there will be no school Nov. 28 and 29 in observance of Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Hesterlee announced that Mr. Parker will be one of the speakers at the joint PTA Council and Parent and Family Life meeting to be held at Heber U. Hunt School Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Claude Lambirth asked for parents to help with the carnival and chili supper to be held Nov. 15. Serving will start at 5:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Mr. Parker presented Dr. T. J. Norris, superintendent of schools, who spoke on Amendment No. 1. and the Junior High School Bond Proposal.

Dr. Norris urged, when voting at the polls Tuesday, Nov. 5, to vote in favor of Amendment No. 1.

A new junior high school building is necessary and will be voted on at a special election to be held Feb. 4. Smith-Cotton is over crowded and enrollment continues to increase, Dr. Norris said. Another reason it is needed is that the State Department of Education requires that kindergarten be provided for all children.

The proposed junior high school will relieve the overcrowded conditions of Smith-Cotton since the eighth graders and possibly ninth graders will be transferred to junior high, transferred there from the elementary school would be the seventh graders making room for the kindergarten in each elementary school.

Dr. Norris stated that the required minimum size for a junior high school is 20 acres, therefore the building would need to be located at the edge of the city. A site for the proposed building has been donated.

Dr. Norris presented a picture of the proposed junior high building.

After the meeting adjourned PTA members attended the Book Fair being held in the school auditorium.

A quick chili sauce can be made by combining equal amounts of catsup and pickle relish.

A Public Service Message From Sedalia Bank & Trust

Economy of entire community is affected by the type of aircraft landing facilities available. Airports help attract new industry as well as being an important factor in retaining existing businesses.

Airports Are For People Who DON'T Fly

Frequently, people who don't fly have more compelling reasons to develop airports than do the pilots and passengers.

- Every 100 new factory jobs created in a community brings an annual personal income increase of $710,000.
- 500 corporations revealed that an airport would be essential to plant location.
- Development of an airport with reasonable facilities has historically been a factor favorably considered by business concerns.
- If bringing new business is important, then the airport is important.

Mrs. James Joseph Wolf

The Rev. Charles Nobels officiated Oct. 26 at the New Hope Baptist Church for the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Joyce Elaine Reynolds and James Joseph Wolf. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reynolds, 2510 Kay Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Wolf, 1415 East 12th.

Twin nine-branch candelabra, emerald palms, and pom pom chrysanthemums provided the setting. Miss Linda Wright, pianist, rendered the selections, "Mendelsson's Wedding March," "The Wedding Prayer" and accompanied Mrs. Nobels as she sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Dan Embree lighted candles.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire, A-line gown of Chantilly lace over silk-faced taffeta and tulle. Styled with a high scoop neck and flaring, below-elbow sleeves, a narrow fold of silk chiffon marked the lifted waist. A Watteau train of lace, topped with a bow and streamers of chiffon and framed with alternating bands of tulle and scalloped lace, extended to chapel length. Her headpiece was a jeweled crown and she carried a cascade of white carnations centered with gold cymbidiums.

Maid of honor, Miss Linda Kelley and bridesmaid, Miss Hedy Combs of Carrollton, were attired in gowns of satin brocade. The A-line designs, in a shade of gold were highlighted by shoulder bows and matching veiled headpieces. Colonial bouquets of golden pom poms were their flowers.

The groom's brother, John Wolf served as best man. Don Swearngen was groomsman and Don Grimes, Green Ridge and Dean Thomas, Hughesville, seated the guests.

For the wedding Mrs. Reynolds selected a two-piece suit in a royal blue shade. She wore black accessories. Mrs. Wolf chose a tweed ensemble with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, the couple received approximately 50 guests in the church reception hall.

Twin candelabra with golden and white tapers flanked the three-tiered wedding cake which centered the table and was trimmed in yellow roses, white beils, and topped with a miniature nuptial couple.

Serving were Miss Pat Embree, Mrs. Homer Embree, Mrs. Dorothy Olmsted and Miss Kathy Olmsted, the latter two of Shenandoah, Iowa. Miss Martha Bremer took charge of the guest book. Mrs. Ronald DeJarnette of Independence and Mrs. C. P. Kelly presided at the gift table.

For traveling to the Lake of the Ozarks, the bride wore a two-piece ensemble in her wedding color of gold.

Knobna Queen

Fruit-A Beauty Bonus

It's true. Fruit can beautify your complexion, pep it up, give it a sparkle. Try some of these recipes and you'll discover why women today still use fruit to give their skins a natural lift.

An ordinary apple is excellent for mildly de-greasing the skin. Grate a large one, add two teaspoons of lemon Jelvyn cleansing milk and spread a thick layer of the mixture over your face. Leave this pack on for 15 minutes, then wash off with warm water.

While avocado pears make delicious eating, they are also wonderful skin packs. All that is necessary is to spread the "butter" of the avocado pear over the face and leave on for 20 minutes. The beneficial effects of the rich avocado — a smoother look and a textural fineness detectable to the eye and to the touch.

Lemons have always been celebrated for their gentle bleaching action. To revive tired and dingy skin, pat on lemon Jelvyn skin freshener, a cosmetic preparation available to women the world over which combines all the goodness of beauty lemons. Another of Nature's beauty hints is to take a squeezed-out half of lemon and pour a lightly-whisked egg yolk into it. Add a squirt of lemon juice or a few drops of lemon freshener and leave this mixture for twelve hours to absorb the oil present in the lemon peel. When you are ready for a beauty treatment, smooth the mixture over your face and neck and leave on for 15 minutes. This lemon skin pack has a wonderfully tonic effect on the complexion.

Miss Raines Weds Mr. Fethke In Early Afternoon Service

In an early afternoon ceremony Oct. 19, at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Miss Janice Kay Raines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Raines, 2305 East 12th St., became the bride of Gilbert Paul Fethke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Fethke of Florence. The Rev. Henry Reichert performed the double ring vows before altar baskets of yellow and white gladiolas.

"Ave Maria," "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother," and "Panis Angelicus" provided the background music. Miss Mary Fisher, 3016 East 12th, was organist, and John Vandekamp, 406 West 7th, was soloist.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional wedding gown of silk mist taffeta featuring scooped bodice and long tapering sleeves. A tracery of pearls framed the neckline and embellished the center front bodice. From the backwaist, an attached train extended to chapel length. A lace crown decked with pearls formed her bridal headdress and she carried a cascade arrangement of yellow gladiolas and white daisies. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift from her grandmother.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Carol Raines. She wore an A-line gown of salmon pink. Ecru lace highlighted the empire wasit and she carried a cascade of yellow gladiolas. Bridesmaid, Mrs. Clara Guyman, cousin of the groom, was attired identically to the maid of honor.

Cousins of the groom, Daryl Hoffstetter and David Hoffstetter, Florence, served the groom as best man and groomsman. Ushering services were carried out by Wayne Fethke, brother of the groom and Wesley Raines, brother of the bride.

A three-piece moss green ensemble with brown accessories was selected by the mother of the bride for the wedding and the mother of the groom chose a three-piece teale blue ensemble with black accessories. Yellow gladiolas formed the corsages for both mothers.

St. Joseph's hall held the reception for 85 guests. Yellow mums and greenery decorated the serving table presided over by Miss Joyce Brosch and Miss Juanita Klein of Smithton. In charge of gifts was Mrs. Hazel Fethke, Versailles, sister-in-law of the groom. Mrs. Donna Raines, sister-in-law of the bride was in charge of the guest book.

Rice bags were passed by Miss Cathey Fethke, niece of the groom, Miss Carrie Raines, niece of the bride, and Masters David and Donald Raines, nephews of the bride.

For traveing to Southern Missouri and Arkansas the bride chose a navy A-line styled dress with silver accessories. She wore a corsage of white gladiolas.

The bride is employed by the Bothwell Hospital and the groom by the Clarkson Construction Company.

On Sept. 5 the bride-elect was honored with a personal shower by Miss Carol Raines and Mrs. Susan Brosch at the home of Mrs. Brosch.

Mrs. Mary Dedrich and Mrs. Lotus Combs honored the bride with a miscellaneous shower Oct. 4.

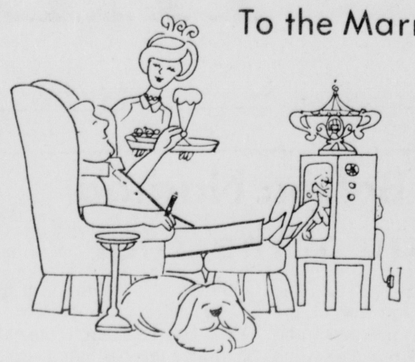
A Married Woman's Guide To the Married Man



NEW YORK (ED) — Once upon a time, Married Man ruled his household, there was no doubt about that. In the dear, dead Victorian days Father took his ease each evening in Morris chair or porch swing with a fine cigar for company, while the player piano plinked out "By the Waters of the Minnetonka."

It was a time when Married Woman respected Married Man for his knowledge, and with grandiose expertise he could lecture learnedly on the state of the world. He knew for a certainty that Tripoli pirates weren't worth one red cent and how the Cannibal Islands were to be avoided by fat travellers at all costs. (He did not like to be pressed on the exact location of the Cannibal Islands.)

Married Woman listened with admiration (or at least simple patience) while Married Man brought all his superior wisdom and prescience into play. Then, his authoritative cigar expended, Married Man mounted to his bed chamber for the night.

Well, today it's all different, you can bet your tintype. We've come at last to an emancipated age where everything is hip or mod or smashing and groovy — and even our leisure is taken at 100 miles an hour. We've lost the capacity for simply resting our bones and nerves.

And who bears the brunt of this? Married Man. After a hard day at the bitter wars of business, he comes home to be greeted by a belligerency of martinis served in jolly floral jelly glasses, followed by a dinner of warmed over greens and a tired hamburger, all to be drunk and eaten with the snaps, snarls and shrieks of the children, the whine of the dog and the blather of the TV.

Comes the morning! The doomsday cries of the newscasters ring out over the crackle and crunch at the breakfast table and everywhere there are devilments and dire warnings. Beware! Caution! Hazardous! Take only as directed!

Is it any wonder that Married Man sometimes marches off to his daily duties with tremblihg fingers and a face the color of modeling clay?

Before a marriage is ready for His and Her earplugs, however, there are some sly tricks to be considered. For example, when Married Man comes home, disarm him by celebrating his return. Encourage the children to whistle him up the walk and teach the dog to dance the jig. Greet him at the door with a welcome smile — and a rose in your teeth.

Next, escort him to his own special corner of the house -- a place free from children, dogs and garrulous neighbors, where he can surround himself with his comforst and masculine conceits. A soft chair, a place to prop the feet, a table for food and drink, books, newspapers, TV and an ashtray nearby — ah, the pleasures of Married Man are simple.

In food, too, cater to the Masculine Caprice rather than the Feminine Mystique. Learn to speak the language of robust stews, sausages, thick soups and red flannel hash. Surround him with fresh salads and startle apathetic appetites with home made ice cream or the continental desserts of fresh fruit and cheese.

And after diner, what better pleasure than a good cigar. Help Married Man to appreciate it with man-sized ash trays, the proper lighter and a humidor. As he surrounds himself with the rich aroma—his image is secure. A sense of well-being steals over Married Man. All is well.

And perhaps in the evening's quiet, you shall hear him murmuring a gentle reverie, his own paraphrase of the poet: "I could not love thee, dear so much-Loved I not also my cigar."

Powder sachet, in your favorite fragrance, in the vacuum cleaner bag does away with dust smell.

ANNOUNCING the engagement of their daughter, Miss Connie Lynn Brenton, are Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Brenton of California. On Nov. 30 Miss Brenton will become the bride of Bob Kendrick, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Knipker of Clarksburg, and the late Lee Roy Kendrick. The bride-elect, a graduate of California High School, is associated with Ralston-Purina. Kendrick, a graduate of Clarksburg High School, farms in the Prairie Home area.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Oehrke

Miss Judy Templeton Weds Richard Oehrke in Evening

In an early October ceremony at the Immanuel United Church of Christ, Miss Judy Templeton became the bride of Richard Oehrke. The Rev. M. G. Albright performed the 8 p.m. double ring service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Templeton of Nelson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Oehrke of Florence.

Misses Peggy and Pam Templeton in orange velvet A-line dresses lighted candles and Mrs. Keith Maynard at the organ, provided the customary bridal selections.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire, A-line gown of French lace over silk faced satin. The heightened bodice was designed with long tapering sleeves and a small cowl collar of satin. An unfitted tentling skirt was accented at the hem with a satin band and from high at the back, an attached Watteau panel lengthened to a chapel train. Her headdress was a lace coronet which held her elbow veil of imported illusion and she carried a bridal bouquet of orange roses.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Linda Templeton. Both she and bridesmaid, Miss Louise Stockman wore street length gowns of A-line design featuring empire waistline and baby doll sleeves. Flower girl, Miss Jamie Templeton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Templeton of Marshall was dressed in a white satin skimmer with orange lace overdress.

Jerry Meyer of Mora served as best man while Charles Boltmeir was groomsman. Ushering duties were carried out by Jesse Templeton of Marshall and Bob Zimmerschied.

Following the ceremony the couple received 150 guests in the church reception hall. The bridal table, centered with a three-tiered wedding cake frosted in orange roses and topped with a miniature nuptial couple, was presided at by Mrs. Shirley Swift, Mrs. Ada Hare, Lee's Summit, and Mrs. Thelma Gentry, Marshall, all sisters of the bride.

The bride, a 1967 graduate of Marshall High School, attended the Sedalia School of Hairdressing and is employed at the A&B Beauty Salon. The groom, graduating in 1962 from Smithton High School, is employed by the Quality Body Shop. The couple resides in Sedalia.

Nautilus Club Hears Sedalia Choral Group

Special guests were the Green Ridge Federated Club, Knob Noster Federated Club, LaMonte Friendship Club, and the Houstonia Federated Club.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by members of the LaMonte Scout troop. The program was then presented by the Sedalia Men's Choral Club under the direction of John Vandekamp.

A receptive audience listened for more than an hour to the talented group, singing a variety of numbers including such selections as, "This Is My Country," "America the Beautiful," "Sound of Music" and "Bali Hai."

The program was highlighted by the choral group calling for a duet from their director, John Vandecamp and Al Domingue.

The Nautilus Club served punch to the audience from a table covered with a lace cloth over gold and centered by a floral arrangement of gold and white (the club's colors) mums.

The entertainment was under the direction of the program committee, Mrs. Hugo Kappelman, Mrs. Vernon McMullin, Mrs. Marion Bishop and Mrs. Clay Curtis.

Gas Charge Refunds To Customers

Refund checks totaling $202,000 will be mailed customers of Missouri Public Service Company in 11 cities whose natural gas is now supplied by Cities Service Gas Company.

Clinton, Marshall and Sedalia are the cities in this area served by MPS which will receive refunds based on gas consumption during 1967. The refunds are being made under the direction and approval of the Public Service Commission of Missouri.

The $202,000 in refunds are a result of a settlement of five different rate cases filed by Cities Service with the Federal Power Commission. $202,000 represents the difference in the rate increases requested by Cities Service and the amounts allowed by the Federal Power Commission.

The individual refund checks are based on metered gas consumption in the year 1967. No refunds are made where the amount is 50 cents or less.

Budget Cuts Are Hurting Program

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hard-pressed Pentagon economizers have been forced to make small but potent ally crippling cuts in the program to develop a vessel capable of rescuing submarines trapped at great depths.

Specialists say the $5-million cut that leaves $74 million in the Navy's "deep submergence" project for this year takes away money earmarked for unexpected problems that usually crop up during a development process.

"It makes it much more difficult to solve current problems," one official said. "It eliminates the 'elbow room' in the development program."

The new cut was made as Pentagon authorities sought to meet a congressional order to trim spending by $6 billion this year.

About a year ago, while preparing the fiscal 1969 budget, Defense Department officials denied the Navy some $90 million to complete the final four boats of a planned force of six special rescue subs designed to operate to a depth of nearly a mile.

Current rescue equipment, dating back more than a generation, is unable to assure rescue of submarine crews beyond 300 feet.

The original plan, announced more than two years ago, was to have a worldwide rescue system of six special subs by 1970.

The budget squeeze has knocked that schedule off the track.

The first of the new class of rescue subs is now expected to be ready in 1970, the second boat in 1971 and prospects for the final four boats were cloudy.

The loss of the atomic submarine Thresher in April 1963 triggered major interest in modernizing the Navy's antiquated rescue equipment.

Interests in that program took another upward turn after a second nuclear powered submarine, the Scorpion, vanished with a crew of 99 officers and men last May enroute from the Mediterranean to Norfolk, Va.

The fate of the Scorpion—if it is known—has not been made public.

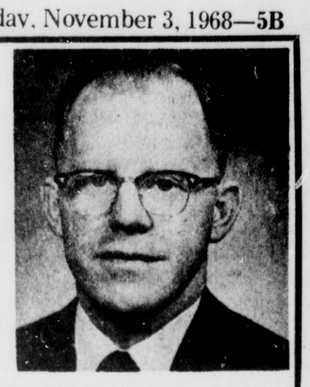
WE SHOULD VOTE FOR

MORRAN D. HARRIS

FOR REPRESENTATIVE 116th DIST.

Because:



MORRAN D. HARRIS

He believes in good education for our children.

He believes in adequate old age assistance for our old folks.

He believes in law and order in a democratic society. He does not believe in coddling of criminals, nor in government by demonstration. (Neither does he favor laws, such as gun legislation, which unduly hamper law abiding citizens without helping to prevent crime.

He believes in good laws and law enforcement and in the principles of Christian morality and decency in the making of laws.

He is qualified by training and experience to represent us and look after the interests of the entire district. He has proposed to appoint an Advisory Committee of five men and women in each county, without regard for politics, to help him better represent us and to keep him better informed concerning the needs and problems of the district. (See map)

Each of our communities would be represented on this advisory committee. Mr. Harris would have a better contact with us and a better understanding of our problems, and we would have a direct contact with our state government.

Mr. Harris is now serving on Governor Hearnes' 15 member Election Laws Study Commission.

In 4 years service as a legislator he never missed a roll call or failed to cast a vote.

Missionaries to India Must Combat Supicions

NEW DELHI (AP) — Darkening clouds of suspicion and hostility are settling over Christian missionaries in parts of India.

Though long the target of nationalist groups, missionaries operated fairly freely when Jawaharial Nehru's Congress party was in almost total control of India's state governments.

The erosion of Congress power and the emergency of less secular-minded parties to positions of influence have soured the atmosphere for missionaries in several states.

The Congress-run central government maintains Nehru's fairly tolerant though watchful attitude.

A Home Ministry spokesman says foreign missionaries already in India will be allowed to stay "so long as we don't have anything against them."

No new missionary will be allowed to enter the country unless an Indian Christian is unavailable to do his job, he adds.

This means that few new missionaries are coming to India. The total number of foreign missionaries has remained roughly at 5,000 for five years.

The treatment of missionaries in states where the militant pro-Hindu Jana Sangh party has taken root is less tolerant. It has called for throwing all foreign missionaries out of the country.

In Madhya Pradesh State, where the Jana Sangh is a major partner in a non-Congress coalition, the government recently made it an offense to convert a person by "force, allurement or other fraudulent means."

Introducing the bill, the Madhya Pradesh home minister, Jana Sanghi, charged that Christian missionaries were deceitfully converting the state's non-Hindu tribal hill people.

He claimed there is a Christian conspiracy to create a "belt of antinational forces" throughout eastern India which the next-door state of Orissa already had challenged by enacting a similar bill last December.

The reference to a "belt" of Christian influence touches an issue that troubles not only the Jana Sangh.

The problem, simply put, is that the powerful Christian missionary influence among the hill peoples of eastern India has had a political effect.

Operating for decades in northeastern Assam and Nagaland, missionaries are widely supposed to have imparted to the hill peoples a high literacy rate — and a consciousness of their difference from the predominantly Hindu population of the plains.

This estrangement, possibly furthered by hardly created by the missionaries, smouldered and then erupted in guerrilla warfare in two heavily Christianized areas, Nagaland and the Mizo hills.

The Indian army is trying to quell the two rebellions, which may be aided by Pakistan and Communist China.

Last month the Indian government granted a substate status to the restless, largely Christian hill peoples of Assam—excluding the Mizos—in an attempt to keep them from resorting to guerrilla action.

John Loudon MacAdam, Scottish engineer for whom macadam is named, fathered the good roads movement in England in 1815.

Uses Cloakroom

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Beryl Louis Murry, 8, had a long day at school Thursday. It didn't end until 7:50 a.m. Friday.

She failed to come home from school Thursday and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Murry notified police. They searched the neighborhood and school grounds.

Dangerous Exploits Continue

NEW YORK (AP) — Blockade-running church agencies have stepped up their risky night flights of food to embattled Biafra, but it's still not enough to avert one of the worst human catastrophes of modern times, says a priest who has traveled that treacherous route from the first.

"There's no diaster of the 20th century to compare with what's happening to the people there apart from Hitler's slaughter of the Jews," says the Rev. Dermot Doran, a Catholic missionary and coordinator of relief flights to the hungry area.

By conservative, on-the-scene estimates, at least a million Biafrans have died of starvation in the last four months, and Father Doran says nearly that many more are likely to die by the year's end unless bigger planes are obtained to increase the cargoes.

"We're getting the stuff in, and we've increased the number of flights to 10 a night, averaging a daily total of 100 tons of supplies," he says. "But it's not nearly enough. The need is about 10 times that—about 1,000 tons a day. And we can't get it in without heavier transport. That's absolutely vital."

Working together, Protestant, Orthodox, Jewish and Catholic agencies are pouring in aid from many countries to the offshore West African island of Sao Tome, he says, and flying it by night into the besieged region, shrinking under pressure of Nigerian federal troops.

"It's the great example of practical ecumenism that has ever taken place in history," Father Doran says. "All the churches are united in this. But we have to operate like bootleggers under constant threats. Our planes get shot at all the time. Some of them come back with holes in the wings and belly."

Here on a quick trip to fill in church leaders on the situation, he says the urgent need is some larger cargo planes to take over the night runs from the smaller, chartered by the churches from five private companies.

"About the only one who has the larger C130s is the U.S. government, other than one commercial firm and it wants $1.5 million a month to charter one of them," he says. "No church agency has that kind of money. We're getting plenty of foodstuff from church people, if we only had a way to move it quickly enough."

He says appeals have been made to President Johnson and the U.S. State Department about the matter, but with no response so far.

"It's purely a humanitarian cause, without any politics attached to it," he said.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

A vote for names of candidates for president and vice-president is a vote for the electors of that party, the names of whom are on file with the secretary of state.

On receipt of his ballot the voter shall forthwith, and without leaving the enclosed space, retire alone to one of the voting booths so provided, and shall prepare his ballot for voting in the following manner:

Should the voter desire to vote a "straight" party ticket he shall place a cross (X) mark in the circle immediately below the party name.

If the voter desires to vote for one or more candidates on more than one party ticket, by voting what is commonly called a "split ticket" he may place a cross (X) mark in the circle immediately below one party name and mark cross (X) marks in the squares at the left of the names of candidates on other tickets for whom he wishes to vote; if the voter desires to vote for one or more candidates whose name or names do not appear on the printed ballot he may do so by drawing a line through the printed name of candidate for such office, and writing below such canceled name the name of person for whom he desires to vote, and placing a cross mark in the square at the left of such name. The squares so marked shall take precedence over the cross marked in the circle.

Where there are two or more candidates for like office in a group, a cross (X) mark in the square to the left of a candidates name automaticaly votes against the candidate whose name appears within the same horizontal lines in the column under the circle in which appears the cross (X) mark, unless the voter indicates another candidate to be voted against by drawing a line through such candidate's name.

All candidates of the party whose circle is marked shall be counted as voted for excepting where squares are crossed preceding the names of the candidate in other columns. If two or more acndidates for the same office are thus designated, neither shall be counted. If the cross (X) is not placed in the circle immediately below the party name at the head of the column, but does appear in the squares opposite the various candidates' names, then only these names shall be counted for, and none other. A cross (X) mark is any line crossing any other line at any angle within the voting space, and no ballot shall be declared void because a cross (X) mark therein is irregular in form.

It shall not be lawful to deface or tear a ballot in any manner nor to erase any printed name (except as provided above in this section), figure, word or letter therefrom, nor to erase any mark made thereon by such voter, nor enclose in the folded baallot any other paper or any article. If the voter deface or tear a ballot, or wrongly mark the name or make erasure there, he may obtain one additional ballot on returning to a judge in charge of ballots the one so defaced or wrongly marked.

A ballot placed in the ballot box without any marks shall not be counted. Ballots shall be counted only for the person for whom the marks thereon are applicable; when a voter place a mark against two or more names for the same office, and only one candidate is to be chosen for the office, none of the candidates shall be deemed to have been voted for and the ballots shall not be counted for either such candidate.

Before leaving the booth the voter shall fold his ballot in such a manner as to conceal his marks thereon. He shall mark his ballot without undue delay. He shall then hand the ballot to the judge of election selected to take ballots. The voter shall quit and leave said enclosed place as soon as possible.

Vote Other Ballots, Too

Voting to elect men to public office in the general election November 5 is a prime consideration of the electorate. Emphasis on this phase of it naturally is receiving major publicity.

However, there are other matters of concern state-wide as well as locally.

Resubmission of the airport bond issue should receive every voters favorable attention. The majority of people want this expansion as a means of promoting the economic and industrial interest of the community.

For Pettis countians, the bond issue for a new jail has been thoroughly explained as an acceptable project. The jail issue has long been neglected and is as bewhiskered as a Rip Van Winkle. The time to act on this is November 5. Further delay is preposterous.

Voters are cautioned not to throw away two other ballots which pertain to Constitutional Amendments. Both need a favorable vote.

Amendment No. 1 would lower the percentage of votes required to approve municipal and school district general obligation bonds from the present two-thirds requirement to 60 per cent. This is a step forward which had it been effective last September would have qualified the Sedalia airport bond issue then.

Moreover, Amendment No. 1 would reduce the requirements for revenue bonds from four-sevenths to a simple majority and would add sewage systems, stadiums, exhibition halls and bridges to the purposes for which cities may issue revenue bonds.

Our bonding procedures are antiquated. Therefore, favorable votes to modernize them in conformity with requirements of the times is generally accepted as practical.

Along the same line of constitutional simplifications is Amendment No. 2. It provides for the filing of state income tax returns and the synchronization of them with federal returns without any increase in the overall tax. In any case it will eliminate the necessity of making double computations of state and federal returns.

Anything that will make this job easier ought to appeal to the taxpayers and induce them to vote for this amendment.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Conflicts of Interest in Past

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — There is an important principle involved in the conflict of interest revelations disclosed by the New York Times regarding Gov. Spiro T. Agnew. There is also an important parallel between Agnew's conflict and the revelations by the New York Post regarding the conflict of interest of a previous vice president — Richard Nixon.

Mr. Nixon can't charge that it is gutter politics to review the facts, because they arose in 1952 in the matter of his $18,000 expense fund and in 1960 in the matter of the $205,000 Howard Hughes "loan" to Don Nixon, which has never been paid back. So this is no last-minute charge, but rather a diagnosis of an important principle.

That principle is whether there shall be two standards of ethical conduct, one for those running for the highest offices in government, another for lesser officials.

To illustrate: When Robert McNamara was up for confirmation as Secretary of Defense, he was required to sell around $1 million worth of Ford Motor Company stock. And when Charles E. Wilson became Secretary of Defense in the Eisenhower administration, he was required to sell $2 million worth of General Motors stock.

It was not that the Senate distrusted either McNamara or Wilson. They were known to be honorable men. It was, rather, the principle that no public official should be in a position of a conflict of interest.

Likewise with Gov. Agnew's stock interest in the Chesapeake National Bank while he was administering the banking laws of Maryland and the deposit of state funds in private banks; also with Nixon's personal fund when he was a senator, and the Howard Hughes $205,000 loan when Nixon was vice president. Nixon gave the excuse in the first instance that he used the $18,000 for office expenses; in the second case, that his brother faced bankruptcy. Others have faced bankruptcy but have not had a brother who was vice president and whose influence helped them get a largely unsecured loan.

—Truman Got Headlines—

I was instrumental in exposing some minor conflicts of interest during the Truman administration, including hams, mink coats, deep freezes. I am quite sure that President Truman extended no favors to the company which gave Gen. Harry Vaughan a deep freeze for Mrs. Truman. But the newspapers headlined the gift and the editorial writers ate it up.

Newspapers during the Nixon $18,000 expense fund revelation were far more restrained. The Omaha World-Herald buried the story on page 52. As a result, and also because of an emotional Nixon telecast, the public had no idea of the extent to which Nixon performed favors and cast his vote in the Senate to benefit the contributors to his fund.

He intervened at the Justice Department on behalf of the tax problems of Dana Smith, who had raised the $18,000 for him. He intervened with the American ambassador in Havana on behalf of Dana Smith after he incurred a $4,000 gambling debt at the Sans Souci Casino and defaulted on his check.

Nixon voted right down the line in favor of the oil companies, and even sent out copies of Tidelands Oil literature under his own frank. Fifteen of the contributors to his expense fund were oilmen.

Eleven of Nixon's donors were big real eatate men. Nixon, in turn, voted to cut public housing from 50,000 to 500 units; voted to shorten rent controls by four months; finally, introduced an amendment to the defense bill aimed at sidetracking public housing.

It has been the failure of Congress to vote funds for public housing and slum clearance which has contributed materially to the present decay of the big cities and to crime in the streets. Mr. Nixon is now critical of crime in the streets, and proposes public housing to help remedy the plight of the cities. But as a senator he voted with the real estate men who contributed to his secret fund.

—Private Oil Bill—

Two of Nixon's contributors were Tyler Woodward and William O. Anderson, who had filed applications for a lease to explore for oil on a military reservation, Camp Roberts, Calif. They found that oil exploration was not permissible on U. S. Military property. Whereupon Nixon introduced a bill, S-1029, which would permit private individuals to stake out oil leases on military property.

The public, of course, had no way of knowing what Sen. Nixon's motives were in introducing his private bill. Nor had they any way of knowing who had contributed to his expense fund, or even that such a fund existed — until one courageous newspaper, the New York Post, revealed it.

The public also had no way of knowing what influenced Nixon's voting record in the Senate. A senator is paid by all the people and is supposed to represent all the people of the United States, not a private group which secretly subsidizes him.

The issue of Gov. Agnew's current conflict of interest and Nixon's past conflicts of interest, is therefore, extremely important. And the public has a right to know about them. They cannot be brushed aside by a threat of a libel suit against the New York Times, or a Nixon charge that "this is the lowest kind of gutter politics." Nor should they have been smothered by an emotional telecast as was the case when Nixon ran for vice president the first time.

Guest Editorial

OAKLAND (Calif.) TRIBUNE: A Formula. — The search for "identity," for a definition of the student's proper role in campus affairs has become a big part of college life for many student activists.

Like many other current social challenges, this confusion over the student's rightful place on campus has escalated into a major topic for formal seminars, conferences and institutes. At one such gathering recently, the problem of defining the proper order of things in the academic community was summed up by Dr. Arthur Turner, a political science professor at the University of California's Riverside campus. In his talk at the San Diego College Institute on World Affairs, Dr. Turner said: "I believe that professors are there to teach, administrators are there to administer and students are there to learn."

At the risk of offending the sophisticated liberal community with a simple solution to a complex problem, our reaction to Dr. Turner's formula is a hearty "Eureka!"

In nineteen short words, Dr. Turner has put the problem of the campus pecking order in its proper perspective.

A student or faculty militant who disagrees with that interpretation of his primary campus function should be gently informed that he has flunked out.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q — I received an extension of time to file my return and now I'm billed for interest on my taxes. Why is that?

A — The extension of time to file you received only waives the penalty for not filing your return by the original due date. Under the law, interest at the rate of 6 percent per year must still be paid on any taxes paid after the due date.

Q — I receive a small sum each month to cover the expenses of a foster child I have taken into my home. Is this money taxable?

A — These payments do not have to be reported as income unless they exceed the cost of the support you provide the child.

If the amount you contribute to the child's support is more than the payments you receive, then the child may qualify as your dependent. To qualify as a dependent, the child must be a member of your household and live with you the entire year, in addition to meeting the other tests for dependency.

Q — I've been supporting my mother since she retired last fall. Can I claim her as a dependent?

A — If your mother had gross income of $600 or more last year you cannot claim her as a dependent. Check the 1040 instructions for full details on the dependency tests.

The only genuine educated hog can be seen at the railroad depot every morning. The hog is always on time, and as soon as the trains are all in, it goes about seeking what it may devour. It manages to pick up a good breakfast, then retires to the nearest mud puddle to sleep until the next train. The Missouri Pacific time table will change pretty soon and confuse this educated hog who may get run over by miscalculation of accustomed arrival time of the trains.

FINDING THE WAY

Endure Situations? Yes! But Accept Them? No!

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What's an acceptable way of life? The ancient prophet Isaiah said that, among other things, he had been sent to "proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord." That meant justice for mankind, compassion for the suffering, liberty for the imprisoned and a new sense of godliness. This was to be proclaimed!

Our problem is that so much that we know to be wrong is still accepted. It isn't that we believe the situation to be right. We can't justify slums, lack of educational facilities, slaughter on the highway, our own personal problems of a bad temper or slovenliness. It's just that we decide that we can't do anything about these things and so, for us, they become acceptable.

Take the ugly issue of war. These have been weeks which have surrounded us with the possibility of increasing horror. We are all willing to say that war is wrong. Yet we live in a time of war psychosis when we accept war.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., asks for all-out war and too many of us applaud. To make war acceptable is to insist that the language of violence and military power are the only forms of language that can be understood. If you believe that, then diplomatic efforts such as United Nations, as well as every other form of international discussion, are cynical shams. Even those who wage war ought to insist that war is wrong. This isn't a matter of being a "hawk" or a "dove." It's just recognizing tragedy. War is the tragedy of a failure; it ought not to be baptized as "the acceptable year of the Lord."

Then there is the problem of pollution. I'm astonished at the numbers of good citizens who assume that pollution is the natural by-product of civilization and therefore there's nothing that can be done about it.

It is only because some dedicated heroes of the past decided to do something about slavery or child labor or polio or any number of such disasters that men were jolted from the mind-set of accepting the tragedy.

Marcel Quoist, the interesting French priest who jogs our consciences, writes, "Would you dare to say: 'I didn't beat my wife this week; I didn't put poison in her food . . . therefore I love her?' Then don't say, 'I did nothing to hurt my neighbor this week . . . therefore I love him. I've fulfilled the law.'

"The Lord has commanded us not only not to do evil to our neighbor (the pagans do as much) but to love our neighbors as ourselves . . .

"If you are more gifted, if you are more resourceful or virtuous than your neighbor, then you ought to help him in every possible way to become capable of helping himself. There is no end to loving others."

We may have "to put up" with all too many tragedies in these days. But to accept them is intolerable.

The free-wheeling Canadians stopped at four clubs with the North-South cards while the even more free-wheeling Australians went on to five.

The bidding in the box is when Dick Cummings of Australia sat South. We aren't exactly sure of the significance of North's one no-trump but, in any event, Dick did bid four clubs with his four-card suit and we assume that it showed some sort of tremendous club support with little defense against the opposition.

North carried on to five clubs and West opened the three of spades. East won the trick with the king and returned the deuce of hearts. South ducked and West took his king. West returned a heart to declarer's ace.

Cummings led a diamond to dummy's king and led a club. East false-carded with the 10 but that did no good. Cummings thought things over carefully and noted that East had failed to open the bidding but had shown up with the ace and king of spades and probably with the jack also. (West would lead the queen from queen-jack.)

The Canadian style does not allow for a pass with the king of clubs also, so Dick played his ace and hoped. His hopes were realized. The king dropped.

We don't like to criticize players at any time, but we do feel that East was careless when he played the king of spades at trick one. Had he played the ace he would have fooled his partner. West would assume that South held that spade king. At the same time, the foolery could not possibly cost West anything. There weren't going to be any more spade tricks for the defense in any event.

After that ace play, things would have proceeded in the same fashion and it is possible that South would still have dropped West's king of clubs. We will never know.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Who published the first newspaper cartoon in America?

A—Benjamin Franklin in his Pennsylvania Gazette in 1754. The illustration depicted the colonies as the parts of a dissected snake. The caption read, "Join or Die."

Q—What favorite pastime of the Middle Ages is still an official state sport in the United States?

A—Jousting, the official state sport of Maryland.

Out of the Past

Isn't it strange how friendships last,
Sudden returns from out of the past,
People forgotten as the years skimmed
O'er by the present, the past is so dimmed,
Someone from my youth who one day appears
A boy I dated in teenage years,
He smiled and memories once more came alive
And fun with the small car that he used to drive;
A few old pictures that always bring smiles,
How dressed up we were in those funny styles,
A letter from someone long ago that we knew
But scarcely a thought of since school days were through,
But it's fun to awaken the memories a bit,
The years have piled up I have to admit,
Somehow they've a habit of going too fast,
We live in the present and let slip the past
Till someone comes along you know to remind you
Of some of the fun that you've left behind you.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Exercise Is Valuable To Osteoporosis Victim

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q — What are the symptoms of osteoporosis? Is it inherited? Is there any cure?

A — In mild cases there are no symptoms. When the disease is advanced there may be spontaneous fracture of the involved bones, usually a vertebra and, as a result, some deformity. This is often the first indication of osteoporosis or demineralization of the bones.

When a vertebra collapses there may or may not be severe pain. Because the victim often has an exaggerated idea of the seriousness of this condition he may demand immobilization in a brace or cast for a prolonged period. Unfortunately, this causes an atrophy of disuse in the bones and may aggravate the condition.

The disease is frequently seen in women who are in or past the menopause. It may also be caused by a calcium deficiency, or sedentary habits. The only hereditary forms — osteogenesis imperfecta and Ehlers-Donlos syndrome — are diseases of children.

In women who are past 50, female hormones, fluorides and calcium salts are used to treat this disease. These measures should be supplemented by a program of gradually increasing exercise.

Q — Are osteoarthritis and osteoporosis similar? Are they very painful?

A — There are many diseases beginning with osteo which means bone. They are unrelated and often painful.

Q — What is myasthenia gravis? What causes it? What is the treatment?

A — This is a deficiency disease in which the body lacks acetylcholine, the chemical needed to make the muscles contract. Weakness and easy fatigability are the chief symptoms. Although the underlying cause is not known, infections, emotional stress, alcohol, loss of sleep and menstruation may aggravate or trigger an attack. Spontaneous remissions often occur and this makes it difficult to evaluate the results of treatment.

Neostigmine and pyridostigmine will control but will not cure the disease. Many patients have been markedly improved by removal of the thymus. In some victims who do not respond to the usual drugs or the operation, hydrocortisone gives good results.

Q — In a recent column you said that chilling the abdomen would aggravate colitis. Would this include drinking ice-cold beverages and eating ice cream?

A — Yes. In persons with a very sensizive colon, eating and drinking very cold things will cause cramps and diarrhea if they are taken rapidly and in quantity.

Democrat Pickups

The nine-months-old baby was visiting in the home of relatives and was in her play pen when her cousin, ten-months-old arrived. The babies had never seen each other before but at once they became friendly and laughed and talked to each other, one on the inside of the play pen the other outside. The grownups didn't have the least idea what they were talking about, but as long as they knew it didn't make any difference. If the one on the inside dropped a toy on the outside of the play pen the other picked it up and handed it back to her. It seemed such a natural thing of simply getting along together that an aunt wondered why such good will toward everyone had to wear off as they got older.

H. L.

During a dinner meeting a man left for a few minutes and returned with a band-aid.

"What are you going to do with that?" someone asked.

"A piece of metal scratched my wife's leg," he explained, "and I'm going to put it on the scratch." He sat down and, under the tablecloth attempted to put it on for her but he must have been getting the table leg for he commented, "Your leg never felt like that before."

She was embarrassed and finally in desperation exclaimed: "I'll put it on myself!" And she did.

Now, 'Engineered Food'

A biochemist has isolated a protein which he believes gives the tongue the ability to detect bitter tastes. If the chemical structure of the protein can be identified, it would be possible for chemists to manufacture tasteless "dummy" substances that would combine with the bitter-sensitive protein and nullify it.

Such substances could be added to foods to disguise their bitter taste and thus make gourmet dishes out of such highly nutritious but bitter foods like fish flour and the tropical fruit, cassava. This kind of "food engineering," he predicts, could go a long way toward solving the world's food shortage.

Another old adage is headed for the junk heap. Thanks to science, we may no longer have to take the bitter with the sweet in life, at least not at the dinner table.

Now, if they will only do something about the rain that falls on the just and the unjust alike.

'Toeing' the Right Line Is Important

By JOY STILLEY
(For HAL BOYLE)

NEW YORK (AP) — To get anywhere in this life, you have to toe the line. What's more, you have to toe the right line.

I can never find the right line, which is why I never get anywhere—in banks, in groceries, in department stores, at theater box offices.

Everybody knows that, contrary to all logic, the shortest line always takes longest. Going on this assumption, I never avail myself of what appea s to be the fastest route to the desired goal. But the maxim doesn't work for me.

When I'm waiting my turn in a bank the people in the line parallel to mine have already gotten their money and spent it before I have worked my slow way up to the teller's cage.

The innocent looking individual I picked to stand behind always turns out to be a company paymaster who has to have a small fortune doled out in separate packets. Meanwhile, the fellow opposite me, whom I had pegged for a big tycoon with multiple transactions, merely wanted to put 50 cents in the Christmas Club.

It's the same at the railway station ticket window. Should I take up a position behind a lone customer, it develops that he is planning a cross-country journey with stops in every town of over 5,000 population. The long line next to me is moving with breathtaking swiftness as purchasers ask for nothing more complicated than a one-way passage to Greenwich.

Grocery checkout lines are by far the hardest to choose among. While I am darting back and forth analyzing basket contents, the cashier I originally bypassed in order to study other possibilities has rushed her customers through with dispatch. By the time I get back to her base of operations she has gone off on a coffee break, replaced by a trainee who hasn't yet gotten the hang of the cash register.

I really need the gift of prophecy when it comes to selecting the right queue leading to a department store moneytaker. You can't judge the potential time element involved by the number of garments the shopper has tossed over her arm.

The one who is loaded down with merchandise usually has the exact change ready and gets rid of her cash in a flash. It's the woman clutching just one pair of socks you have to watch out for.

The socks lack a price tag, necessitating numerous high-level consultations between cashier, clerk, buyer and department manager. Then she wants them gift wrapped and, further, wishes to pay for them by check.

The waiting game has its compensations, however. Some of my best friends are those I've met while waiting in line.

If a comet ever touches the earth there might be no more than a great shower of small pieces of stone and metal, called meteors. An explosion is considered unlikely.

Tigers Take It On Chin From Helias

Sport Scraps

By D. Kelly Scruton

Well do I recall the plea of a good number of men clammering for a Sedalia Booster Club to support sports in the local schools, both Smith-Cotton and Sacred Heart high schools. Now I am being told by President Vincent Heembrock it appears interest is going by the wayside as members are not attending the meeting the first Friday in each month or getting together at the football games.

The booster club was off to a good start and it appeared it would continue to roll, but the lack of interest also began to show up this fall. "We are not going to let it die," Heembrock said, "and I urge the past members who have not paid their dues to do so, and if at all possible to attend the next meeting."

"We can do so much to help these youngsters out. It is not the purpose of trying to dictate as an organization, but we must be willing to assist the coaches of both schools to create interest among the boys and girls, too, in athletics. We are planning to sponsor a ham and beans luncheon soon in hopes of raising funds for the organization," Heembrock explained.

Some of the men became interested in the club several years ago, that was when they had boys playing football. From information I can obtain they show interest, but not enough to make the club real good and active.

Just because we don't have, at present, a big and winning football team, isn't any excuse for these adults to drop off and let the booster club stop functioning. True, when we point to the Jefferson City Jay's Booster Club, they do have such a team. Yet when they got a setback by Columbia snapping that long string of 71 victories the club didn't fall apart but became stronger and provided some additional pep in getting their team on the go again.

Really it shouldn't make any difference whether the teams in football, basketball, baseball, etc. of the two schools are champions or losers, the booster club should continue to function and work to help them the best way they possible can.

So, fellows, why give up a booster club which was off to a good start nearly two years ago? The club has already done numerous projects to help the school out, and there is no reason to discontinue this now. I expect the club officers will be getting letters out to all of you on some of the proposed projects and they are going to need a lot of help to back them up.

Keep 'er going, fellows.

You know rumors can fly and big stories can be manufactured over a remark of a person at the height of disappointment. It has been going around the past ten days that Coach Chuck Shelton was ready to "throw in the towel." This I cannot believe.

Friday night after the game with Jefferson City Helias, Coach Shelton was really down in the dumps over the loss. Yet his remarks were, "Don't ride the kids, it was my fault. They did some things wrong, but that's our fault. Sometimes I feel like this is not for me." He was referring to coaching.

After the session in the coaches' office and listening, I returned to the office and started checking as to why the Helias had toe power to go with in their drives, it wasn't hard to figure out. No wonder the Tiger men were having their difficulties in spite of some mistakes they made — it was beef. According to the program on the players (and I feel after looking at it there was some fudging going as to the local weights — just increasing them a little to look good on the program) they had Smith-Cotton outweighed considerably. Helias may have added some too, but the variation would be about the same.

Smith - Cottons backfield (according to the program) adds up to 620 pounds while Helias backfield total weight stands at 680. Otherwords the Tiger backfield average is 155½ pounds while Helias averages out at 169½ pounds and that's a difference.

Take the Tiger line it totals 1,110 or an average of 158½ pounds while Helias weighs (as published) 1,230 pounds for an average of 175.7 pounds. Here is the Jeff City Jays pound comparison, 687 in the backfield for an average of 171.7 and the Jays line totalled 1,305 for an average of 186.4 average, the Jays weights coming from the program.

Regardless, that's a lot of beef the kids have been taking two weeks in a row, and yet gave a good accounting for themselves in battling them down. I can remember back when the Tigers playing the Jays took beatings such as 52-6 in 1961, 45-0 in 1965, 41-0 in 1963 and several in the 30's to 0 in other years. The worst loss so far this year has been only 26-0 and that was to the Jays.

Regardless what anyone says, the boys have been playing some tough football against "beef", but they could also play a little better football, but due to difference in the weight problem about all that would have resulted may have been a smaller score against them — this is strictly speculation.

So regardless whether the Tigers have won or lost, if anyone is on the back of the coach, coaches or the team, "Get off!" Some of the greatest critics I know could do no better. If a Volkswagen runs into a steam roller — you know who'll come out on top.

Crusaders Drive To 26-6 Victory

By D. Kelly Scruton
Sports Editor

The Smith-Cotton Tigers took it on the chin Friday night from the Helias Crusaders of Jefferson City 26-6. The visitors displayed excellent control of the ball from the first moment they took charge and batteled it out against a seemingly helpless bunch of Bengals.

The locals scrapped but couldn't do a thing in the scoring department until the fourth quarter and then scratched six points on the scoreboard.

Blood was drawn in the first period after the Crusaders kicked off to open the contest. The locals worked their way down the field from their own 27 to the 11-yard line, boggin down on the nine, when the visitors took over.

On the first play the visitors drew a five-yard penalty and they were backed up on the four-yard stripe. Their drive began from there. During the battle another five yards were lost on a penalty which moved them back to their 29-yard line. It didn't seem to bother the Helias crew as they began to plow their way on downfield on five first downs to reach the one-yard line and from there Gary Schnieders plunged through to the end zone with one minute and 50 seconds on the clock. Dick Stokes kicked the extra point.

The quarter ended 6-0 for Helias with the Tigers in possession of the ball.

The ball switched sides five times with the final drive for the Crusaders starting on the Tiger 48. Schnieder picked up six yards, and on the next play with two minutes and 19 seconds showing on the clock, Jim Weber went dashing through the line for the score. Again Stokes missed the kick.

The halftime score had Helias leading 12 to 0.

On the kickoff opening the second half, Don Crank booted the ball to the five-yard line and Mike Healey took it and moved back up to the 27 yard line, only to see his efforts cut by a 15-yard penalty with the ball back on the 12, two plays netted but three yards and a punt was made.

Lester Boggs took it on the Tiger 41. On his next play he picked up 31 yards. Six plays later Boggs in a desperate effort to go for pay dirt fumbled on the Helias nine and Eric Thompson saved the day for Helias. The ball changed hands several times and at the end of the third quarter the score remained 12-0.

Again the Tigers had possession on the opening of the final period, but were forced to kick and the ball went into the end zone. An 80-yard drive was on, assisted by a 42-yard pass from Schnieders to Thompson, which put it on the 20-yard line. Schnieder then crushed through the line for the yardage and score. This time Dick Stokes kicked the goal for the extra point and the Crusaders led 19-9.

Following the kickoff the Tigers held two plays which netted 18 yards gain and a Helias penalty of 15 yards. Danny Van Dyne lost four and on the next play he threw a pass which found the waiting hands of Mike Healey who carried it to the Tiger 24.

The Tigers after the visitors moved to the 12-yard line tightened up and an attempted field goal was missed. Sedalia took over on the 20 yard line.

Steve Hunt picked up a first down on 10 yards. Boggs carried but the Crusaders gave up 15 yards on a penalty and the ball was at the Tiger 45. Hunt then moved to the Helias 45 and Boggs picked up eleven for a first down and the ball was at the 34-yard stripe. Hunt then went smashing through the line for the Tiger score. Terry Hundson's kick was wide and it stood 19-6.

On an attempted on-side kick by Crank, the ball was on the Tiger 46. After making a first down and putting the ball down to the 27-yard line, Schnieder threw a bullet to Healey in the end zone for the score. Stokes again kicked the goal, bringing the score to 26 to 6.

On the kickoff the Tigers took over on their 35 as the whistle blew ending the game.

Next Friday night it is Hillcrest of Springfield at the Jennie Jaynes Stadium to end the home game schedule.

Soccer Manager

Paxton Is Young Manager In Khoury Soccer League

Robert Paxton, 16, 2509 Margaret, the manager of the S&M Atom "B" team of the Khoury Soccer League, is one of three young men who are managing teams in the league this year.

"The team I have now has never had any previous experience," said Jim, who is managing a team for the first time this year, "but they try." The team of six to eight year olds is in fourth place in the league with two wins, three losses and four games tied.

Robert is a junior at Smith-Cotton High School and has played baseball for the past two years. He started playing soccer in 1964, the third of organized Khoury Soccer in Sedalia, and is presently playing on the Coca Cola team in the Juvenile League and the Sedalia Junior Kickers traveling team.

Robert also umpires local games and plans to stay in the soccer program as he has two years left to play and hopes to manage a team again next year.

Tennessee Wallops UCLA Bruins

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — With an awesome display of offensive power fifth-ranked Tennessee riddled UCLA's secondary with passes and rolled to a 42-18 victory in an intersectional football game.

An overflow crowd of 64,078, largest ever to see an athletic event in Tennessee, watched the Volunteers explode for three touchdowns in a wild third quarter and pile up 35 points before UCLA scored.

The Bruins scored two touchdowns in the third quarter, fleet Mickey Cureton returning a Tennessee kickoff 99 yards for one and quarterback Jim Nader hitting end Ron Copeland with a 41-yard TD pass for the second.

UCLA's third touchdown came in the fourth period on a five-yard run by quarterback Bill Bolden.

Election Night Mat Special Is Promised

What Matchmaker Gust Karras terms an election night wrestling special is scheduled Tuesday at Convention Hall.

The veteran promoter said mat fans would be kept up to date with election returns as tallies become available.

A four-event program, featuring both heavyweights and girl grapplers, is scheduled.

Listed as the main event is a novel, eight-wrestler mixed tag team clash. It will be over the best of three falls, with no time limit, no disqualification.

Making up one unit will be Bob Brown, Dusty Rhodes, Tornado Murdock and Mae Young. On the other side will be Tommy and Terry Martin, two of the area's most talented younger pros, and Ronnie Etchison and Kay Noble.

Because of the nature of the event, action is expected to be rugged from starting bell to finish. Victory will be determined on a team basis, with one side needing at least two pins — or falls — to win.

Terry Martin will tackle the veteran Brown in another clash. The 18-year-old Martin is helpful of matching his brother's success against the Montreal heavyweight. Tommy has not lost to Brown in four meetings this season.

Tommy will go opposite the hard-hitting Murdock in another match.

Other clashes on Tuesday's program pit Young and Noble, Etchison and Rhodes.

S-C Band Honors Election Year

By Cathy Binderup

Because the year 1968 marks a year of elections, the Smith-Cotton Senior High Marching Tigers, under the direction of Mrs. Geraldine Schrader, honored the candidates and proposals for the November 5 election during the halftime show activities last Friday night at Jennie Jaynes Stadium.

With drum majors John Cairer and Rob Owen in the lead, the marchers moved from their line-up into the donkey's head while playing "Step To The Rear". This sympolized the Democratic Party and its candidate for President, Hubert H. Humphrey. "High Hopes" hit the air for the hope of the Democrats that Hubert Humphrey would win.

As the members snappily "stepped to the rear" again, they became an elephant, representative of the Republican Party and their candidate Richard Nixon. To the tune of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic", the question rang out, will he be our president after the November 5 election

This year marked a change in political procedures. With the third party candidate, George Wallace, striking the attention of Americans another question has been raised, "Will the American Independent Party greatly influence the election?" Because of this question, the band performed the third party's song, "Dixie", in the shape of a question mark.

"Along with the selections for public office, there are many choices to make on issues vital to our state and community," spoke Terry Siron, halftime show announcer, as he introduced the black and gold tunesters who formed into a numeral "one." This information represented Amendment Number 1 which will be on the ballot in this Tuesday's election, giving the voters the opportunity to decide whether a 60 per cent majority rather than a 66 and two-thirds majority is to be required for the passage of certain important bond issue elections in the future of Missouri. School bond issues would fall under this category. "With a Little Bit of Luck," was the song the band played while presentating this formation.

To remind the audience of the airport proposal, which will also be on Tuesday's ballot, the stepping Bengals designed an airplane and flew it across the field to the tune of "Those Magnificent Men and Their Flying Machines."

As the finale to Election Year 1968, the S-C marching unit displayed the ballot box while "Yankee Doddle Dandy" penetrated the listener's ears. Before halftime ceremonies, both the S-C Senior and Junior High bands played the "Star Spangled Banner," prior to opening kickoff.

Khoury League To Finish Season

The Sedalia Khoury Soccer League finishes its regular schedule this weekend after another successful season.

Town and Country Shoes, winner of the Juvenile Division, will play in the Sedalia Annual Invitation Soccer Juvenile Cup Tournament on Nov. 9 and 10.

The Bantam Division National League could end in a tie between the Third National Bank and Union Savings Bank. Should Union Savings lose to IGA and Third National win over Sunrise Optimist Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at Centennial Park, it would end up in a tie and a playoff would have to be scheduled.

The National League champions and American League's, IGA Foodliner, already declared the winner, will participate in the Bantam Soccer Cup tournament on Nov. 16 and 17. After the two Bantam leagues will play for the right to participate in the Bantam Division Khoury League National Play-offs in December, 1968.

Champions in the midget division and Atam "A" Division were decided Saturday.

Get Big Eight Win Over Oklahoma State, 42-7

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Missouri packed three first-half touchdowns into a span of five minutes and 18 seconds and went on to batter Oklahoma State 42-7 Saturday and remained unbeaten in the Big Eight football race.

The Tigers dominated completely before a crowd of 52,200, piling up 545 yards in total offense, the highest ever for a Dan Devine — coached team.

Garnett Phelps, starting at quarterback in place of the injured Terry McMillan, took Missouri to a touchdown on its third possession, moving 49 yards in four plays. Fullback Ron McBride set up the score with a 35-yard sprint to the OSU 9 and two plays later cracked over from the 2.

Three minutes later Phelps fired a 46-yard touchdown pass to split end Mel Gray and Jon Staggers passed 33 yards to Gray for the third Tiger score.

A break helped put Oklahoma State on the scoreboard at the start of the second half.

Staggers fumbled after returning the kickoff to the MU 12, and Bub Deerinwater recovered for the Cowpokes. When quarterback Ronnie Johnson circled right end for the touchdown five plays later, it marked the first time the Cowpokes had scored against Missouri since 1964.

In the third quarter the Tigers went 80 yards in 13 plays after Johnson had punted into the end zone. Tailback Greg Cook went over from the 10.

A Johnson punt that took a Missouri bounce and covered only 13 yards put the Tigers in position to score in the fourth period. Starting from the Cowpoke 24, it took just four plays for Missouri to score with Cook going in again, this time from the 4.

Phelps connected with end Steve Kenemore in the end zone with four minutes remaining in the game to wind up the scoring.

Four pass interceptions — three by Roger Wherli—choked off Cowpoke drives and a rugged Missouri defense held the Oklahomans to 117 yards on the ground. Johnson was thrown for 40 yards in losses.

Cook finished as Missouri's leading rusher with 91 yards in 22 carries. Fullback Jack Reynolds topped O-State with 32 yards in ten tries.

The victory raised Missouri's Big Eight record to 4-0 and kept the Tigers in a first-place tie with unbeaten Kansas. Oklahoma State is winless in three conference starts.

Phil Cutchin, Oklahoma State coach, said he was "surprised by the score but not by Missouri's passing game. They've thrown the ball before.

"I think Missouri has a fine, well-coached football team, but I'm not going to compare them to anyone else. We had them well scouted and we knew what both their quarterbacks can do.

So I don't think that was a factor."

Cutchin declined to comment on a 15-yard penalty called on the Oklahoma State bench.

Devine said his decision to start Phelps was based more on the fact that Phelps had practiced well all week than on McMillan's injury.

"I thought both of our quarterbacks did a fine job today. I honestly don't know right now who our No. 1 quarterback is."

Hatfield Wins Slotcar Race At Rev-Rac

Mike Hatfield, driving a new Dodge Charger, won his first race at Rev-Rac, 2513 East Broadway, Thursday night. Mike started building cars and driving some three years ago but winning had by-passed him until Thursday night.

The field of drivers increased again this week and is still growing. A field of near 30 cars is expected by next week as drivers are now coming from Marshall, Springfield and Kansas City.

Race winners were:

First heat — 1st Randy Kidwell; second heat — 1st Ward Wellard; third heat — Larry McCown. (A) feature — 1st Mike Hatfield; 2nd Larry McCown; 3rd Fred Smith. (B) feature — 1st John Simmons, Marshall; 2nd Jim Smith; 3rd Jeff Williams. (C) feature — 1st Rick Yeager; 2nd Danny Hickman; 3rd Ed Wagner, Clinton.

A special race will be held in Kansas City, Nov. 30, with a $500.00 purse and a full set of rules for building cars is posted at Rev-Rac.

Each time at the Sedalia center is 7:30 p.m. on each Thursday and spectators are welcome at no charge.

Purdue Erupts For Win

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Sixth-ranked Purdue erupted for 21 points in the second period Saturday, then beat down aroused and winless Illinois for a 35-17 Big Ten football victory before a record Ross-Ade Stadium crowd of 62,321.

The success was directed by assistant coach Bob DeMoss, a former Purdue star quarterback who took over the Boilermaker reins Tuesday when head Coach Jack Mollenkopf was hospitalized with a liver ailment.

Purdue stayed mainly on the ground for the second straight week in rolling to its sixth victory against one loss. The winners, now 3-1 in the Big Ten, outrushed Illinois 317 yards to 190 and completed two of six passes for 10 net yards.

All-American back Leroy Keyes and fullback Perry Williams both broke the Purdue career rushing record. Williems gained 106 yards for a total of 1,831 and Keyes gained 81 for 1,830, breaking the record of 1,802 set by Duane Purvis in 1934.

Williams and Keyes each scored one touchdown. Keyes also threw a 13-yard scoring pass to Bob Dillingham.

Passer Rushed Hard

Columbia — Oklahoma State's quarterback Ronnie Johnson (12) is rushed hard by Missouri U's Bill Schmitt (87) in the first period of Missouri-Oklahoma State game Saturday. Johnson got the pass away after Missouri's Jay Wallace (69) hit the ground. (UPI)

S-C Sophomores, Freshmen To Play

In addition to a big varsity football contest next Friday night between Coach "Chuck" Shelton's Tigers and Springfield Hillcrest at Jennie Jaynes Stadium, Sedalia football fans will have the opportunity to see two other game earlier in the week when the soph Bengals take on the Clinton Cardinals and the frosh tangle with the Jeff City Jays. The sophs play Clinton "B" here on Monday, November 4, at 6:30 p.m., and the frosh play here Tuesday, November 5, at 7 p.m.

According to Jim Shepherd, soph coach, his boys have been working hard on pass defense since their defeat a week ago 20 to 13 by the Marshall Owls. In that game, the Owls scored two of their touchdowns on passes. Shepherd stated that at the present time, the starting lineup is indefinite.

Wes Sanders, frosh squad coach, emphasized that his players are ready for their encounter against the Jays, and that they have made great progress in all categories since the beginning of the season. Last year, the Jays beat the Tigers in a very close and hard fought game, 13 to 7.

Versailles Frosh Defeat Eighth Graders Wednesday

Last Wednezday night, the Versailles frosh Tigers set up three touchdowns with interceptions to defeat Smith-Cotton's eight grade, 19 to 6. The game was played at Jennie Jaynes Stadium.

Steve Carver scored Sedalia's only touchdown, going over from the one after Tiger linemen blocked a Versailles punt. The extra point failed.

Defense Helps Win

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's alert defense pounced on four Michigan State fumbles and intercepted three passes Saturday and the Buckeyes continued on their path to the Rose Bowl with a 25-20 Big Ten victory over the Spartans before a stadium record crowd of 84,859.

The second-ranked Bucks rang up their sixth straight triumph and 10th in a row over two years while Michigan State was taking its third loss in seven games. Ohio is 4-0 in the conference and the Spartans 1-3.

Kern, who suffered an injury to his right ankle midway through the second quarter, set up the first two Buckeye scores.

He completed four passes and ran 18 yards on a keeper before Jim Otis bucked over from the one-yard line for the first score, with the game less than two minutes old.

Kern then climaxed a 64-yard drive early in the second period with a 14-yard touchdown pass to Bruce Jankowski. The Spartans fought back, driving 71 yards in 18 plays with quarterback Bill Triplett banging over from the one. But Ohio scored again late in the first half when Otis crashed across from three yards.

Triplett's 13-yard touchdown strike to Frank Foreman cut the deficit to 19-14 but Maciejowski circled left end from the two and the Bucks led 25-14 midway through the third period.

Mothers Will Oppose Atom Soccer Boys

The Sedalia Khoury Soccer League will hold its annual Atom Class soccer contest between the mothers and their sons Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at Liberty Park.

The mothers of each team will play 10 minutes against their sons. The rule is that no boy can participate unless his mother or sister plays.

The Atom "B" Class will start at 1:30 p.m. and will be followed by the Atom "A" Class. For the past five years the mothers have been unable to beat their sons. The managers of each team will take turns refering the games for tomorrow.

WE WILL REPAIR THIS WELDER WITHOUT CHARGE FOR ANY DEFECT IN MATERIALS OR WORKMANSHIP, IF RETURNED TO OUR PLANT WITHIN 1 YEAR AFTER PURCHASE. THIS DOES NOT APPLY TO WELDERS USED IN RENTAL SERVICE.

Accessories Included:
Six feet of 3 conductor primary cable Three prong plug and wall receptacle, Two welding cable plugs, 15 feet # 4 electrode cable 10 feet # 4 ground cable with ground clamp, Heavy duty electrode holder, High grade welding helmet, Assorted electrode pack, Running gear and handle for portability.

FINEST A-C WELDER IN ITS CLASS

- Two wide welding ranges. The high range (40 to 225 amperes) provides ample open circuit voltage for many welding, hard-surfacing and cutting jobs.

By simply moving the electrode jack plug to the low range (30 to 160 amperes), 80 volts open circuit is available for operation of low hydrogen and other special alloy electrodes.

Positive arc striking and excellent arc stability with the "BIG RED" 225 means quality welds.

- On-off switch. Furnished as standard equipment.
- Forced-draft cooling. This constant cooling feature is your assurance that all of the welder components are kept well below critical operating temperatures.
- High grade construction. Coils and core are fully insulated for long life. The framework is an integral part of the transformer steel core and is solidly welded.

Truth Can 'Unmix' You

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Though your questioners are usually the weaker sex, I am so mixed up that I'm not myself any more. I'm married to a woman I've never loved and have fallen in love with somebody else. It's a real love that has lasted for four years. However, I'm the father of children who are still in school and know it's my duty to stay with my family. But this other woman is constantly in my mind. . . .

ANSWER: O.K. This member of that weaker sex will do what she can to unmix you. But I'm going to have to try to do it by reporting to you the experience of a brilliant psychologist I know, one who was extremely skillful at unmixing other people.

However, he himself got very mixed up. Like you, he decided he was intolerably bored by his wife. He assured himself that he'd never loved her at all but had loved an image of her that he had concocted in his own head. So he started to make passes at other women, advances that ended in certainty that he'd fallen "in love" with one of them. But I've told you he's smart. So, one evening, instead of telling his wife he wanted a divorce, he told her how he felt about her.

What he got back was the most constructive shock of his life. In return for his truth, he got truth back. His wife blew her top, not with tearful reproaches but with furiously indignant facts. She told him he was so proud of his ability to reconstruct his patients' relationships that he had given no time to recreating his own. She told him that marriage is continuous exchange of changing feelings between two people—or it goes dead, a truth of which he was well aware. She said, "Don't kid yourself that I want you if you don't want me. So beat it, Bill. I don't want a dead man for a husband, one who can only come alive for people who regard him as the incarnation of God. So the heck with you. My life is not dependent on your approval. I am not your patient, dammit."

In short, he was struck dumb by the vitality of the wife he had misjudged.

And today, Helen of Troy couldn't pry him away from her.

Now, I'm not sure your wife could come up with such creative truthfulness any more than I'm sure you could take it. My feeling is you couldn't inasmuch as you're pretty arrogant with this "weaker sex" business. However, I must suggest that your wife finds you just as boring as you find her. For men who are scared to tell us the truth are consummate bores.

Automobile Production Is Booming

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. reported Friday their U.S. factories broke automobile production records for October, and both Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp. reported output ahead of that for the same 1967 month.

Ford said its October U.S. truck production also was a record for the month, while both GM and Chrysler reported gains over the previous October.

October output raised Ford's production for the first 10 months of 1968 to 1,990,835 cars and 526,097 trucks, compared with 1,324,891 autos and 344,721 trucks over the same span last year, when Ford was closed in September and October by a nationwide strike.

For the 10 months, GM's passenger car production totaled 3,729,927, compared with 3,345,652 in the similar 1967 span. Trucks were up, 679,650 against 565,226.

American Motors lifted its 10-month total to 226,554, compared with 179,235 last year.

Chrysler ran its total for 1968 to 1,307,987, compared with 1,080,619 through the first 10 months of 1967.

Dodge truck production for 10 months was 148,400, against 109,340 in the same span of last year.

Bidders may inspect the premises at reasonable times by contacting Superintendent T. J. Norris at the office of the Board of Education.

An Abstract of Title from the United States Patent to date will be furnished the successful bidder; however, the School District will make conveyance by quit-claim deed only. If the title proves defective, and cannot be cured by reasonable expenditure on behalf of the school district (not to include a quiet title suit on similar proceedings), the school district shall not be liable for damages or specific performance but shall return the amount of the down-payment deposited with the bid.

Pending approval of the abstract and title, the balance of the purchase price and the school district's quit-claim deed shall be deposited in escrow with any Sedalia bank. Possession in advance of approval of the title may be negotiated between the successful bidder and the district upon consideration of a reasonable rent in the event the title proves defective and such defects are not waived by the successful bidder or corrected by the school district.

The school district reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Bids may be withdrawn at any time prior to opening upon written or telegraphic request of the bidder. A written memorandum of sale or contract will be entered into by the school district and the successful bidder in accordance with the foregoing terms.

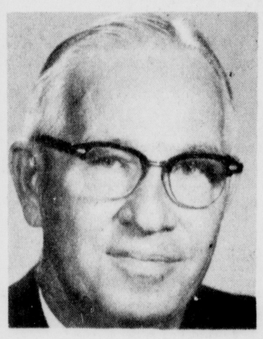
Your Vote and Support Appreciated



GEORGE H. MILLER
Republican Candidate
Representative 115th District
Pettis County

I Believe:
Local Government Elected Officials should be directly accountable to the voters.

If elected I propose to recommend and work for:

1. Return to sound financial administration of State Government.
2. Review and revise State statutes affecting Municipal Government.
3. Provide full, equal, and fair enforcement of Criminal Laws to insure safety of all citizens and their property.
4. Reaffirm belief in employees right to organize and bargain through representatives of their own choosing.
5. Establish a commission to study Federal and State Welfare and Poverty Programs and make recommendations for coordinated efforts.
6. Propose automatic cost of living increases to welfare recipients.
7. Low interest rates for home construction or improvements for the needy.
8. Advocate state and federal funds to help finance school construction.
9. Establish a favorable business climate for Sedalia and Pettis County.

2—Cards of Thanks

WHEELER: MRS. EMMA — WORDS FALL INADEQUATELY SHORT IN EXPRESSING THANKS to those who expressed their sympathy in so many beautiful ways during our recent bereavement. We wish to thank Rev. Davis for his remarks, Rev. M. Lewis for his comforting words, Mrs. Christene Richards for her beautiful solo, to friends for sending beautiful flowers, cards, food and money.

We wish to thank the Woman's Society of Taylor Chapel for serving food, the pallbearers, those who used their cars and anyone who helped lessen our burden. Your kindness will not be forgotten.

Conductor for MPS

Executives of MPS were visitors at Olin Conductors the past week and watched some of the first wire being manufactured by one of the large machines. They are, left to right, Jim Allen, vice-president in charge of operations; William O. Hiatt, Sedalia district engineer; M.C. Boogher, senior vice-president; Earl Dryer, executive vice-president; Jim Stephens, vice-president in charge of community affairs; Mike Giokaris, superintendent of operations; and Clinton Black, Sedalia, district manager.

Olin Plant Goes to Work for MPS

Missouri Public Service Co., officials were on hand at the Olin Conductors plant on West Highway 50 this past week to see first hand the manufacturing of wire to be used in the rebuilding and relocation of the highline of the company which enters Sedalia at the south city limits and travels on north to 10th Street, along Limit Avenue (U.S. Highway 65).

It is the initial order of MPS from Olin Conductors for 16,640 pounds of 477,000 circular Mil aluminum wire. It is .85 of an inch in diamteter.

The Olin order will be used on the Urban Project, South Highway 65 widening project which has made it necessary for the Missouri Public Service Co. to relocate the highline, moving it back to the east several feet to accommodate the new wide highway. In making the relocation, the company increased the present capacity with the larger capacity conductor. The line is being relocated and rebuilt from 10th Street south to 32nd Street, approximately one and a quarter miles.

This initial order is the first of the larger wire to be produced in the new plant.

Production of this larger wire at this time has made it both a first for Olin Conductors at the Sedalia plant and a first for the Missouri Public Service Co., being its customer for this type of wire. The plant operation, coming as it has, has also made it possible for the MPS to move faster on the relocation and not be held up in a possible delay of getting the wire from other sources.

The local plant is far from being fully equipped for the operation which will be handled here. Much more new equipment is to be installed and it is possible the complete operation will not be ready for another five or six months. However, the plant is able to turn out thousands of feet of high-tension wire at the present time and this part is being carried out with satisfying efficiency to the Olin officials.

At the plant from Missouri Public Service were: E.D. Dryer, executive vice-president; M.C. Boogher, senior vice-president; J.S. Allen, vice-president in charge of operations; J.W. Stephens vice-president in charge of community services; R.C. Storey, director of municipal relations; M.D. "Mike" Giokaris, superintendent of operations, all whose headquarters are at Raytown. Also C.F. Black, district manager, and William O. Hiatt, district engineer, both of Sedalia, were present.

They were greeted at the new plant by Sam Ruth, production superintendent of the new plant; Augie Sorrentino, sales manager; and Tom Eddin, sales engineer.

A tour was conducted of the plant from the large furnace on through to the point from which the new wire is drawn, twisted and placed on large reels ready for removal to the construction site.

Charles Frederickson, plant manager and director of production, was unable to join the group, having to go to the Nashville, Tenn., plant on business.

Arkansas 'Rocky' On the Defensive

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Faced with charges of financial irresponsibility, poor prison administration and advocating letting teenagers drink, Winthrop Rockefeller is seeking to extend Republican control of the Arkansas governor's chair for another term.

Rockefeller, younger brother of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, became Arkansas' first GOP govennor since Reconstruction when he won in 1966.

He is opposed by Marion H. Crank, a veteran Democratic state legislator who, in making his first statewide race, charges that Rockefeller is a "Jet Set" governor who doesn't know the needs of the people.

Rockefeller, a multimillionaire, argues that he has not had time in just two years in office to put through all of his programs, although he claims credit for helping obtain the state's first meaningful minimum wage law. He also takes bows for prison reform, governmental reorganization and a crackdown on gambling.

Crank, former speaker of the Arkansas House, says Rockefeller's program has put the state into its worst financial position by squandering $44 million.

Rockefeller admits there is a money problem, but he charges it was left over from the previous Democratic administration of Gov. Orval E. Faubus. Adding to the financial woes, Rockefeller says, were lagging revenue and the failure of the legislature to enact his tax proposals.

Crank says GOP prison reforms have not been real, that Rockefeller is operating "country club" prisons.

Crank also said the wounding in early October of 24 Cummins Prison Farm inmates who were on a sit-down strike was an example of the administration's inability to cope with prison problems.

He claims there have been more prison escapes and more pardons and paroles during the Rockefeller administration than during any two-year period.

Rockefeller created another issue when he said, in reply to a question, that he thought if 18 year olds had the right to vote, they should also have all other privileges of adulthood, including the right to buy beer.

Although the governor said he was quoted out of context, the Crank campaign took out newspaper advertisements showing school books and beer cans strewn amid the wreckage of a car.

In turn, the Rockefeller headquarters pictured Crank as a prolíquor legislator who voted for legalizing cocktail lounges, mixed drinks and casino gambling in Hot Springs.

Rockefeller says a return to th Democrats will be a return to cronyism and nepotism in state government.

Crank's 8-year-old daughter, Elizabeth was paid $20 a day as a clerk in the legislature.

Crank said it was common practice for legislators to put their relatives on the payroll. He also said Elizabeth needed the money.

The seaweed, Irish moss, is edible and is used as the basis of soups and desserts.

AGAIN, I GRATEFULLY SEEK YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT!

E. L. "Red" Birdsong, Democratic Candidate
Judge Pettis County Court, Eastern District

I submit my background and record:

- Resident of Pettis County for more than 40 years.
- My wife and I reared and educated our three sons and one daughter in Pettis County.
- Member of Salem and Smithton School Boards for 23 years.
- Member of Pettis County Heart Council for past 16 years.
- Member State County Court Judges Ass'n. and of the Legislative and Auditing Committees.

Objective: Better County Covernment through an exchange of ideas.

- Helped to establish Pettis County Fire Department.
- Helped to establish Buena Vista Home.
- Helped to establish Buena Vista Home for our older people, which has saved Pettis County taxpayers thousands of dollars, since it is nearly self-sustaining.
- I have worked for and voted to keep Pettis County on a current and cash basis in all of its affairs. Only 46 of 114 counties are in such a good fiscal condition.
- Treasurer of Central Missouri County Court judges Association.
- Since my election as county judge, I have advocated voted for, supported and worked for, the good county roads we enjoy today.
- Pettis County now ranks third of Missouri's 114 counties in all-weather roads—surpassed only by Jackson and St. Louis Counties, a decided improvement since my first term on the Pettis County Court.
- Member of Missouri Good Roads Association.
- In 1954, I voted to reduce the General Revenue Tax Levy from 50¢ to 47¢ — the tax rate today—a savings each year for fourteen years.

IF ELECTED, I will continue to serve all citizens of Pettis County to the best of my ability and to continue to administer county affairs faily and economically.

E. L. "RED" BIRDSONG
Democratic Candidate for Judge County Court
Eastern District

World Community Day Celebration is Held

Over 100 Sedalia women and several guest ministers met at the Taylor Chapel United Methodist Church Friday for the annual World Community Day celebration sponsored by Church Women United. Thirteen of the 15 affiliated churches were represented, as well as guests from five non-affiliated churches.

A panel on the human rights book, "New World A 'Coming,'" was received with interest. Members of the panel were Mrs. C.F. Scotten, Mrs. Ben President, Mrs. Tom Baker, Mrs. Corine Powell, Miss Mary Hurlbut and Mrs. Donald Barnes.

Participants in the service of prayer which followed were the Rev. T.E. Davis, Mrs. William Eschbacher, Mrs. Lawrence Gardner, Mrs. Charles Griggs, Mrs. Larry Bass, Mrs. Tom Hall, Mrs. Louise Woods, Mrs. Ray Bruekner, Mrs. Julia Crawley, Mrs. Roy Brown, Mrs. Garner Odell, Mrs. Mary Williams and Mrs. Robert Woolery.

The Helen G. Steele Music Club Chrous sang "Let Their Be Peace on Earth," directed by Mrs. Donald Barnes. Members of the chorus were Mrs. M.O. Stevens, Mrs. A. Jerry Harlan, Mrs. Leo J. Harned, Mrs. Don Buller, Mrs. Jack Herndon, Mrs. Ed Worley, Mrs. Gary Schwartz, Mrs. Barry Williams, Mrs. Stanley Fischer, Mrs. Bill McLaughlin, Mrs. Bob Fingland and Mrs. Mary Jane Mahoney.

Mrs. Dean Branson, owner of the Tiffany House, made an appeal to those present to consider some way to help support the success of the new teen town. Mrs. Ronald Lovan presented Mrs. Branson with an art print from the UNICEF Gift House as a thank you for giving Church Women United space in her building for the gift house. Mrs. Branson said, "You are helping children all over the world and I am helping young people here in Sedalia."

Mrs. Carol Zimmerschied announced that the next meeting, will be the annual meeting and Christmas coffee to be held Dec. 6 at 9:30 a.m. at the Wesley United Methodist Church.

The first Thanksgiving Day was observed in the Virginia colony a year before the Pilgrims landed.

UNICEF Shop Grand Opening Set Monday

The UNICEF Gift Shop, 116¼ South Ohio, will hold its grand opening Monday.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony will be held at 11 a.m. and the shop will remain open until 8:30 p.m.

Ceil Clayton, a leading vocalist from St. Louis, will entertain at the grand opening. Due to limited space in the gift shop, the lobby of the Tiffany House will be utilized.

Mrs. Walter Niles, state president of Church Women United, and Mrs. Albert Mayer, Missouri representative on the U.S. Committee For UNICEF, will be present.

Mrs. Ronald Lovan is sales manager at the gift shop, which will be open through Dec. 24.

ATTENTION!

All Sedalians! In order to serve you better, we announce the following:

Our first "school rush" starts at 11:45 and ends at 12:15. The next "rush" starts at 12:45 and ends at 1:15.

We can give you better service from 11:00 to 11:45 and from 12:15 to 12:45.

Startling New Discoveries To Save Premature Babies

Ask Them Yourself

FOR HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

Could you give me some tips on public speaking? —Mrs. Letitia F. Palmater, Waterford, N.Y.

● Effective public speaking demands that you have faith in your message and understand it. Liking and trusting your audience is very important, too. An effective speaker also must be up to date in his reading. I read a great deal, and I have a staff to help me keep informed.

FOR JUNE LOCKHART

Is it really true that you are sympathetic to the "hippie" movement?—A. H. Helton, Swords Creek, Va.

● I have always thought that a person is "hippie" if his or her bottom is wide! Since I've always been a little "hippie," I am very sympathetic to the "hippies."

FOR HAL GREER,

Philadelphia '76ers

When did you first decide that you wanted to play pro basketball?—Raymond Scarchilli, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

● I had no idea of playing pro basketball when I was younger. I always thought of being a policeman. But I enjoyed basketball so much at Marshall College (Huntington, W. Va.) that I decided to give pro-play a try.

FOR JOHN EISENHOWER

What have you been doing since you left the Army?—David Gutterman, Durham, N.C.

● Since resigning from the Army in 1963, I have been writing. I helped on the two volumes of Dad's memoirs, "The White House Years," until 1964. Recently I finished a book on the Battle of the Bulge entitled, "The Bitter Woods," which will be published in January.

FOR JOE NAMATH,

quarterback, New York Jets

Do you wear a special type of football shoe, or is the color (white) the only difference?—Russell Mink, Elizabethton, Tenn.

● The right shoe has added elevation in the heel and the cleats are shorter.

FOR RICHARD M. NIXON

How many years did you work in a Whittier, Calif., grocery store?—Myrtle Bolton, Villisca, Iowa

● My four brothers and I took part in this venture, and I had some 14 years to my credit. Most of my time was spent stocking the shelves and in maintenance, but in my senior year in high school and in college I was the manager of the produce department.

FOR HENRY FOWLER,

Secretary of the Treasury

Is the marking on the base of President Kennedy's neck on the U.S. half dollar actually a hammer and sickle?—Lois Berry, Torrington, Wyo.

● No. Somehow an insidious rumor was started that this marking is a hammer and sickle. No Communist symbol appears on any American coin. The device is a stylized presentation of the initials GR and indicates that the portrait was done by sculptor Gilroy Roberts. Mr. Roberts merely availed himself of the ancient right of identifying his work.

FOR CHARLES SCHROEDER,

manager, San Diego Zoo

What animal in your zoo has caused you the most trouble?—Mrs. ClaRae Strand, Seattle, Wash.

● The male pigmy chimpanzee. Popularly called "Kakowet" (Little Peanut), he was caught as a baby in a jungle area south of the Congo River. While in our Children's Zoo, he was exposed to and suffered many common children's diseases. Pediatricians from San Diego Naval Hospital, working with the zoo's veterinary clinician, succeeded in pulling him through a bout of encephalitis and a parasitic disease.

FOR CAROL LAWRENCE

What is your greatest pet peeve about television?—Helen P. Sullivan, Brighton, Mass.

● As a dancer, I get exasperated by dull choreography on tv. I cringe when I see the "Chiffon Number"—a girl wearing a flowing chiffon costume and four male dancers flitting around her. Viewers deserve more than that—and so do the dancers, too.

WHAT IN THE WORLD!

Beautification What with solving the world's ills and writing home for money, today's college students are under tremendous strain. But the University of California at Santa Cruz offers a relaxant—pot. Flower pot, that is. It has set up an outdoor recreational activity which allows students to get at the roots of flower power by helping landscape their stark new campus. Students, puttering around between classes and on weekends, get no letter, but college gardener Alan Chadwick notes, "Gardening is a fine way to come back to common sense."

Extracurricular activity

Color Us Cool Most pro football teams choose colorful uniforms for their home games. Not the New Orleans Saints, who let the weather decide what they wear. If it's hot, they come out in white, making the visitors suit up in darker colors. Reasoning: white is cooler; darker colors make the visitors more likely to become heat-fatigued.

Bikes vs. Bats Teen-agers on motorbikes roared up the aisle of a church in Ludham, England, recently with the vicar's permission. Idea: scare off bats. Result: more bats.

Presidential Voices Do these campaign excerpts sound familiar? a) "Many independent Democrats in the South agree with the Republican party in all its main economic doctrines"; b) "America's present need is not heroics but healing, not nostrums but normalcy, not revolution but restoration"; c) ". . . an Administration which has been the most wasteful, extravagant, and incompetent in the history of the nation and, worst of all, one which has lost faith in itself and in the American people." These voices are from the past —not present—and you can hear them on a record album, "Campaigns and Candidates—Presidents on the Presidency," available from your local telephone company. The speakers were a) William Howard Taft, 1908; b) Warren G. Harding, 1920; c) Thomas E. Dewey, 1940. History repeats itself—so do politicians!

William Howard Taft

Marty Ingels and towel

End of a Chase Comedian Marty Ingels has a 20-minute chase scene, clad only in a towel, in "The Silent Treatment," a new film reviving pretalkie techniques. They finished shooting at 8 a.m. in front of an old theater. Marty decided to take his break there. When he emerged, still clad only in the towel, it was 10 a.m., and the streets were crowded, but the crew had moved on to another location. The police didn't buy Marty's explanation until hours later when the studio sent someone to bail him out. Lately Marty has taken a strong and abiding interest in men's fashions.

New Discoveries

"Preemies" may suffer oxygen starvation in first hours of life unless treated in special oxygen units.

SHORTLY AFTER dawn, Mrs. Betty Farrell, in only the sixth month of her pregnancy, began to feel unmistakable labor pains.

Alarmed, her husband phoned her obstetrician, and she was rushed to a hospital. There, Mrs. Farrell was given injections of an alcohol solution, equivalent to a half-dozen double martinis.

Almost miraculously, the labor pains stopped, and she went home with just a slight hangover. For the next three months, she drank cognac from time to time. And at the end of her ninth month, Mrs. Farrell gave birth to a healthy son.

The use of alcohol, originally taken as cognac when this technique for postponing premature delivery was tried in Finland, is slowly taking hold in some American hospitals. It reflects a new and mounting medical emphasis on the causes and prevention of premature births, as well as on the treatment of tiny "preemies" to save them from potential dangers.

Why this new awareness? Evidently, doctors are spurred to action by what has been happening. About one out of 10 babies born in the U.S. today is premature. They account for over half of all infant deaths and a high percentage of physical, mental, and emotional defects or handicaps. The very premature are often stillborn.

With prematurity taking such a high toll, medical scientists and obstetricians have been learning more and more about the unborn, the development of human cells, and the birth process.

In line with such progress, slow as it is, doctors are changing their concept of "prematurity." Until recently, an infant was labeled a "preemy" if he was born before 37 weeks of the pregnancy, the normal full term being 40 weeks.

Now any newborn weighing less than 5½ pounds may be classified as "premature" if he is not fully developed. He could be a full-term baby who grew too slowly or improperly in the womb. Of course, a baby can be born after only 34 weeks, weigh more than 5½ pounds, be fully developed—and not be diagnosed as a true "preemy."

Generally, weight is the most reliable factor. Thus, the International Conference on Prematurity, held for the first time last January in Florida, agreed with the World Health Organization that "prematurity" is a misnomer and should be replaced by "LBW" (low birth weight) regardless of when the baby is born. About a third of these small, undergrown babies eventually have cerebral palsy, reading disabilities, or other handicaps. Obviously, most "preemies" born before full term tend to be pint-sized.

In three out of five cases, doctors admit they do not know what causes a mother to give birth in much less than 40 weeks. But certain maternal conditions often are responsible. They range from infections during pregnancy to accidents, twins, gynecological disorders, a fetal deformity, diabetes, high blood pressure, or early detachment of the placenta (the organ that joins the fetus to the mother's circulation). In other instances, a disease like pre-eclampsia (abnormal swellings and convulsions) demands an untimely end of the pregnancy by Caesarean section (surgical delivery) to safeguard the mother's life.

Certain women are prone to delivery prematurely: a mother with a small heart size, for instance. Underweight women and those who were small at birth themselves seem more likely to have LBW babies.

Some causes may depend on the mother herself. She may have failed to see a doctor soon enough, then neglected to follow his advice, taken self-prescribed pills, and refused to accept her need for bed rest.

Some doctors believe that smoking has an effect, though most authorities contend smoking has nothing to do with the duration of pregnancy. "There may be a difference of perhaps three or four ounces in the infant," says Dr. Stanley Zinberg, a New York obstetrician.

Disagreement prevails, too, on the effects of diet. A recent study in Montreal indicated that diet supplements proved important in increasing infants' birth weight—and thus reducing the number of "preemies." On the other hand, U.S. obstetricians point out that when a pregnant mother eats heartily, the more weight she gains, the bigger the baby—but the time of birth is not influenced much. It's the parents' genes that really determine the infant's size and weight at birth.

"Preemies" or LBWs enter life without certain defenses, vulnerable to a variety of hazards. Many of their organs, especially the liver, weigh less than normal. Some of the "high risks" are born with inadequate stores of fat to support them during the critical first hour of life. Others lack glycogen (a carbohydrate) in the liver, a source of energy that a baby can draw upon if he is temporarily cut off from an oxygen supply. This can happen during delivery, for example.

"Premature births," says Dr. Louis Gluck, professor of pediatrics at Yale Medical School, "are dangerous because bodies of such babies are usually not capable of withstanding hostile elements in our environment without a great deal of help. Less developed than mature babies, their lungs are not ready for normal air breathing."

In the first hours of life, oxygen starvation (hypoxia) may occur and lead to brain damage. Especially ominous is hyaline membrane disease, prevalent in "preemies" delivered by Caesarean. The infant has a hard time breathing, his chest wall sinks in, his shallow breath comes in grunts, the baby turns blue. It was this disease that caused the death of the late President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy's baby, Patrick.

A deficiency in blood sugar, seen in undergrown "preemies" or LBWs, often results in the condition called hypoglycemia. When the brain doesn't get the sugar it needs, the outcome is brain damage.

Prematurity alone frequently results in too much bilirubin, a yellow chemical which is a by-product of the breakdown of red blood cells. If the bilirubin is not disposed of through the liver, it can bring on jaundice and anemia. Spreading to the central nervous system, the child may become mentally retarded.

Other possible complications include partial or total blindness, serious infections, and pneumonia.

What You Can Do to Prevent Premature Births

While premature births can't be staved off entirely, the expectant mother can take certain precautions to minimize the chances. Eminent specialists recommend the following steps:

- See your obstetrician regularly and follow his advice carefully.
- Accidental falls can rupture the womb, so no baths during the last six weeks of pregnancy. Sponge bathing is recommended.
- If you are a likely candidate for premature delivery, get as much bed rest as possible. You then will be able to carry the pregnancy longer.
- Avoid all strenuous exercise or anything causing fatigue or exposure to virus infections.
- Don't attempt self-treatment. Take only drugs prescribed by your doctor.
- Marital relations should be discontinued after the seventh month of pregnancy.

Are Saving Premature Babies

that face one out of every 10 infants born in the U.S.

By THEODORE IRWIN

Deaths among "preemies" are about 30 times that of full-term infants. Among those born alive, a large number soon die suddenly, for unexplained reasons.

"Even if they survive, many premature babies are scarred for life," observes Dr. Heinz W. Berendes, head of perinatal research at the National Institutes of Health. "During the first year of life," Dr. Berendes points out, "the 'preemy' is prone to stomach troubles and iron-deficiency anemia. A year after birth, others show such nervous-system abnormalties as poor reflexes or a spastic condition."

Other medical investigations have found that at five years of age low-weight "preemies" tend to be underheight and underweight. At school, their I.Q. is apt to be lower; some may be dull and fall behind.

With all these unfortunate consequences possible, doctors are ceaselessly exploring ways of both averting prematurity and treating the diminutive newborn. One form of prevention is the alcohol "cocktail." Another is a drug called isoxsuprine hydrochloride, which expands blood vessels and relaxes muscles. Used to arrest ill-timed labor, the drug is considered promising.

Obstetrical care is being constantly improved. At delivery, doctors use anesthetics sparingly, since many of these drugs can interfere with the infant's breathing long after birth. To monitor the baby during labor, a fetal scalp test may be taken: a needle is gently inserted to draw a few drops of blood as he lies in the birth canal—and this reveals if he is being deprived of oxygen.

When palpitations and X rays show that twins are anticipated—and with twins the chances of premature labor are high—doctors severely restrict the mother's activity and cut down her salt intake to ward off toxemia (blood poisoning).

It's in treating the just-born "preemy" that doctors have made more progress. The trend today is for large maternity hospitals to have Premature Treatment Centers close to specialists, X-ray departments, and clinical labs. Here, the battle for life—and for survival as an "intact" human being—is often won or lost.

Because a premature infant has an immature temperature-regulating system, and loses body heat rapidly, it's standard procedure now to place him in an incubator. His lungs not fully developed, he needs more oxygen, so a respirator provides him with concentrated oxygen.

The trend in hospitals is to have Premature Treatment Centers with highly sophisticated equipment, special personnel.

Tests immediately after birth indicate deficiencies and whether the baby is a high risk. If he has a high bilirubin count, he gets life-preserving exchange blood transfusions—taking out and then replacing at least 80 percent of his blood. Some hospitals are experimenting with a novel technique of exposing "preemies" to fluorescent light as a way of preventing excess build-up of bilirubin on the theory that light chemically alters the substance. For a blood-sugar shortage, the baby is given glucose through a vein.

Through such modern approaches, doctors at Intensive Care units are rescuing precarious prematures from brain "insults" and other damages in their first and most difficult hours.

What seems like miracles are performed by alert, fast-thinking doctors. Not long ago, at the Yale-New Haven Medical Center, an oxygen-shy baby girl was born more than a month prematurely. In the next three weeks, little Annie stopped breathing 38 times. Whenever it happened, an oxygen tube was quickly inserted down her windpipe, to help her breathe. Each time, she responded. After Annie was discharged from the hospital, doctors privately believed this "preemy" would be irreparably brain-damaged. Two years later, however, her pediatrician proclaimed her completely normal.

In the judgment of the American Academy of Pediatrics, "Intensive care for the newborn is one of the most important advances in pediatrics." These special units, focusing mostly on high-risk LBWs, are now functioning at a Baylor University Medical School unit in Waco, Texas, and in at least a dozen other cities. The idea is catching fire.

For prevention of prematurity, perhaps most important is improved prenatal care for mothers. Under a $30 million U.S. Children's Bureau program launched in 1964, pilot clinics have been set up in more than 80 hospitals.

In Chicago, where 20,000 women visited the clinic last year, infant deaths in the project area dropped 15 percent. Results in the future are expected to be better.

Despite all the possible hazards of prematurity and LBW, veteran obstetricians offer a note of reassurance. Even when mothers go into premature labor, if no complications ensue, a great many bouncing babies are born perfectly sound in body and mind.

Besides good medical management, it calls for plain common-sense precautions. Certainly our "preemies" deserve every break we can give. ♦

Beef Soup

- 1½ lbs. beef for stew and soup bone
- 1½ to 2 teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 2 bay leaves
- 4 or 5 medium-sized carrots, sliced
- 1 cup chopped cabbage
- 1 cup chopped celery
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) Italian-style tomatoes
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 beef bouillon cube
- Pinch of oregano (and any other spice you may prefer)

1. Put meat and soup bone in a heavy 3-qt. kettle; cover with cold water (about 4 cups). Add seasonings and bay leaves. Bring rapidly to boiling. Reduce heat. Add fresh vegetables, cover and simmer until meat is tender, about 2½ hrs.

2. Remove and discard bone and bay leaves. Cut meat into bite-sized pieces and return to soup. Mix in tomatoes, Worcestershire sauce, bouillon cube and oregano. Cover and simmer ½ hr. 6 servings

At last modern technology has found a way to give you a comprehensive, personal horoscope, at low cost! By using the IBM/360 computer to complete many thousands of astrological computations, Miss Katina Theodossiou can give you an in-depth horoscope that formerly would have taken her up to a week to prepare, and would have cost up to $300 or more. This detailed Time Pattern analysis holds startling information about your personal and material potentials, your character, your health, your romantic relationships — as well as revealing information about the days, weeks, and months ahead.

World famous Astrologer Miss Katina Theodossiou has translated 30 years of experience and research into a computer program. There are over 18 million pieces of information stored in the computer's memory bank. She feeds your year, month, date, time and place of birth into the IBM/360 computer and gets a detailed, personal report in a fraction of the time it took to prepare one by hand . . . and without danger of computational error.

Most other horoscopes are written in generalities and apply to anyone born under a certain sign. Your personal Time Pattern Horoscope will be about you alone because it's cast from your individual time and place of birth. No two horoscopes cast by this scientific method are alike.

This comprehensive 15 to 20-page, 8 to 10-thousand word Time Pattern Report will be as uniquely you as your fingerprint! You'll discover how you may get the most out of your homelife, career, romance.

5-DAYS FREE EXAMINATION!

SWEDEN'S MIRACLE FORMULA THAT MAKES SKIN LOOK YOUNG AGAIN

Clinical tests by leading medical authorities prove that new Swedish formula with natural food ingredients helps solve the problem of lines, wrinkles, and flabby, dry skin — ACTUALLY MAKES YOUR SKIN LOOK UP TO 15 YEARS YOUNGER!

Before you read another word of this exciting news release — let us set the record straight on some startling medical facts just recently published. Briefly stated it reads like this: Thanks to new scientific breakthroughs, medical science now considers a woman of 60 to be just approaching middle age! — a woman of 45 to be just reaching her prime years of youthful beauty — and a woman of 30 to 35 to be a mere "newlywed" when it comes to the appearance of her skin! I know that at first glance this may sound overly optimistic on the part of medical science . . . but not when you consider the following events that have just taken place. Not when you realize that medical science has at last tracked down the 2 factors in nature that cause your skin to age — has found a new way to cope with them — and a new way to help reverse this aging appearance in just a matter of days!

(New York, N. Y.); At a dramatic news conference it was revealed to America how a leading European specialist disclosed that science has finally discovered how to restore youthful beauty to aging skin — and without the use of old-fashioned make-up, and beauty creams that attempt to mask complexion problems, instead of solving them. The secret is a new scientific formula based on a Swedish discovery. A totally new approach to the problems of aging skin — a chemical food formula that has been used in university, hospital, and laboratory tests to actually make your skin look younger . . . up to 15 years younger, IN JUST 10 to 30 DAYS.

Then right before the eyes of the assembled reporters and beauty editors, it was revealed how this world-famous research scientist made a 39-year-old woman look 14 years younger with simple 5-minute treatments.

"IT WAS LIKE WATCHING A WOMAN GROW A FRESH, NEW SKIN"

After filling in the reporters on the background of the test-subject (39 year old Mrs. H. Dorland), we were told of the facial area was smoother, more even . . . softer to the touch . . . more flattering to the eye. And then to our utter amazement, the sagging, flabby skin under the chin . . . the loose, aging flesh at the neck seemed to grow tighter, firmer . . . until the chin and neck looked like those of a woman of 25. Finally, Mrs. Dorland's entire complexion began to glow with such fresh, vibrant youthfulness that you could hardly believe it had ever been tired, dull and dry. Yes, this new scientific discovery had transformed the 39-year-old Mrs. Dorland into a lovely 25. (Before our very eyes we had seen living proof of how she actually looked 14 years younger!)

A DOCTOR EXPLAINS . . .

The amazing transformation you have just been witness to may seem like a miracle to unscientific eyes, but it is really a simple, natural process based on medical facts scientists and doctors have long suspected . . . but only recently have finally proven true. Let me explain:

"You see, as we age muscles and glands beneath our skin start to shrink in size. Instead of staying firm and taut (like in childhood) they grow soft and flabby . . . and start to collapse. As they collapse — hollows, lines and wrinkles form — your skin loses its elasticity — and soon you are plagued with those tell-tale lines and signs of age that broadcast your years to the world. What causes this skin tissue collapse? — NOT a lack of moisture as you so often have been led to believe; because if only moisture was needed, you should simply rinse back the lost years of youth by merely washing your face with soap and water. No — it is not moisture, but a gradual diminished supply of essential nutrients your body is no longer able to supply to the tissues of your skin. In other words, your body literally starves your skin into aging.

AT LONG LAST — SCIENCE FINALLY SOLVES ALL 7 OF THESE AGE-REVEALING PROBLEMS

1. Lines on the forehead
2. Lines at the corner of the eyes
3. Lines under the eyes
4. Lines around the nose
5. Lines nose to mouth
6. Lines around the mouth
7. Lines on neck, under chin

varied skin problems this 39 year old woman had suffered from . . . skin problems typical of woman 30 to 65. Problems like stubborn wrinkles in the forehead . . . unattractive crow's feet about the eyes . . . deep, furrowing lines extending from nose to mouth . . . sagging, flabby skin under the chin . . . and dry, aging skin. Then, with a series of clinical photographs he demonstrated this remarkable new discovery.

First, she disclosed how he took a soft whitish mixture from a jar and began lightly spreading it over Mrs. Dorland's face. Softly patting it on — never rubbing it in . . . never massaging. Then he described how the white mixture began to slowly disappear as it penetrated deep down into the woman's skin. Then he showed us actual slides made during the test.

First, we saw proof of how those stubborn wrinkles started to fade away . . . until that 39 year old forehead seemed almost clear and unlined as a baby's. Next, the scores of unattractive crow's feet appeared to melt away before our very eyes. Then, the deep, ugly lines around the nose and mouth seemed to actually vanish in just a matter of hours . . . and her entire

CAN NATURE BE CHANGED?

But what if medical science proved to you that with a newly discovered food formula you could NOW actually diminish the ravaging effects of this aging process . . . actually restore the youthful vibrancy to your skin. What if medical science demonstrated to you how with a thrilling new discovery compounded with natural food ingredients you could actually promote and encourage the appearance of fresh, new skin beauty . . . actually smooth away the coarse, rough surface tissue that for years have been masking the glow of your natural complexion . . . yes, actually revitalize and replenish the beauty of your skin so that all those lines and signs of age begin to vanish in an incredibly short time. And what would you say if medical science told you that when research scientists took this newly-discovered formula with natural food ingredients . . . put it into a chemical concentrate base that could be applied directly to the skin . . . youthful skin beauty began to bloom again on virtually every woman tested.

Yes, in both clinical and laboratory tests . . . when this powerful chemical concentrate of this Swedish miracle formula was applied directly to the skin it went to work in an amazingly short time to help restore the vital vibrancy of dull, tired skin . . . restore fresh, youthful beauty . . . and help end that dull, aged appearance of lines, wrinkles and crow's feet ONCE AND FOR ALL!

NOW LOOK UP TO 15 YEARS YOUNGER WITH SPECIALIST'S 5-MINUTE TREATMENT

The name of this newly-discovered chemical food concentrate is NUTRIVENA B25 . . . and never before has medical science been able to even approach the miracle results this great new discovery delivers. Yes, whether you are only a woman of 30 who is first starting to disclose the first faint ravages of time, or even a grandmother who never believed you could look young again, here is the miracle that modern science now offers you.

If you are in your thirties, you will see all those aging effects of lines, wrinkles and crow's feet start to disappear ALMOST IMMEDIATELY. If you are in your forties . . . you will see that dry, sagging skin under the chin and neck start to appear smoother, fresher, tighter and tauter in a matter of days. And even if you are 55, or 60 or even 65 years old . . . you will see the horrid aging effects of harsh, ugly lines at the nose and mouth begin to melt away . . . NOT IN MONTHS — BUT IN JUST 2 TO 3 WEEKS . . . and you'll be astonished to have people think you are actually 15 to 20 years younger.

HOW TO TRY THIS BRILLIANT NEW DISCOVERY ON A FREE-TRIAL BASIS — WITHOUT RISKING A SINGLE PENNY

If you would like to try NUTRIVENA B25 on a complete free-trial basis . . . without risking a single penny . . . If you would like to see yourself, in the privacy of your own home how it can help you recapture up to 15 years of your youth here is all you need do:

Simply fill out the enclosed reservation priority coupon. Then either send $5.00 or pay postman $5.00 plus C.O.D. postage on arrival. This money is returned to you, if desired, at the end of the 30-day trial period. But we must ask you for it initially as evidence of your good faith.

When your NUTRIVENA B25 arrives simply apply as directed to your face and neck. Make sure you don't miss a single spot . . . a single line or wrinkle . . . or other complexion problems that may have been robbing you of your own God-given natural beauty. And here is that miracle that must happen:

In just days you'll start to see stubborn forehead wrinkles start to fade away . . . crow's feet begin to vanish . . . deep, ugly nose and mouth lines become softer and smoother . . . loose sagging flesh under the chin and neck suddenly take on a new, youthful, firmer appearance. Yes, you'll see new youth restored to aging skin . . . new beauty in as little as 15 to 30 days . . . to your entire face. And remember . . . if you so desire, if you are dissatisfied in any way, you can get your full money back at any time or at the end of the 30-day trial period. Simply send us a letter with the cap from the NUTRIVENA B25 jar requesting your $5.00 back and it will be immediately refunded. You keep the NUTRIVENA B25 as our gift . . . so you are not buying . . . only trying . . . and it doesn't have to cost you a penny. Could anything be fairer?

But supplies are severely limited . . . this offer cannot possibly be repeated . . . SO ACT NOW!

Nuevene, Intl. Ltd., 234 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10011 Dept. A-54

Please send me on the special free-trial basis described above a 30-day supply of NUTRIVENA B25 for which I enclose $5.00 cash, check or money order. MELANIE DE PROFT Food Editor

the Next First Lady

■ The wives of both Presidential candidates, one of whom will be our next First Lady, enjoy cooking and have reputations for imaginative menus. When FAMILY WEEKLY requested their favorite recipes, they were too busy on the campaign trails to have much time in their kitchens—though both volunteered the information that they were looking forward to planning some post-election family dinners. Busy as they were, Mrs. Hubert Humphrey and Mrs. Richard Nixon took time to look through their recipe files for the dishes they felt most exemplified their cooking. Here are their choices.

a fork until frothy. Blend in seasonings and corn. Add chunks of butter (about 2 tablespoons), cream, and cracker crumbs; mix well.

2. Turn into a buttered 1-qt. casserole. Top with reserved crumbs and dot generously with butter. Bake at 350°F. 30 min. 6 servings

Maple Nut Mold

- ¼ cup cold water
- ¼ cup cornstarch
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1½ cups lightly packed brown sugar
- 3 egg whites
- ½ cups walnuts, chopped

1. Thoroughly blend cornstarch and water until smooth in a heavy saucepan. Add boiling water gradually, stirring constantly. Mix in the sugar. Bring to boiling, continuing to stir. Reduce heat and continue to cook 30 min., stirring occasionally.

2. Beat egg whites in a mixing bowl until stiff, not dry, peaks are formed. Pour hot-starch mixture gradually over egg whites, beating constantly until blended. Mix in nuts.

3. Spoon into individual molds, cover and chill. Unmold. Serve with whipped cream. 6 to 8 servings

MRS. RICHARD NIXON

Baked Stuffed Tomatoes

- 4 large or 6 medium-sized tomatoes
- 3 oz. (4 to 5 slices) bacon, cut in small pieces
- 6 tablespoons olive oil
- ¾ cup chopped onion
- ¼ lb. fresh mushrooms, chopped
- 1 tablespoon snipped chives
- 1 tablepoon snipped parsley
- 1 egg, beaten
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- Bread crumbs

1. Cut away stem ends of tomatoes. Scoop out ¾ of each tomato, leaving about a ¾-in. wall (if using a paring knife to cut away interior, be careful not to pierce skin).

2. Partially fry the bacon in a large skillet. Add 4 tablespoons of the olive oil; heat and mix in onion, mushrooms, chives, and parsley. Saute for 10 min., stirring the mixture occasionally.

3. Remove skillet from heat. Quickly mix in the beaten egg, salt, and pepper. Immediately fill tomatoes and put in oiled baking dish. Top with bread crumbs and drizzle with remaining oil. Bake at 400°F. about 40 min. 4 to 6 servings

Mrs. Humphrey takes time from the campaign trail to prepare a special green-pepper salad.

The Nixons at the engagement of daughter Julie to David Eisenhower. Since the New Hampshire primary, Mrs. Nixon has suspended kitchen duty for campaigning.

Yorkshire Pudding

- Pan drippings from Roast Beef
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 cup milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup sifted regular all-purpose flour

1. After removing roast from pan, drain off most of the fat. Increase oven temperature to 425°F. and return pan to oven while quickly preparing the batter.

2. Blend beaten eggs with milk and salt; add flour and beat until smooth. Immediately pour over hot drippings and bake 35 to 40 min. Serve the Yorkshire Pudding with Roast Beef. About 6 servings

Crustless Apple Pie

- ⅓ to ½ cup granulated sugar
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1 cup water
- 6 medium-sized (about 2 lbs.) cooking apples, washed, cut into eighths, cored, and pared
- 1 cup sifted regular all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- Salt, if desired
- 6 tablespoons shortening
- ½ cup lightly packed brown sugar

1. Blend sugar and cinnamon in a large heavy saucepan. Stir in water and apples. Bring to boiling, reduce heat, and cook 10 min., stirring occasionally.

2. Meanwhile, sift flour and baking powder together; blend thoroughly and set aside.

3. Put shortening in a mixing bowl and cream it with the brown sugar. Beat in the flour mixture, adding gradually.

4. Turn apples and syrup into a greased 9-in. pie pan. Cover apples completely with the topping.

5. Bake at 350°F. about 35 min. or until apples are tender and topping is browned. Cool on wire rack.

6. Serve hot or cold with whipped cream, if desired. One 9-in. pie

What Really Happened to Our Submarine Scorpion?

Did it malfunction—or was it a victim of the deadly U.S.-Russian spy war?

By ARTURO F. GONZALEZ, Jr.

THE U. S. NAVY isn't talking, but the nuclear-powered submarine, Scorpion, sunk last May, is very much a victim of a spy war between Russia and America.

The game is a simple but deadly one. The U.S. possesses 41 gray, nuclear-powered, Polaris missile-carrying submarines, 30 of which are on regular 60-day patrols off the coasts of Russia and China. Each has its 16 nuclear missiles aimed 2,800 miles in at the Communist heartlands, ready to fire should the Cold War suddenly become hot.

Similarly Russia has missile subs cruising off the U. S. coastline on six- to eight-week patrols, their missiles zeroed-in on New York, Washington, and Strategic Air Command bases throughout the Eastern U. S.

Both countrys' subs use the depths of the oceans to hide their precise whereabouts. They also maintain rigid radio silence to prevent their foe from pinpointing where each sub is, day by day. It was this strict radio silence that prevented the Pentagon from knowing that the Scorpion was actually lost until six days and nights after it sank. Navy officials thought it was sailing in military secrecy when instead the submarine with its crew of 99 had dropped, crippled, to the ocean floor somewhere in the mid-Atlantic.

The Scorpion was a hunter-killer submarine, not a missile-carrying Polaris vessel. These swift subs are designed to chase the enemy's subs underwater and to sink them with atomic-tipped torpedoes before they can unleash their missiles. Using sonar and listening devices, they track one another to 1,000-foot depths. "It's like two fighters, blindfolded in a ring, each listening for the other's breathing before aiming the punch," explains a killer-sub skipper.

In peace time, the American and Russian subs merely follow each other about. But they stay close, and the shadowing is in earnest. Whenever an American Polaris sub pulls out of Holy Loch, Scotland, for instance, to sail on patrol off the Russian coast, a Russian killer sub dutifully follows along. And this is where the game of "chicken under the sea" gets dangerous.

U. S. attack subs like the Scorpion begin harassing the Russian. Underwater, they maneuver close to the Red, bouncing random sonar signals off her hull to deafen her electronic gear. Recordings of "The Volga Boatman" are played loudly underwater to drive the Russian sonar men nuts. The American subs cruise between the Communist craft and the Polaris sub, forcing the Reds to slow down while the Polaris ship speeds up and escapes into the ocean's depths. In this kind of game, there already have been watery collisions between the Russians and the Americans.

It is possible that the Scorpion was the victim of such a collision—or that she accidently dropped below 1,500 feet in trying to elude a Russian shadower, whereupon ocean pressure ruptured a weakened portion of her hull.

One theory is that the Scorpion was vulnerable because she never received an adequate "Sub Safe" inspection. The demands of the Cold War prevented the Navy from calling back all of its attack subs after the Thresher's hull collapsed several years ago. So the subs came into the yards one at a time, when they could be spared from sub-chasing duties, to have their hulls strengthened.

Whatever the cause, the Navy now has definite evidence of the details of the Scorpion's death. To monitor the passage of subs across the Atlantic, the U. S. has planted listening devices on the ocean floor which are connected to shore-based recording devices. By studying the tapes recorded during the weeks the Scorpion was missing, Navy investigators have heard the crash of the Scorpion's hull, cracking like an eggshell, as it imploded under the tremendous pressure of the sea.

They have fixed the date of the ship's death as May 21 and the location about 450 miles south-southwest of the Azores. Deep-diving camera equipment is being used to search the sea bottom—some 12,000 feet down—and investigators are confident that wreckage will be found.

Whatever the actual cause of the ship's destruction, it must be said that her 99 crewmen died defending their country because the Russian underwater threat is a grim one, and America's antisubmarine warfare crews work round-the-clock to keep the Russians pinned down.

The Russians currently have more submarines at sea than any other military power in the world, and this Communist nuclear firepower represents a real and present danger to the security of the U. S. It is for this reason that, in 1964, Vice Admiral Charles B. Martell became the Navy's first antisubmarine warfare commander.

Admiral Martell explains, "I cannot help but compare the guerrilla war in Vietnam to what I consider to be today's guerrilla warfare of the sea—antisubmarine warfare. The main advantage that the submarine enjoys when stalking an enemy is concealment, exactly the same tactic used by the guerrilla. If one could strip from the guerrilla his concealment, his protective covering, a great deal of his effectiveness would be lost. This is also the case in terms of a submarine. Today we are trying relentlessly to strip this cloak of concealment from the Soviet submarine."

There can be little doubt that the Russians have gambled all their military retaliation chips on the submarine. Their goal is apparently a fantastic 1,200 subs, and they currently are training some 50,000 technicians and scientists in various branches of undersea activities. Huge fleets of oversized Soviet trawlers now prowl the oceans, each quite capable of serving as a submarine support ship in time of war.

And this is why America's antisubmarine warfare effort must continue. Killer submarines must continue to prowl the blackened depths under the sea in search of the Soviet subs. For as long as the Russians undersea menace continues, these forces are America's first line of defense.

This is the mission for which the Scorpion was designed—and possibly for which it died. ◆

The newest member of the club turned out to be such a pest everyone was sorry he hadn't been blackballed. Even his sponsor realized his mistake.

No one was very subtle about it, and finally the pest turned on his sponsor and complained: "What kind of club did you get me into, anyway? The talk is that they've collected $50 to give me if I'll resign."

His sponsor said sadly, "I think if you hold out for $100, you could get it."

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, loss of sleep and a tormenting itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist.

The Changing Fur Scene: Pattern and Color

By ROSALYN ABREVAYA

■ Fur makes the scene this season in living color. None is too precious to get dipped in a dye pot, stenciled, or pieced together to set off kaleidoscopic fantasies.

What to opt for? There is no single look, although the bulky fur is out. Shaping is closer to the body, but the cut can be A-line or slim; two furs may show up on one coat in lush collars, cuffs, or borders; a flat fur will mate with a long-hair fur; leather, fabric, or anything that has an affinity for fur often gets together in smashing combos. The new coatings zip, employ frog closings, side-snap, button, or wrap. Their variety is endless.

If there's to be a status fur this winter, mink will get the nod, looking richer in stripes, chevrons, and the new, new tweed effect. ◆

Styles like these...turn spare-time into DOLLARS!

Need an extra income? As a Hoover Representative, you can earn $50 to $150 each month, right in your own neighborhood!

Here's an easy and exciting way to create a steady extra income for yourself and your family without any investment other than a few hours per week of your spare time. Thousands of men and women, without any selling experience whatsoever, are cashing in on this unusual opportunity right now.

MILLIONS OF AMERICANS—beauticians, waitresses, barbers, nurses—wear uniforms on the job. More than ever before, these people are fashion conscious. They want their uniforms to be as good-looking as the rest of their wardrobe. And they know that the best-looking uniforms in the world come from Hoover Fashions.

The Hoover Line is offered to this vast, eager market exclusively through Hoover Representatives—men and women who, working part-time or full-time, show our giant color catalog to working people, help them select their purchases, and earn a generous commission on each item bought. It's as simple as that. As our Representative, your job is done as soon as the order is written up and you've pocketed your profit. You don't have to be bothered with making deliveries, collecting payments, or handling refunds or returns. Hoover takes care of all that.

Hoover garments are eagerly bought because they're sensibly priced—often dollars below comparable garments in your local stores. These low, low prices are made possible by the fact that Hoover is the only direct-to-the-customer uniform company that does its own manufacturing. These low prices mean big savings for your customers . . . and fast easy profits for you.

AS A HOOVER REPRESENTATIVE, you receive (in addition to our regular catalogues) special flyers featuring new additions to our line as well as bargain offers not included in our catalog. These special flyers make your customers look forward to your visits. You'll always have something new and exciting to show them.

THE HOOVER FASHIONS LINE IS NOT JUST LIMITED TO UNIFORMS: as our Representative, you offer your customers a sparkling array of dresses, sweaters, blouses, lingerie, and loungewear. This means you get not only bigger orders but—more frequent orders, too!

YOU DON'T EVEN NEED A SHOESTRING TO START YOUR OWN PART-TIME HOOVER BUSINESS. Everything you need is furnished by Hoover, absolutely free. What's more, you can work as little or as much as you want. You can put in five hours per week, or fifty . . . make calls on your own block, or all over the state. It's easy to get started as a Hoover Representative. Just take a minute right now and fill out the coupon below. By return mail we'll rush you everything you need to start making money immediately. Everything's free and there's no obligation whatsoever. Mail the coupon today.

You enjoy a complete feeling of confidence as a Hoover Representative. Every time you call on a customer, you're backed up by the reputation of a respected, 40-year-old company. And every purchase the customer makes is backed up by an unconditional guarantee of satisfaction that is always honored without question or quibble.

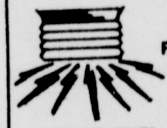
NOW! Run Your Car Without Spark Plugs

THE IMPORTANT DIFFERENCES BETWEEN ORDINARY SPARK PLUGS AND JET-FIRE FUEL IGNITERS

Your car's power comes from tiny explosions of gasoline vapor and air in your cylinders. The bigger the explosions, the faster you go.

SPARK PLUGS
NARROW SPARK

CONVENTIONAL PLUGS explode this mixture with a spark jumping across an air gap. The spark is just 35-thousandths of an inch across — not wide enough to explode all the fuel in the cylinder. Unburned gas escapes through your exhaust. In time, the electrodes become eroded and caked with carbon. The gap widens, the spark gets narrower, you lose more power, waste more fuel . . . and finally have to replace your plugs.



JET-FIRE
FUEL IGNITER
WIDE SWATH OF FLAME

JET-FIRE FUEL IGNITERS use no sparks. Instead a fanning swath of flame walks across a semi-conductor bridge from one electrode to another, exploding far more fuel, getting far more power. There is no gap that can widen, and carbon deposits actually improve performance. They do not have to be adjusted or replaced—ever!

BOAT OWNERS! Fuel Igniters are better for your boat engine, too!

NEW JET-FIRE FUEL IGNITERS

Will deliver up to 30 more horsepower, 5 more miles per gallon using only regular gas!

THEY NEVER WEAR OUT

Pat. No. 2899585

- get up to 5 more miles per gallon of gas
- add up to 30 more horsepower to your engine
- save $100 each year for you, year after year while you use the cheapest grades of gasoline!

YOU'LL NEVER CLEAN, ADJUST OR REPLACE PLUGS AGAIN!

Save $100 a Year With Jet-Fuel Igniters!

If you drive 15,000 miles, you can easily save:

- $50 by switching to regular gas.
- $40 on your better mileage.
- $10 by not replacing plugs.

You are protected by this

4-WAY GUARANTEE

1. GUARANTEED for the life of your car (or 30,000 miles) without cleaning, servicing or replacing.
2. GUARANTEED to increase miles/per/gallon of gas on regular gas!
3. GUARANTEED to increase horsepower, increase engine RPMs!
4. GUARANTEED to improve ease of starting and acceleration!

JAY NORRIS CORP., Dept. 11-A, 31 Hanse Ave., Freeport, N. Y. 11520

Spark plugs are obsolete! Now there's a far better way to run your car.

With conventional spark plugs, only a fraction of the fuel that enters your cylinders is turned into power. The rest escapes through your tailpipe as unburned vapor. That is because their spark is so narrow—only 35-thousandths of an inch wide—that it cannot possibly ignite all the fuel mixture in the cylinder. As plugs get older, their sparks get narrower and less efficient till they have to be replaced.

New Jet-Fuel Igniters do a far better job of turning gasoline into power. Instead of a narrow spark, they send out a wide swath of flame that "walks" across a semi-conductor tip, fanning out in all directions and exploding far more fuel in the cylinder.

Proof That You Get Up To 30 Horsepower More

Jet-Fire Fuel Igniters look like spark plugs merely because they have to be screwed into the spark plug socket. But what they do is far different. Here's how to prove it:

1. Run your car till it's fully warmed up.
2. Stop on a perfectly level stretch of road.
3. Put the car in Drive (1st gear with manual transmission), and see how fast the car rolls at idling speed.
4. Remove plugs and install Jet-Fuel Igniters (a 10-minute job).
5. Now see how fast your car rolls at idling speed. You can expect it to go 4 TO 6 MILES PER HOUR FASTER without touching the gas pedal — dramatic proof that Jet-Fire Fuel Igniters increase engine RPMs by 100 to 150 with no increase in gas consumption. (At high speeds, RPMs increase by 300 to 350.)

So, first thing, you can reduce the gas flow by adjusting the idling screw, and start saving money before you've even driven a mile!

(At the same time, you can make your air-to-gas mixture leaner. Fuel Igniters require only a 15:1 ratio instead of the conventional 9:1. It's a simple adjustment that you or your mechanic can make in one minute. It provides even greater economy.)

Start driving and you'll notice even more improvement—up to 30 more horsepower of acceleration power, climbing power, and passing power. All this while burning less gas!

SWITCH TO REGULAR

The next time your gas gauge gets near the "Empty" mark, tell the attendant to fill it up with REGULAR! Chances are you'll no longer need premium which costs four to eight cents more than regular gas.

And this second saving is only the beginning. Jet-Fire Fuel Igniters provide easier cold-weather starts . . . and that means less drain on your battery, and no drain on your patience as you try to get started.

NO REPLACING OR ADJUSTING EVER

The more you drive, the better your Fuel Igniters perform. They don't become eroded, wear out or require adjusting. And carbon build-up—the natural enemy of old fashioned plugs—actually makes fuel igniters perform better. Carbon becomes an additional carrier for the igniter's big jet flame.

So there you have a third saving. One set of fuel igniters will last the life of your car!

Invented To Save Air Force Lives—Now They Can Save You Money

Jet-Fire Fuel Igniters were first developed to save airmen's lives. During World War II, there were times when more men were killed by spark plug malfunction than by enemy action. A failure-proof replacement was needed, and Fuel Igniters did the job. Both the Navy and Air Force have approved them for jet engine use.

Now at last they have been modified for automobile use. They won't save your life, but they can save you big money—up to $100 a year with ordinary driving.

Some day, all cars may come equipped with Fuel Igniters like these. But why wait when you can install a set yourself now. Just mail the coupon with the make and model of your car, and we'll rush you a set with full instructions. Just $12.80 per set of 8 ppd., $9.60 per set of 6 ppd.

Now! Achieve A Beautiful Body And A Serene Mind The YOGA Way!

COMPLETELY ILLUSTRATED WITH EASY-TO-FOLLOW PHOTOGRAPHS

EXCELLENT FOR

WAIST • TUMMY • HIPS • THIGHS • ARMS
FACE • NECK • DOUBLE CHIN • BUST
BACK • CALVES • BUTTOCKS • LEGS

It is absolutely true that Yoga transforms you into a new person, more beautiful and more desirable. Many people think that Yoga is very complicated, and mysterious, suitable only for Oriental gurus. This is not so. A new book has just been published by one of the world's leading authorities on Yoga that makes it possible for anyone who can read to immediately begin practicing Yoga, and to reap the benefits in physical beauty and mental serenity. This book of Yoga is available for a 10-day examination to anyone sending in the coupon.

A BRAND NEW COURSE BY A FAMOUS YOGA TEACHER

Sachindra Kumar Majumdar, the author, is director of the Yoga Institute of New York. He has extracted the essence of Yoga from the ancient writings and has put them all in his new book. The Methods are the same as he uses in the Institute and the course he gives at the world famous New School for Social Research. But you can try the course FREE. Just mail the coupon.

YOGA EXERCISES ARE DIFFERENT

Yoga exercises are not ordinary exercises. Ordinary exercises are designed to develop muscular strength, but Yoga exercises are intended to develop poise, balance, and beauty. There is no exertion with Yoga. You actually feel more vital and delightfully relaxed. Yoga exercises develop fitness, suppleness, smoothness, and fluidity of movement without ugly bulging muscles. No part of the body is overlooked by Yoga. There are exercises for the stomach, hips, thighs, legs, back, arms, neck, face and neck. Every exercise is illustrated with clear sharp photographs.

RETAIN AND PROLONG YOUTHFULNESS WITH YOGA

As you begin your practice of Yoga, you also begin a regimen that will soon help you restore and prolong youthfulness. You will feel yourself shedding years. People will begin remarking on your youthful appearance. Soon you will actually feel the way you appear to others. Yoga calls this transformation: physical and mental rejuvenation. Yoga aims not at just achieving a slim person but at a total beautiful individual—in body as well as mind. Why not try for yourself, just mail the coupon.

YOGA AND DIET

Yoga introduces an entirely new concept of diet. It is not concerned with calories as it is with certain eating habits and the Yoga system of living. There is no doubt that Yoga makes people slim and keeps them that way. There are no fat followers of Yoga—living proof that the system prescribed by Yoga does work. The Yoga system of diet, exercise, and meditation will make and keep you slender, beautiful and joyful.

POLLY'S POINTERS

DEAR POLLY — Try using a paper baking cup instead of a piece of waxed paper when greasing baking pans. Quicker and less messy, too.—MRS. L. M.

DEAR POLLY—To save myself extra trips and time when I come home from marketing I load the many heavy bags of groceries on my little girl's wagon and pull them all into the house at one time.—CONNIE

DEAR POLLY — If you buy vegetable oil by the gallon it is a nuisance to handle such a container when just frying an egg or greasing a mold. I fill a pint-size CLEAN plastic squirt bottle with oil. It works beautifully for small jobs.—JOANN

DEAR POLLY—Did you know that a cigarette carton is perforated down the long sides? Believe it or not, this has some value. Tear the carton down and those two big sides make the best of dust pans for short pickups.—KATHY

Polly pays a dollar for every idea used. Send them to her, care of this newspaper.

DEAR POLLY---During the summer I make the ice cubes with the juice to be served rather than with water. (Polly's note: I use instant iced tea to make cubes for iced tea). Do not try to use ginger ale or carbonated drinks, but fruit juices and punch work well.---CARMIE

DEAR POLLY—When a typing eraser, with a brush at one end, is worn out use the brush end for cleaning sewing machine parts. It removes bits of material and lint from all the little nooks and holes.—NAOMI

DEAR POLLY---When I need only a few drops of lemon juice I do not cut a lemon in two but pierce it with a skewer or ice pick and squeeze out the amount needed. The lemon stays fresh longer.---DEBBIE

DEAR POLLY—Old shoe boxes come in handy during the rainy season when the family comes in with muddy shoes. I place these boxes in front of the door before they all come home and then they put their shoes in the boxes to avoid ruining clean floors.—JANET

DEAR POLLY---Panty hose, especially the non-run "cling along" types, first wear out in the seat, particularly if one is large through the hips. When this happens, cut off the hose at the top and wear the sheer lower part as you would regular hose. ---MRS. W. T. R.
